ROBERT E. HARLAN

President and Chief Executive Officer

In less than a decade, Robert E. 'Bob' Harlan has taken his place among the most productive and accomplished chief executives in the Green Bay Packers' long and storied history. Now in his eighth year as the operating head of professional football's most unusual organization, he is respected throughout the National Football League for the extensive and innovative agenda he has implemented since taking over the office of president and chief executive officer in 1989, a tenure which has seen the 59-year-old Iowa native play a major role in the team's recent return to pro football prominence.

A member of the club's front office since 1971, the veteran Packer official made two major and historic decisions late in the 1991 season, moves that have had a profoundly positive effect upon the Green Bay franchise and its future. Convinced the organization was merely treading water competitively, he first relieved executive vice president Tom Braatz of his responsibilities November 20, 1991, and, one week later, named former Raiders personnel chief Ron Wolf as executive vice president and general manager, with total authority over football operations.

In the light of subsequent events, the latter decision already ranks among the most significant in the 77-year history of the Packers, the NFL's only publicly-owned franchise. Wolf was chosen 'NFL Executive of the Year' following his first full season with the Packers, which saw him hire ex-49ers offensive coordinator Mike Holmgren to replace Lindy Infante as head coach and also acquire Pro Bowl quarterback Brett Favre for a first-round draft choice in pro football's most acclaimed trade of 1992.

During the productive interim, the Packers have advanced to the playoffs each of the last three years, forging all the way to the National Football Conference Championship Game in 1995 — one step removed from the Super Bowl.

Holmgren had responded by directing the Packers to a 9-7 record — a five-victory improvement over '91 — in his first season, one in which Favre established himself as the Packers' field general, and to two more 9-and-7 marks in both 1993 and 1994, thus bringing Green Bay three consecutive winning seasons for the first time since 1965-66-67 and the 'Lombardi Era.' He then escorted the Green and Gold to an 11-5 record in 1995 and their first NFC Central Division title since 1972.

The hiring of Wolf was the centerpiece in a series of key moves Harlan has effected or triggered since succeeding Judge Robert J. Parins as president of the corporation at the annual stockholders meeting June 5, 1989, including the 1994 decision to leave Milwaukee and play all home games in Green Bay's Lambeau Field.

Once elected, the Packers' new chief executive officer lost little time initiating his first major project. Ten weeks later, in late August of 1989, he announced plans to construct 1,920 club seats — a historic first in Lambeau Field — and 36 new private boxes, an $8,263,000 expansion. It was completed in time for the start of 1990 preseason play.

A firm believer in the importance of ongoing, person-to-person dialogue with the team's fans, Harlan also scheduled and staged the first 'Breakfast with the Packers' functions in club history, gatherings for fans selected at random by computer, at which he invited questions and feedback from them about the Packer organization.

Committed to making the fans' day at the stadium as enjoyable as possible, he in 1990 also directed the formation of a comprehensive program designed to encourage responsible drinking by fans in Lambeau Field, and in 1993 implemented a no-smoking policy in the stadium seating areas at all home games. Results in the first six years of the responsible drinking program's existence indicate it has been a success, with arrests for misconduct down appreciably from previous years.

A year earlier, while still executive vice president of administration, Harlan was the catalyst in the implementation and development of a long-term marketing program, launched with the hiring of a director of marketing and the opening of an official outlet store in the Packers' administration building, a project which has become a solid success in the intervening seven years and has produced even greater dividends following a major expansion of the team shop.

In 1992, he initiated plans for a comprehensive upgrade and expansion of the team's administration building and training quarters — a 20,000-square foot addition, encompassing a 74-by-80 foot gymnasium with a suspended running track as well as new public relations and marketing offices. The project, completed in time for the opening of 1993 training camp, also permitted enlargement of the team shop to 2,000 square feet — six times its original size.

Two years later, in 1994, Harlan authorized and directed the construction of a new, $4.7-million "state of the art" indoor practice facility, The Don Hutson Center — the finest such structure in professional football — which was completed in time for use during the '94 season.

In 1994, he also presided over a historic move — the decision to leave Milwaukee and play all home games in Green Bay, a sensitive issue since the Packers had had a 62-year presence in the state's largest city. But as a condition of the transfer, necessitated by addressing an annual $2.5 million disparity in income which resulted from playing games in County Stadium, Harlan made sure Milwaukee's fans were not forgotten, offering them a three-game ticket package in Lambeau Field.

The latter expressed their appreciation in highly positive terms, 96 percent of Milwaukee's 48,000 season ticket holders subsequently availing themselves of the opportunity.

A year ago, he facilitated two other major additions to the Packer complex — 90 new private boxes spanning the north end zone of Lambeau Field and the construction of a 60-seat auxiliary press box to enhance the stadium's accommodations for the media.

In the overall, seven-year process, the Packers' chief executive has adhered to the agenda he set for himself on the occasion of his election as president, when he announced, "I want to move this franchise ahead in every area...We've got to be successful from top to bottom to succeed. And we're going to succeed."

At that point, he addressed what he termed the two key "bottom lines...Obviously, one is winning football games, and the other is keeping the organization financially solvent and strong so it can always remain in Green Bay and compete with the other 27 clubs in this league."

Becoming president of the Green Bay Packers, he also revealed on that historic day, had exceeded his fondest dreams.

"In 1960, when I had just graduated from Marquette University and was working as sports information director at Marquette, just getting started in public relations, I attended a Packer game at Milwaukee County Stadium," he told members of the media following his election. "I made a comment to my wife then that I hope I can grow in the public relations field and become competent enough that some day I can become the public relations director for the Green Bay Packers. When the opportunity came along 11 years later to join this fine organization, I jumped at it...To be associated with the NFL and the Packers, I have been highly honored...That honor has reached a new and incredible level."

The ninth president in the team's 77-year existence, Harlan is the team's first CEO to come up through the ranks. All previous presidents of the NFL's only publicly-owned franchise had come from the business and professional areas of the community as members of the board of directors.

Harlan, who has been involved in every area of the club's operations over the course of his 25-year Green Bay career, joined the organization as assistant general manager on June 1, 1971, after serving as director of public relations for the St. Louis baseball Cardinals. He later was named corporate general manager in 1975, corporate assistant to the president in 1981 and executive vice president of administration on February 16, 1988.

In the latter role, he had been responsible for team travel, negotiating radio and preseason television contracts, front office personnel, ticket office operations, purchasing, the leasing of Lambeau Field's private boxes, insurance, game-day entertainment and the scheduling of preseason games.

Prior to 1985, he also had negotated all player contracts for 14 years.

As he moves through his eighth year as president, Harlan becomes the third-longest tenured chief executive officer in Packer history. Only Dominic Olejniczak, who served 24 years (1958-82), and Lee H. Joannes, 17 years (1930-47), have headed the corporation longer.

Harlan, who earned a B.S. degree in journalism from Marquette in 1958, had a brief tour of duty in the U.S. Army before spending six months as a general reporter for United Press International in Milwaukee. He subsequently became sports information director at Marquette in 1959, serving six years in that capacity, after which he joined the St. Louis baseball Cardinals in 1965, serving as director of community relations and the speakers' bureau for two years and as director of public relations for 3½ years before coming to the Packers.

Born Robert Ernest Harlan in Des Moines, Iowa, on September 9, 1936, he is active in the greater Green Bay community as a member of the board of trustees of St. Norbert College, and the advisory boards of St. Mary's Hospital and Firstar Bank of Green Bay. He also is a member of the executive board of the 65 Roses Sports Club, which was created to generate awareness of cystic fibrosis and to raise money for research to find a cure for the dreaded disease.

In 1993, he was honored by the Green Bay Rotary Club with its 'Free Enterprise Award' for his numerous contributions to the community, both individually and on behalf of the Packer Corporation. On May 21 of this year, he was presented with the Green Bay Visitor and Convention Bureau's annual 'Tourism Recognition Award' for "outstanding contributions to the Green Bay area tourism industry," and, on June 15, he was saluted as Northeastern Wisconsin's 'Executive of the Year' by Marketplace magazine.

Bob and his wife, Madeline, have three sons — Kevin, 36, a play-by-play broadcaster on telecasts of NFL games for Fox Sports and also the play-by-play "voice" of the NBA's Minnesota Timberwolves; Bryan, 34, who is director of public relations for the Chicago Bears; and Michael, 27, who is an account executive for sports marketing and sales with the Marcus Corporation.

An ardent golfer, Harlan also is an "involved" fan, closely monitoring the athletic fortunes of the Milwaukee Brewers and Milwaukee Bucks as well as those of the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay, the University of Wisconsin-Madison and his alma mater, Marquette.

MICHAEL R. REINFELDT

Vice President of Administration/Chief Financial Officer

Possessor of an extensive background in finance as an athletics administrator in both the college and professional ranks, as well as nine years of playing experience at football's highest level, Michael R. 'Mike' Reinfeldt brings the best of two professional worlds to his dual role as the Packer Corporation's vice president of administration and chief financial officer.

As a former All-Pro defensive back, he thus has brought an important and complementary dimension to his responsibilities as chief financial officer, which include negotiating player contracts as well as supervising the Packers' financial operations and accounting staff and directing the preparation of all corporate and department budgets.

As vice president of administration, an additional position to which he was named by President Robert E. Harlan January 1, 1994, he also is responsible for overseeing all of the organization's other extensive non-football operations.

A native of Baraboo, Wis., Reinfeldt was named chief financial officer on November 8, 1990, coming to the Packers from the University of Southern California, where he had served as the school's associate athletic director. He previously had been chief financial officer for the then-Los Angeles Raiders from 1985 through 1987.

Reinfeldt, who earned an MBA degree in management and finance from Houston Baptist University, earlier had obtained a bachelor of science degree from the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, where he starred as a four-year starter on the varsity football team and holds the school record for most interceptions in a career (24). It is a mark that is not likely to be broken because his alma mater dropped football following his senior year.

He holds another distinction in UWM's annals — he is the only alumnus in the institution's history ever to play in the National Football League.

Following graduation, Reinfeldt went on to a distinguished career in the professional ranks, launched when he signed with the then-Oakland Raiders as a free agent in 1975. After spending that season with the Raiders, he went on to play eight years (1975-83) with the Houston Oilers, starting 102 consecutive games, calling defensive signals for the secondary and leading the team in interceptions in 1977, 1979 and 1981. In the process, he played in two AFC Championship Games for Houston (against Pittsburgh in both 1978 and 1979) and also acquired his MBA degree while attending Houston Baptist in the offseason.

Reinfeldt enjoyed his best season in 1979, when he led the NFL in interceptions with 12, earned consensus All-Pro honors, started in the Pro Bowl and was named 'Player of the Year' in the American Football Conference.

Subsequently, upon retiring as an active player, he returned to the Raiders as chief financial officer, overseeing the organization's financial and accounting operations and negotiating the majority of player contracts. He also dealt with local television and radio contracts, and was responsible for staff personnel.

Reinfeldt left professional football in 1988 to join the athletic department at the University of Southern California, where he served as the school's assistant athletic director for one year, then was promoted to associate athletic director, a position he held until formally joining the Packer organization on January 7, 1991.

At USC, he was responsible for the formation and control of the athletic department's $17 million budget, and handled negotiations on major contracts with radio and television networks, sponsors and outside suppliers.

Born May 6, 1953, in Baraboo, Wis., Reinfeldt was a high school sports star there, earning six letters in football and basketball. Still an athlete, he regularly is involved in a variety of sports, including tennis, golf, bicycling, basketball and racquetball. Also an omnivorous reader, he is committed to reading "as many different books as I can...I try to read three or four books a week — some fiction, some historical fiction and some factual...some biography...a little bit of everything."

Reinfeldt and his wife, Susan, are the parents of two children — a son, Jared Michael, born January 29, 1994, and a daughter, Elise Marie, born March 9, 1995.

RON WOLF

Executive Vice President and General Manager

Ron Wolf, now in his fifth year as executive vice president and general manager of the Packers, is a man of his word.

During a 1992 speaking appearance, early in his Packer tenure, he delineated the challenge he had accepted in taking over his current responsibilities by declaring with characteristic brevity, "I was brought here to win."

Although the dedicated Pennsylvanian will not be satisfied until Green Bay has won a third Super Bowl, his basic mission has been fulfilled. Under his leadership and direction, the Packers have returned to National Football League prominence with consistent on-field success, a task accomplished with impressive dispatch.

In the process, which has seen the Packers post four consecutive winning seasons and three straight playoff appearances for the first time in more than a quarter-century — reaching the National Football Conference Championship Game in 1995 — he has made a more profound impact upon the Packer organization in this short span than anyone since the advent of the legendary Vince Lombardi three-plus decades ago.

Seldom has anyone responded to a challenge with greater celerity than the man who earlier had played a major role in developing the Oakland/Los Angeles Raiders into one of professional football's most successful franchises.

The tireless Wolf, who spends countless hours grinding video of college players and NFL free agents — an ongoing process which he supplements by frequently venturing into the field each fall to personally scout players at colleges and universities throughout the nation — has delivered a consistent contender with the aid of the head coach he selected to direct the on-field operations, former 49ers offensive coordinator Mike Holmgren.

In appreciation for this considerable accomplishment, Wolf in 1994 was rewarded with a three-year extension of his original five-year contract, one which will have him presiding over the Packers' competitive fortunes until the next century. The new contract will take him through the year 1999.

"We believe that stability and continuity are vitally important to having consistent success in the National Football League," Packer President Robert E. Harlan said in announcing the extension on March 31, 1994. "Ron Wolf has done a wonderful job for the Packer organization and we feel he is one of the really talented football executives in the NFL. Needless to say, we therefore are pleased that he has made a long-term commitment to overseeing our football operations."

Wolf, in turn, calls his "the ultimate job" in his profession, "particularly (for) a person at my level. Green Bay is it, as far as I'm concerned, for that very reason. There isn't an owner whose ego needs to be stroked. You're given everything you need to do the job. To me, that's so important. Nobody has denied us anything."

Wolf's signing of Holmgren, his first major hire after taking over the Packers' football operation, proved to be a master stroke. And, in the months that followed, Wolf supplemented that contribution by executing two significant trades, later with a series of shrewd acquisitions via the waiver wire and free agent market.

The key transaction saw him acquire Brett Favre, a highly-talented young quarterback, from the Atlanta Falcons with a first-round draft choice, a move that has paid major dividends, Favre having presided over the offense in each of those four consecutive winning seasons and closed out a record-breaking 1995 campaign by universally being acclaimed as the NFL's 'Most Valuable Player.'

Wolf subsequently added center/guard Frank Winters, signed from the Kansas City Chiefs in Plan B, who has been a key performer in the offensive line, moving from center to shore up the left guard position each season from 1992-94 when injuries felled successive starters Rich Moran and Guy McIntyre.

These, and several other timely and profitable moves, helped the Packers to forge their second-best record since 1972, a 9-7 mark that saw them remain in the NFC Central Division race until the final game of the '92 season.

In the wake of that remarkable turnaround — the Packers had been 4-and-12 in 1991 after going 6-and-10 in 1990 — Wolf was saluted as 'NFL Executive of the Year' by The Sporting News, thus becoming the first Packer executive ever to be so honored.

Wolf, who came to the Packers from the New York Jets, typically deflected credit from himself, preferring to generalize in labeling the Sporting News award "a great honor for the Packer organization."

But Harlan, the Packers' chief executive officer — and the man who hired him — offers a more specific analysis.

"I think I can tell you, Ron Wolf spends every minute of every waking hour thinking about what he can do to make this football team better," Harlan said. "He's dedicated and working at it so constantly. With that work ethic, you think, 'We're going to make it.'"

In 1993, Wolf further bolstered the team's talent level by venturing aggressively into the free agent market, following the advent of unrestricted free agency, bringing in Reggie White, considered by many the greatest defensive end in pro football history, and starting guard Harry Galbreath, among others.

Again, the moves paid immediate dividends. The Packers repeated 1992's 9-7 record against a much more demanding schedule — it included six playoff teams — and not only qualified for the playoffs for the first time since 1982 but advanced to the second round, defeating the Detroit Lions (28-24) in their first postseason assignment before falling to the Super Bowl Champion Dallas Cowboys (27-17) in a divisional playoff.

In 1994, Wolf moved quickly to offset the free agency loss of linebacker Tony Bennett by signing defensive end Sean Jones of the Houston Oilers, who proceeded to lead the Green Bay defense in quarterback sacks. He also added ex-Viking Fred Strickland to step in for the retired Johnny Holland at inside linebacker, former Bear Steve McMichael to upgrade the defensive line and converted the departure of left guard Doug Widell — who moved to the Detroit Lions as a free agent — into a plus by signing five-time Pro Bowler McIntyre, who shook off an early blood clot problem to spearhead a much-improved Packer running game over the last 10 weeks of the season.

Holmgren, skillfully melding these new elements into the overall mix, then led the Packers to a third consecutive 9-7 record, capping the regular season with three straight victories to qualify for the playoffs for the second year in a row. They followed with a fourth straight triumph in their opening postseason test, turning back the Lions, 16-12, before bowing to the Cowboys at Dallas in another divisional playoff.

In 1995, Wolf upgraded the secondary, drafting cornerback Craig Newsome from Arizona State in the first round. Newsome, a tough, physical corner, went on to earn NFL all-rookie honors and trigger the Packers' divisional playoff victory over the defending Super Bowl Champion 49ers, scooping up an Adam Walker fumble and returning it 31 yards for a touchdown which shot Green Bay into an early and permanent lead.

That 27-17 victory propelled the Packers into the NFC Championship Game, for the first time since 1967, before the Green and Gold's Super Bowl quest ended in Dallas — one step removed from Super Bowl XXX.

Already recognized throughout the National Football League for triggering the Packers' return to prominence during his five-year tenure in the organization, Wolf also was saluted in 1996 for his skill and cooperation in another, related area, when he was honored by the Pro Football Writers of America for his contributions to their professional efforts. In June of this year, the PFWA announced that Wolf had been named to receive the organization's prestigious 'Horrigan Award,' presented annually "to the league official or player for his or her professional style in helping football writers do their job." The award is named in honor of the late Jack Horrigan, former publicity director of the American Football League and vice president of public relations for the Buffalo Bills.

The Packers' on-field upswing since Wolf's arrival, accompanied by increasingly high expectations from the team's excited loyalists, has documented Harlan's decision to bring him in late in 1991 with total authority over the football operation.

THE ADMINISTRATION

"When we started the search to fill the position," Harlan said at the time of the announcement, "we put together a list of eight names. Ron's name was at the top of the list."

Wolf, who previously had spent 25 years in the front office of the Raiders, took over a position new to the Packers' organizational structure in terms of authority and responsibility, said authority including hiring and supervising the head coach and the scouting staff, conducting the draft and making all football decisions for the organization.

With the sweeping mandate, Wolf moved swiftly. He made his first major decision in a span of 24 days after his appointment, dismissing Lindy Infante as head coach on December 22, 1991, his second in hiring Mike Holmgren as Infante's successor just 20 days later — January 11, 1992.

The 57-year-old executive, who agreed to a five-year contract in leaving the New York Jets to join the Packers, credits his long experience in the Raiders' front office with preparing him for his current responsibilities.

"I had an opportunity to learn from — to me — the greatest figure in the game today, Al Davis," he said. "He knows every aspect of the game of professional football — not just the X's and O's but from the business standpoint and the talent standpoint. He is totally involved, and he taught me. I was very, very fortunate to work for him."

Wolf launched his professional football career under Davis in 1963 when he joined the then-fledgling Raiders as a talent scout.

Subsequently, when Davis was named American Football League commissioner in 1966, Wolf accompanied him to the league office as the AFL's coordinator of talent. He returned to the Raiders with Davis prior to the opening of the 1966 season and played a major role in the club's personnel operation until the spring of 1975.

At that time, the then 37-year-old Wolf was named to oversee the formation of the newly-franchised Tampa Bay Buccaneers of the NFL as vice president of operations. He remained in that capacity until 1978, when he re-joined the Raiders, for whom he headed up player personnel operations until he signed on with the Jets organization in June of 1990.

His efforts in behalf of the Tampa Bay franchise bore fruit in 1979 when the players Wolf assembled carried the Buccaneers to the NFC Central title and, in the playoffs, as far as the National Football Conference Championship Game before they bowed to the then-Los Angeles Rams in a defensive struggle, 9-0.

Born in New Freedom, Pa., on December 30, 1938, Wolf attended the University of Oklahoma, where he majored in history. He earlier had served with Army Intelligence in Europe for three years.

Wolf has said he decided he wanted to make professional football his life's work "when I was in the service in '58 or '59, and I was stationed in Berlin, Germany. I think that appealed to me as something I would really like to do if I could do it. I never thought I'd be able to get my foot in the door."

His first job in the field was with Pro Football Illustrated, a publication based in Chicago, in 1961. He subsequently returned to the University of Oklahoma in 1962, he said, "and then Al Davis called me in 1963, after I'd taken my last final examination at Oklahoma...The very day, he called me."

On those rare occasions when he is not immersed in football operations today, Wolf can be found reading. "I like to read novels — and when I really get serious — I like to delve into the Civil War or World War II," he says of himself. "That's when I get into a serious mode, which runs for about two weeks...Then I get off it."

Wolf, who has a corollary and highly developed interest in the lives of legendary military leaders, such as George S. Patton, George Custer and Douglas MacArthur, et al, said, "What fascinates me — and I can't pin the answer down — is where do all these people come from...the great people that emerge in time of crisis? Where have they been? Why do they suddenly appear on the scene at the precise moment of history?"

Ron's family includes his wife, Edie, and five children — daughters Saralyn, Celli and Joan, and two sons, Jonathan and Eliot. Mrs. Wolf is a psychologist who has established a practice in Green Bay.

LEE REMMEL

Executive Director of Public Relations

Lee Remmel has been a member of the Packer front office for 22 years, serving as director of public relations in 1974 and from 1980 through 1988, and as director of publicity from 1975 through 1979.

He was named executive director of public relations in March of 1989 by Robert Harlan, then executive vice president of administration, with responsibility for overseeing the public relations, marketing and community relations areas. Prior to joining the Packer organization on March 24, 1974, Remmel was a sports writer and columnist for the Green Bay Press-Gazette for 29½ years.

In the course of his two "careers," he has been involved in staffing all 30 Super Bowls played to date, the first eight representing the Press-Gazette and the last 22 as a member of the National Football League's auxiliary media relations staff.

Remmel also is currently a member of the NFL public relations directors' statistics committee, following long service as a member of the Professional Football Writers of America liaison and NFL Films committees.

While at the Press-Gazette, he was the only sports writer in Wisconsin to have been directly involved in coverage of the Packers throughout all of the team's coaching regimes to that point, beginning with Packer founder E.L. 'Curly' Lambeau and continuing until the naming of Bart Starr in 1975. His personal longevity may be best illustrated by the fact that he witnessed his 100th Packer-Bear game on November 12, 1995, in the 150th regular-season meeting of the arch enemies.

Remmel's half-century of close association with the Packers was duly recognized this past March 30, when he was inducted into the Green Bay Packer Hall of Fame.

In 1967, he was voted Wisconsin 'Sports Writer of the Year.' He also is a past president of the former Wisconsin Pro Football Writers' Association.

Remmel, a native of Shawano, Wis., where he was born June 30, 1924, began his career as the sports editor of a weekly newspaper while a Shawano High School freshman. He is a member of the executive committee of the Brown County Civic Music Association, along with his wife, Noreen, as well as of the executive board of the 65 Roses Sports Club (cystic fibrosis). He also is a member of the St. Norbert College Fine Arts Committee, the Green Bay School/Business/Industry Partnership Council and the board of directors of the Green Bay Packer Hall of Fame.

JUST FOR THE RECORD

Founded as a town team in 1919, a year when Woodrow Wilson was in the White House, the Green Bay Packers carry an overall winning percentage of .562 into the 1996 National Football League season, having played a total of 1,335 games. Over their 77 years of existence, the Packers have won 726 games, lost 561 and tied 48.

The 1,335-game total includes a record of 514-434-36 (.543) in regular-season play and a league-best mark of 17-8-0 (.680) in playoff action. In addition, the Packers went 19-2-1 (.886) playing independent football from 1919-20.

Green Bay stands 165-114-9 (.589) all-time in preseason games.

Now in their 78th season of professional football, the Green Bay Packers are a team and an organization unique in both structure and accomplishment. They represent — from an organizational standpoint — the only publicly-owned franchise in the 30-club National Football League. On the field, they have won more championships — eleven — than any other team in the NFL's 76-year history.

Green Bay Packers, Inc., was founded as a non-profit corporation in 1922 under the leadership of A.B. Turnbull, then publisher of the Green Bay Press-Gazette, who became the organization's first president. There are 4,634 shares of stock owned by 1,915 stockholders. The corporation is governed by a seven-member Executive Committee, elected from a 45-person board of directors.

Robert E. Harlan, ninth president of the corporation, was elected the organization's chief executive officer June 5, 1989, succeeding Judge Robert J. Parins.

MIKE HOLMGREN

Head Coach

Michael George Holmgren, the eleventh head coach in Packer annals, once taught history. Since arriving upon the Green Bay scene in 1992, the monolithic Californian has taken to rewriting it — on an annual basis.

Accordingly, after only four seasons, he already occupies a lofty plateau in the Packers' proud and storied history. He not only has become the third field leader in the club's 77-year existence to own a winning record, joining team founder E.L. 'Curly' Lambeau and the legendary Vince Lombardi in an exclusive triumvirate, but continues to add lustrous credentials to his already extensive coaching credits with each passing season, having punctuated his 1995 accomplishments by bringing Green Bay its first division title since 1972.

Putting an end to a long drought in the process, the former high school history teacher has accomplished something none of his predecessors has been able to do in more than a quarter-century:

- String together four consecutive winning seasons, a feat last forged by the fabled Lombardi in the '60s;
- Direct the Packers to three consecutive National Football League playoff berths for the first time since 1965-66-67; and
- Lead the Green and Gold to an 11-5 record in 1995, their best since 1966.

In this process, he has quickly amassed the fourth most coaching victories in team history, parlaying his overall record to 42-29-0, including a 38-26 mark in regular season play and a 4-3 record in playoff competition.

Taking over a club which had finished a dismal 4-and-12 in 1991, Holmgren led his first three Packer teams to as many consecutive 9-and-7 records, a span of success Green Bay had not known since the now distant 'Lombardi Era.'

The 48-year-old San Franciscan embellished these accomplishments by escorting the Green and Gold to the 11-5 mark in 1995 — the 11 victories representing the third highest such total in team annals — and to its first NFC Central Division championship in 23 years, then guiding his squad to back-to-back wild card and divisional playoff victories in the postseason and a berth in the National Football Conference title game for the first time since 1967.

Earlier, he demonstrated an impressive faculty for overcoming adversity, turning the 9-and-7 trick the third time in 1994 despite the premature retirement of leading tackler Johnny Holland and the injury loss of starters Guy McIntyre (6 games), LeRoy Butler (3 games) and Roland Mitchell (15 games) — plus key contributors Lenny McGill (9 games) and Gilbert Brown (3 games) during the course of the season.

The former USC field general again proved himself a highly resourceful leader in 1995, following a career-ending injury to Sterling Sharpe, the most prolific pass receiver in Packer history. Calling upon his players to "crank it up a notch" to offset the loss of a primary weapon, he developed an exceptional team unity which played a major role in producing the Packers' first division title in nearly a quarter-century — a togetherness which later prompted elder statesman Reggie White to observe, "The chemistry on this team is as good as any I've ever been around."

Appropriately, Holmgren's efforts have been duly recognized and rewarded. Even prior to his third straight winning season in 1994, the Packer organization expressed its appreciation for his accomplishments — and unqualified confidence in his future leadership — when President Bob Harlan extended Holmgren's contract for three years, one which will have him presiding over the team's on-field operations until the next century. The extension will take him through the year 1999.

Earlier honored as National Football Conference 'Coach of the Year' in 1992, he had maneuvered the Packers to within one game of the playoffs in his first season, leading them to a six-game winning streak — their longest since 1965 — en route.

The following year, he managed to take his team to the next level — the playoffs — despite the loss of four starters to injuries, three of them members of the offensive line (center James Campen, left guard Rich Moran and right tackle Tootie Robbins), plus left inside linebacker Brian Noble, a consistently productive performer and a team leader.

In plotting and executing his offensive strategy, Holmgren also had to deal with the fact that his principal weapon, Sharpe, was not able to practice the last eight weeks of the '93 season — and throughout the playoffs — because of a nagging turf toe injury, and thus was not at his physical best in the drive for a postseason berth.

Holmgren's resourceful handling of these challenges loomed large in the late stages of the '93 season as the Packers rebounded from a season-ending loss to Detroit to score a last-minute, come-from-behind victory over the Lions in their wild card playoff encounter a week later, thus recording their first postseason victory in more than a decade.

A year later, Holmgren again exhibited impressive ability to rally his team in adversity, re-grouping the Green and Gold in the wake of a late, three-game losing streak — two of the losses coming against 1993 Super Bowl principals Buffalo and Dallas — to sweep its final three games and qualify for the playoffs for the second year in a row.

A reasoned and compassionate perfectionist, he has exercised admirable patience along the way in continuing to develop his highly-talented young quarterback, Brett Favre, patience which was rewarded in 1995 when Favre responded with a record-breaking season that brought him NFL 'Player of the Year' honors.

In complete command of his football team throughout his four-year tenure, Holmgren has evinced a quiet confidence from the beginning, perhaps traceable to the league-wide reputation as one of professional football's premier offensive coaches that he had brought with him from the San Francisco 49ers — together with a long-time identification with success.

Gil Haskell, one of his assistant coaches, cites another explanation. "My impression is that he has prepared himself to be a head coach," Haskell said of Holmgren. "Many people get head coaching jobs that never expected to get them. He didn't...He's been planning this for some time."

Holmgren's initial success in 1992 stemmed in large part from his ability to achieve what he listed as his number one priority. At the outset, he pinpointed the need "to establish a winning attitude," asserting, "We have to establish the fact that good things are going to happen in the second half of games, not bad things. And that's a mindset."

The Packers' 9-7 record in that baptismal season is eloquent evidence that Holmgren's words were taken to heart. Over the course of the campaign, the Packers compiled an imposing 8-0 record in games in which they led at halftime, a shining example of the positive approach. And, poetically, they came from behind in the final minute of play to post their first regular-season victory of the 'Holmgren Era,' scoring with 13 seconds remaining to shade the Cincinnati Bengals, 24-23, in Week 3.

Holmgren, who at 6-feet-5 inevitably cuts an impressive figure (he is the tallest head coach in Packer history), became the eleventh head coach in team annals when he was signed to a five-year contract January 11, 1992, by Ron Wolf, the Packers' executive vice president and general manager.

It was in the nature of a coup for Wolf since Holmgren had been sought after by no fewer than six NFL clubs following the 1991 season in recognition of his accomplishments as offensive coordinator for the 49ers.

Earlier quarterbacks coach under the celebrated Bill Walsh for three seasons, he became San Francisco's offensive coordinator in 1989 and proceeded to put his personal stamp on the club's attack. Under him, the 49er offense ranked no lower than third in the league during his three years as coordinator.

Over this span, the 49ers compiled the NFL's best overall record, posting 71 wins compared to only 23 losses, with one tie, a .753 percentage.

Individually, Holmgren did perhaps the finest job of his San Francisco tenure in 1991. Despite losing quarterbacks Joe Montana and Steve Young to injuries, the 49er offense finished third in the league under his leadership. With third-string quarterback Steve Bono taking over for the injured Young, who had replaced an injured Montana at the start of the season, the 49ers won five of their last six games.

The ability to win with three different quarterbacks, a singular achievement, helped to make Holmgren the NFL's most sought-after assistant as head coaching opportunities began to develop following the '91 season.

Under his direction, the 49er offense had been the NFL's top-ranked unit in 1989, his first season as the team's offensive coordinator. Earlier, in 1987, Holmgren's guidance was credited with helping Montana capture his first league passing championship. He also was cited for the manner in which he prepared Young to step in for Montana when injuries forced the latter to the sideline, and the adjustments he implemented to help Bono succeed in his interim role.

A native of San Francisco, Holmgren had returned home in 1986 to take on his first coaching assignment in the professional ranks. He came to the 49ers from Brigham Young University, where he had been a member of LaVell Edwards' staff for four years (1982-85). There, he tutored Young in his role as quarterbacks coach, helping the Cougars to maintain one of college football's most potent passing offenses. During Holmgren's tenure, BYU won the school's first national championship in 1984.

The Packer coach also has known personal success on the football field as a performer, having been named 1965's 'Prep Athlete of the Year' while playing for San Francisco's Lincoln High School. A quarterback, he went on to play four years of college football at the University of Southern California (1966-69) and was selected by the St. Louis Cardinals in the eighth round of the 1970 draft. He subsequently was in training camp with both the Cardinals and the New York Jets that year, prior to returning to his high school alma mater, Lincoln High, to begin his coaching career in 1971 — and teach history.

A year later, Holmgren moved to San Francisco's Sacred Heart High as a teacher and assistant coach, struggling through 4-and-24 adversity from 1972-1974 at a school which had no practice facilities, before transferring to nearby Oak Grove High from 1975-80, a period during which the school won a Central Coast Sectional football championship.

The Packers' future head coach next entered the college ranks, serving as quarterbacks coach and offensive coordinator at San Francisco State in 1981, preceding his move to Brigham Young in 1982.

Of Swedish-Norwegian descent, Holmgren was born June 15, 1948, in San Francisco. Following graduation from Lincoln High School, he earned his bachelor of science degree at USC in 1970.

Mike and his wife, Kathy, have four daughters — twins Calla and Jenny (born 9/27/73), who graduated from North Park College (their mother's alma mater) in 1995; Emily (born 1/21/77), now in her second year at Gordon College; and Gretchen (born 7/14/81), a sophomore at Ashwaubenon High School.

Professionally, aside from his responsibilities in the Packer organization, Holmgren co-chairs the NFL Competition Committee along with Giants General Manager George Young, having succeeded the retired Don Shula in that role earlier this year. Holmgren previously had served as chairman of the Competition Committee Coaches Subcommittee since 1994.

Although a relatively new resident, Holmgren has long-standing Wisconsin ties. His maternal grandfather, Jens Bugge, was born on a farm in the Badger state. Known as 'Colonel' in the family because of his service as an officer in the United States Army, Bugge was the author of a book on military strategy, a copy of which reposes in the West Point library.

Away from football, the Packer coach spends most of his leisure time with his family. Golf is his favorite pastime and he also is fond of reading, particularly historical books.

Already substantially involved in the Green Bay community and his adopted state, he has seen his Mike Holmgren Celebrity Invitational Golf Tournament raise approximately $25,000 annually for the 65 Roses Sports Club (cystic fibrosis) each of the past five years.

Holmgren, who enjoys riding his motorcycle in rare moments of leisure, additionally serves as honorary co-chairman of the 'Harley 100-Mile Run for Muscular Dystrophy,' an event which raised more than $50,000 for the cause this past June after generating $18,000 the year before. In another civic role, Holmgren served as honorary chairman for the Wisconsin Arthritis Foundation telethon in 1992 and 1993.

He also annually heads up 'Mike Holmgren's Golf for Kids,' an event held at Lake Geneva, Wis., with the proceeds going for summer camp scholarships for inner city Chicago youths and funding for the Urban Outreach Program at North Park College.

SHERMAN LEWIS

Offensive Coordinator

Under the influence of professorial Sherman Lewis, the Packer offense has prospered and progressed from year to year during his four-year tenure as coordinator, scaling new and impressive heights in 1995.

Green Bay's offensive unit invaded the record book last season, rolling up 404 points and 5,750 yards, both the third-highest such totals in the team's 75-year National Football League history. A key element in mounting these imposing figures was a league-leading third down efficiency percentage, 49.1.

Significantly, it was the third consecutive year the offense has made substantial improvement in the ultimate bottom line category, the production of points — improving from 276 in 1992 to 340 in 1993 and 382 in 1994.

Lewis' expertise paid immediate and practical dividends in 1992, his first season as overseer of the offense, when the Packer attack he coordinated proceeded to produce 4,786 yards, the most by a Green Bay offensive unit since 1989. Moving the chains consistently, the Packers registered 291 first downs along the way, compared to 259 a year earlier.

In 1993, his second season at the offensive controls, the improvement was more dramatic, the Packers rolling up 340 points, 66 more than in the previous campaign.

In 1994, they manifested even greater firepower, amassing 382 points, the most a Green Bay team had scored in a decade — since the '84 Green and Gold posted 390. In the process, the Packers also stacked up 5,361 yards — the most they had gained in a season since 1989.

Such accomplishments were not unexpected. When Mike Holmgren became head coach of the Packers in January of 1992, the identity of his offensive coordinator was a foregone conclusion. Without question, it was going to be Sherman Lewis.

"I wanted Sherm to be my offensive coordinator when I became head coach here in Green Bay because I knew he was an outstanding football coach," Holmgren later said. "We had worked together in San Francisco...and he was a key member of the staff. He's one of the brightest and most innovative coaches I've ever been around."

Holmgren reinforced that testimonial following the '95 season when, in his year-end review, he described Lewis as "the best kept secret in this league." He added, "I don't want to lose him (to a potential head-coaching opportunity), but he certainly deserves his chance, and he would be very good."

Lewis brought an impressive coaching pedigree with him to Green Bay, having helped the 49ers develop one of the most productive attacks in the National Football League under Bill Walsh en route to three Super Bowl victories during the '80s.

Named to the Packer staff on January 18, 1992 — one week after Holmgren became head coach — Lewis was a member of the 49er staff for nine seasons, the first six as running backs coach, tutoring such outstanding performers as perennial Pro Bowl running back Roger Craig and fullback Tom Rathman. Lewis coached the wide receivers during his final three seasons in San Francisco and helped hone the skills of Jerry Rice and John Taylor, who have been selected to a combined 12 Pro Bowls.

Sherman's Packer responsibilities during his first season on the Packer staff also included coaching the receivers, duties he turned over to Jon Gruden prior to the 1993 season.

The 54-year-old Kentucky native had been an assistant coach at his alma mater, Michigan State, for 14 seasons prior to joining the 49ers, serving as assistant head coach and defensive coordinator for his final three years at MSU. Originally hired by the late Hugh 'Duffy' Dougherty, he subsequently served on the staffs of Denny Stolz, Darryl Rodgers and Frank 'Muddy' Waters.

Lewis earlier had been a two-way All-America halfback at Michigan State, where he was second runnerup for the 1963 Heisman Trophy (behind Roger Staubach of Navy and Billy Lothridge of Georgia Tech) and named college football's 'Player of the Year' by Football News.

Sherman, who later earned his master's degree in education administration from MSU in 1974, also was a standout track and field performer for the Spartans.

Lewis, born in Louisville, Ky., June 29, 1942, and his wife, Toni, have two sons, Kip (born 2/6/67), a former University of Arizona football player who now is a sports announcer/reporter for Green Bay's WLUK-TV, and Eric (born 1/2/76), who closed out a distinguished prep football career at St. Francis High School in Mountain View, Calif., in 1993 and, after receiving a football scholarship to San Diego State University, will be a starting cornerback as a sophomore after leading the Aztecs in interceptions in 1995 as a freshman with 5.

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1969-82 (Michigan State); 1983-91 (San Francisco 49ers); 1992-96 (Green Bay Packers).

FRITZ SHURMUR

Defensive Coordinator

An innovator, author and technician, as well as pro football's elder statesman in terms of service as a defensive coordinator, resourceful Fritz Shurmur has gained wide recognition over a distinguished career for his creative defensive schemes and masterful game plans.

Now in his 17th year as a coordinator, Shurmur, during the 1995 season, once again demonstrated his ability to develop both long- and short-term "solutions" to problems.

In the former, he saw his defense force 56 three-and-out series over the '95 season, the most in the National Football League.

In the latter, he devised an aggressive game plan which short-circuited San Francisco's vaunted passing game in the divisional playoffs, one which saw Packer defenders trigger and convert a receiver's fumble into a touchdown on the game's opening series and then constantly harry quarterback Steve Young, sacking him 3 times and forcing 2 interceptions en route to a highly convincing, 27-17 victory in the 49ers' own 3Com Park.

The genial Michigan native, in his third season in Green Bay and his 22nd in the NFL overall, lost no time in putting his personal stamp upon the defensive platoon when named coordinator by Head Coach Mike Holmgren on January 31, 1994.

Despite the injury-enforced retirements of linebacker Johnny Holland and right cornerback Roland Mitchell — and voluntarily confining himself to the scheme of predecessor Ray Rhodes in the interests of a smooth and effective transition — Shurmur presided over a defense that finished the '94 season fifth in the National Football Conference and a highly respectable sixth in the league as a whole.

His defenders then climaxed those efforts in the postseason by setting an all-time playoff record in their wild-card game against Detroit (December 31), holding the redoubtable Barry Sanders and the Lions to negative rushing yardage en route to a 16-12 victory in Green Bay's Lambeau Field. In that performance, the Packers held the Lions to minus-4 yards in 15 attempts, breaking a 31-year-old playoff record while restricting league rushing champion Sanders to a career-low minus-1 yard in 13 attempts.

Shurmur earlier demonstrated a classic example of his flair for innovation in 1989 when, as defensive coordinator for the Los Angeles Rams, he was confronted with the challenge of revamping an injury-depleted defensive unit. Utilizing linebackers as down linemen and compensating for the absence of two regular inside linebackers until the season's 10th game, he developed a 2-5 'Eagle' defense which allowed only three running backs to gain 100 yards, finished fifth in the NFC with 42 quarterback sacks and led the Rams to two postseason victories.

On the Phoenix staff for three years prior to joining the Packers, he produced comparable results in becoming the Cardinals' defensive coordinator in 1991. Developing a unit featuring seven new starters, he turned out a defense which held opponents to 52 fewer points than the previous season and limited the opposition to two touchdowns or less on nine occasions, scored three touchdowns on turnovers and shared the league low for touchdown passes allowed with 12.

Shurmur's '11 men to the football' concept also triggered 37 fumbles, the third-highest single-season total in franchise history, while the Cardinals' 21 fumble recoveries ranked second in the NFC and third in the league.

A year later, his schematic originality paid dividends for Phoenix with a 'Big Nickel' alignment that featured four down linemen, two linebackers and five defensive backs. It fueled a defensive surge that limited foes to 67.5 yards rushing per game over the final six weeks of the season and enabled the Big Red to finish with the fifth-rated defense in the conference. The unit also held opponents to 101 first downs, the best effort in club history over a 16-game schedule.

The following season, 1993, Shurmur's 4-2-5 Cardinal defense again proved highly effective, closing out the season seventh in the NFL in points allowed with 269 — an average of 16.9 per game — the team's lowest total since the 16-game schedule was implemented in 1978.

Shurmur had joined the Cardinals following nine seasons with the Los Angeles Rams' successful defense, eight of them as its coordinator. He signed on as the Rams' defensive line coach for the strike-shortened 1982 season and became their defensive coordinator the following year, in which the Rams improved from 27th to 15th in total defense. In 1985 and '86, his efforts continued to bear fruit as the Rams led the NFL with 56 quarterback sacks in '85 and finished fifth in total defense both seasons. Overall, the Rams qualified for postseason play six times during Shurmur's nine-year tenure.

The 64-year-old Wyandotte, Mich., native made his NFL coaching debut with the Detroit Lions in 1975 as defensive line coach. He later was named Detroit's defensive coordinator in 1977. Four seasons in New England, the last two as defensive coordinator, followed. During this span, his 1979 Patriot defense led the NFL with 57 sacks.

Shurmur launched his coaching career in 1954 as a graduate student at his alma mater, Albion (Mich.) College, where he served as assistant football coach and swimming coach through 1961 before moving to the University of Wyoming as an assistant football coach. He was the Cowboys' defensive line coach from 1962-70 prior to being named head coach in 1971. As Wyoming's defensive coach, Shurmur's teams led the nation in rushing defense twice and in total defense once. During his stay in Laramie, the Cowboys paced the Western Athletic Conference in defense in 1963 and from 1965-69.

Blessed with writing skills to complement his football knowledge, Shurmur has authored three books — Coaching Team Defense, which covers all phases of defensive football and has elicited acclaim from his peers and fans alike; The Five Linebacker Eagle Defense; and Coaching Team Defense, Second Edition.

In addition, the veteran mentor had a fourth book — dealing with defensive line play — in the works as the media guide went to press in July.

Born July 15, 1932, Leonard 'Fritz' Shurmur attended Roosevelt High School in his native Wyandotte. He later earned All-Michigan Athletic Association honors as a center at Albion College and was named the conference's most valuable player. Fritz, who graduated with a master's degree in education administration in 1956, also was named to the all-conference baseball team.

Shurmur and his wife, Peggy, have three children — Sally Ann Michalov, 39; Scott, 37; and Susie, 33. Sally Ann, an award-winning sports reporter for the Casper Star-Tribune, was named the 1990 Wyoming 'Sportswriter of the Year.'

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1956-61 (Albion); 1962-74 (Wyoming, head coach 1971-74); 1975-77 (Detroit Lions); 1978-81 (New England Patriots); 1982-90 (Los Angeles Rams); 1991-93 (Phoenix Cardinals); 1994-96 (Green Bay Packers).

Thirteen Packers started all 16 regular-season games in 1995 — seven on offense: guards Aaron Taylor and Harry Galbreath, center Frank Winters, right tackle Earl Dotson, quarterback Brett Favre, flanker Robert Brooks and running back Edgar Bennett — and six on defense: right end Sean Jones, linebackers Wayne Simmons and George Koonce, cornerbacks Doug Evans and Craig Newsome and safety LeRoy Butler.

ASSISTANT COACHES

LARRY BROOKS

Defensive Line

Larry Brooks, in his 22nd season in professional football, brings a distinguished pedigree to his role on the Packers' defensive coaching staff. Now in his 11th year as a coach, he earlier was a perennial Pro Bowl performer during an 11-year playing career in the NFL.

Named to the Pro Bowl for five consecutive seasons as a player (1976-80), Brooks also was an All-Pro selection in 1977, 1978 and 1979. Along the way, he was the starting left defensive tackle in the Rams' only Super Bowl appearance (against the Pittsburgh Steelers) in January of 1980. He also started three National Football Conference championship games.

The 46-year-old former Los Angeles Rams standout, now in his third year as the Packers' defensive line coach, was named to the Green Bay coaching staff by Head Coach Mike Holmgren February 15, 1994. His addition to the staff reunited him with Packer Defensive Coordinator Fritz Shurmur, under whom he previously had served as an assistant defensive line coach with the Rams for eight seasons.

A Virginia State alumnus, he had been a late-round selection (14th) of the Rams in the 1972 draft. Becoming a defensive starter midway through his rookie year, Brooks went on to play an important role alongside Jack Youngblood, Cody Jones and Fred Dryer as the Rams won seven consecutive NFC Western Division championships during his 11-year playing career (1972-82).

Following his retirement as a player, Larry joined the Rams' coaching staff as assistant defensive line coach in 1983, a position he held through the 1990 season. Out of football in 1991, he returned to his collegiate alma mater as assistant athletic director and assistant football coach in 1992. He subsequently was named interim athletic director in 1993.

As a collegian, Brooks was named to the Associated Press Little All-America team. He also earned all-conference accolades and was honored as 'Virginia Small College Lineman of the Year' in 1971.

Born June 10, 1950, at Prince George, Va., he is an ardent outdoorsman who enjoys hunting and fishing. Larry is married (Colleen) and the father of a son, Larry, Jr., 26, who lives in Orange County, Calif.

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1983-90 (Los Angeles Rams); 1992-93 (Virginia State University); 1994-96 (Green Bay Packers).

NOLAN CROMWELL

Special Teams

A four-time Pro Bowl selection during an 11-year National Football League playing career after he had earned All-America honors as a collegian, Nolan Cromwell now is making an impact as a member of the NFL's coaching fraternity.

Under his direction, the Packers' coverage teams ranked among the National Football Conference's more effective kamikazes in 1995 and peaked, appropriately, during the playoffs. The punt coverage team held the Falcons, 49ers and Cowboys to an average of 4.3 yards per return and the kickoff coverage unit limited them to an average of 20.0 yards per runback over three postseason games.

Cromwell's punt return team also made Packer history, rookie Antonio Freeman returning a second-quarter punt 76 yards for a touchdown in the wild card playoff victory over Atlanta December 31, establishing a club postseason record with the first TD runback of a punt or kickoff in team annals.

The punt coverage team finished the regular season fourth in the NFC, holding opponents to an average of 7.8 yards for 36 returns, and the kickoff coverage team tied for eighth with an average yield of 21.4 yards for 74 runbacks.

Under Cromwell's guidance, punter Craig Hentrich also weighed in with a new club record, depositing 26 punts inside the opposition's 20-yard line, breaking his own mark of 24 established a year earlier.

In 1994, Cromwell's return units made headlines. Robert Brooks became the first Packer since 1969 to return both a punt and a kickoff for a touchdown, posting an 85-yard scoring runback of a punt against the Los Angeles Rams October 9 and a 96-yard kickoff return TD against the Detroit Lions December 4.

Over the '94 season, Hentrich also made major progress under Cromwell's supervision, averaging an impressive 45.5 yards over the last eight games of the season to close out with a 41.4 overall average — second-highest by a Green Bay rookie or first-year punter in 39 years.

Cromwell's troops earlier had a highly productive year in 1993, his second season on the Packer staff. Based on a statistical analysis of 17 special teams categories by the Dallas Morning News, the Packers tied for fourth in the league, a dramatic rise from 1992's 24th place. The Packers' special teams ranked first in kickoff return average (24.7 yards), opponents' gross punting average (40.2 yards) and extra point percentage (100.0).

In 1992, his first season on Green Bay's coaching staff, Cromwell substantially upgraded the Packers' kick coverage, the kickoff coverage unit emerging as the leader of the National Football Conference with an average yield of only 15.8 yards per return, a mark which ranked second in the NFL as a whole.

A native of Smith Center, Kan., Cromwell enjoyed one of the more distinguished playing careers in recent NFL history prior to joining the coaching ranks. A second-round draft choice of the Rams in 1977 out of the University of Kansas, he was a four-time Pro Bowl selection during his 11 seasons with Los Angeles, ending his playing career as the team's all-time leader in interception return yardage with 671 yards on 37 interceptions, the latter total ranking second in Rams history to Eddie Meador's 46 thefts.

The 41-year-old Cromwell also was a standout special teams player, serving as holder for extra points and field goals, he scored three rushing touchdowns on fake field goal attempts.

In addition to his Pro Bowl honors, Nolan was named NFC 'Defensive Player of the Year' by the Kansas City Committee of 101 in 1980 and was chosen NFL 'Defensive Back of the Year in 1984' by Football Digest.

As a collegian, he was accorded All-America laurels as a junior quarterback in the Kansas wishbone offense.

Cromwell launched his coaching career in 1991 as a defensive and special teams assistant on Coach John Robinson's Rams staff. Following retirement as a player and prior to re-joining the Rams as a coach, he owned and operated three tire stores in the Los Angeles area.

Nolan, who was born January 30, 1955, and his wife, Mary, have two children — Lance (born 6/15/86) and Jennifer (born 4/13/88).

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1991 (Los Angeles Rams); 1992-96 (Green Bay Packers).

GIL HASKELL

Wide Receivers

Affable Gil Haskell, previously successful as both a running backs and special teams coach over a 12-year NFL career, demonstrated his tutorial expertise in another area last season — coaching the wide receivers with a sure and productive hand.

In the process, he had the satisfaction of seeing prize pupil Robert Brooks set a new team record for receiving yardage, en route to becoming only the second wideout in the Packers' 75-year NFL history to catch 100 passes in a season.

Haskell, who earlier coached receivers for two years while working under John Robinson at USC, was named to the position by Head Coach Mike Holmgren in February, 1995.

Prior to taking over as receivers coach, Haskell had honed the talents of Edgar Bennett in 1993 while coaching the running backs, the former Florida State standout registering 9 rushing touchdowns — the most by a Packer since 1982.

The 52-year-old San Francisco native brought at least one recent and imposing credential to his latest assignment — the development of Bennett into one of the most prolific receivers in Packer history. In 1994, Bennett caught 78 passes, thus becoming only the second receiver in team annals to have 75-or-more receptions in a season. Overall, Haskell's running backs also made a dramatic statistical improvement over their 1993 production, pulling in 127 passes compared to 84 a year earlier.

In additional to professional success, Haskell's 1995 season was marked by personal misfortune, sudden and unexpected. Run over along the sideline in the NFC Championship Game against the Dallas Cowboys in Texas Stadium January 14, he suffered a fractured skull and brain contusion and subsequently spent two weeks in the Baylor University Medical Center.

One who maintains optimum physical condition year-round by way of a rigorous exercise program, Haskell subsequently made a near-miraculous recovery from the injuries and since has returned to his coaching responsibilities for a 13th NFL season.

During his recuperation, he was buoyed by a massive outpouring of concern — via cards, letters and flowers — from hundreds of fans who had seen the mishap while watching the nationally-televised playoff game.

Haskell, named to the Packer coaching staff January 27, 1992, following nine years under Robinson with the Los Angeles Rams, had made his presence felt in his first Green Bay season. Vince Workman, his most productive ball carrier, appeared en route to the first 1,000-yard rushing season by a Packer since 1978 when he suffered a season-ending shoulder injury in Week 10 against Philadelphia. Under Haskell's tutelage, Bennett also became the first Green Bay rookie to register a 100-yard rushing game in 13 years.

Prior to joining the Packers, Haskell coached the Rams' special teams for the first four of those nine seasons (1983-86), the running backs for the next four and concluded his tenure in 1991 by tutoring the tight ends and re-assuming the special teams responsibilities.

As running backs coach, Haskell had significant success, two Rams backs rushing for 1,000 yards in three of the four seasons he coached the position. Charles White gained 1,374 yards in 1987 and Greg Bell rushed for 1,212 in 1988 and 1,137 in 1989.

Earlier, under Gil's guidance, Rams special teams ranked among the NFL's finest, emerging with the league's No. 1 ranking in both 1984 and 1985, his second and third years in charge of the kamikazes. Three of his players also were named to the Pro Bowl — kickoff returner Ron Brown and punt returner Henry Ellard in 1984 and punter Dale Hatcher in 1985. During that four-year span, only one opponent scored a touchdown on a kickoff or a punt return, while the Rams, conversely, had impressive success, returning nine kicks for scores.

Haskell joined the Rams' staff in 1983 after serving as Robinson's special teams coach for five seasons at USC, a period during which he also was the Trojans' receivers coach for two seasons.

Prior to signing on at USC, Haskell coached at San Francisco's St. Ignatius High School for nine years, the last five as head coach. In the latter role, he compiled an imposing 34-15 won-lost record. He also served as track coach for four years, winning three Catholic Athletic League titles.

Haskell launched his coaching career at Riordan High School, also in San Francisco, serving as line coach for three years while also coaching the track team and winning three Catholic Athletic League championships.

Born in San Francisco September 24, 1943, he has long-standing ties to the NFL. An uncle, the late Dr. William O'Grady, was a part owner of the San Francisco 49ers and, before going to USC in 1979, Haskell had worked with the 49ers for 22 years.

Gil is married to the former Nancy Van Acker, who served as speakers bureau and entertainment coordinator for the Rams before moving to Green Bay. He also is the father of two daughters, Paula and Pattie Haskell.

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1978-82 (Southern California); 1983-1991 (Los Angeles Rams); 1992-96 (Green Bay Packers).

Robert Brooks established himself as a legitimate "long ball" threat in 1995, averaging 32.5 yards on his 13 touchdown receptions.

ASSISTANT COACHES

JOHNNY HOLLAND

Defensive Assistant/Quality Control

One of the premier linebackers in Packer history as a player, Johnny Holland is in his second year on the team's coaching staff as assistant linebackers coach and defensive assistant/quality control.

The 31-year-old Holland, who had been in business in Sugar Land, Texas, after closing out his playing career following the 1993 season, was named to the staff by Head Coach Mike Holmgren on February 21, 1995. He assists Jim Lind with coaching the linebackers, in addition to his quality control responsibilities.

In announcing Holland's addition to the staff, Holmgren had observed, "Sometimes you get an opportunity to coach a young man who, in your own mind you say, 'That guy would make a fine coach some day.' That's what I've always felt about John, and I'm glad it worked out."

Holland, who originally joined the Packers as a second-round draft selection out of Texas A&M in 1987, quickly became a key performer in the Green Bay defense, posting more than 100 tackles for six consecutive seasons (1988-1993) and leading his platoon in total tackles each of his last two seasons.

In 1992, he suffered the first of two neck injuries that were to cut short his playing career. Sidelined with two games remaining in the regular season by a herniated cervical disk, he underwent a corrective vertebrae fusion. He returned to action in 1993, starting all 16 games, and led the defense with a career-high 145 tackles while helping the Packers gain the National Football League playoffs for the first time in 11 years.

Following the season, however, it was discovered he had developed a second herniated disk in his neck and, after consultation with the Packers' medical staff, he decided he did not wish to undergo a second surgical procedure and announced his retirement from football May 20, 1994, ending a seven-year NFL career.

As a collegian, the genial Texan was a three-year starter and four-time letterman at Texas A&M, leading the Aggies in total tackles in each of his last three seasons and earning consensus All-America honors as a junior despite missing one game. In the process, he earned the nickname 'Mr. Anywhere' for his ability to consistently be where the ball was.

Earlier, he won 12 letters at Hempstead (Texas) High School — four each in football and basketball, three in track and one in baseball.

Born March 11, 1965, in Belleville, Texas, Johnny and his wife, Faith, have one son, Jordan (born 3/15/94).

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1995-96 (Green Bay Packers).

KENT JOHNSTON

Strength and Conditioning

Genial Kent Johnston, who directs and coordinates the Packers' strength and conditioning program on a year-round basis, has been credited with making a key contribution to the Green and Gold's on-field success over the past four seasons, the last three of which have found them qualifying for the playoffs.

Johnston, implementing a comprehensive program upon his arrival in Green Bay, one which has included weight control and nutrition as well as conditioning, has contributed in areas beyond his customary domain, the weight room. He has been credited with rendering valuable assistance in the rehabbing of injured players while also helping with advice and guidance on nutrition.

Since joining the Packers, the soft-spoken Texan has structured specific training programs for each player, as he previously had done done at Tampa Bay, where he implemented karate as a segment of the Bucs' conditioning regimen. In the process, he also has conducted karate classes as an element of the Packers' conditioning program.

Johnston also has traveled around the country in the offseason to monitor the conditioning progress of those players who do not live in the Green Bay area on a year-round basis.

The 40-year-old Texan was honored in February of this year for his professional excellence over a 10-year career in the National Football League when he was presented with the 'President's Award' of the Professional Football Strength and Conditioning Coaches' Society at the group's annual meeting in Indianapolis.

Kent earlier earned high marks as a strength and conditioning coach at the University of Alabama under then-head coach Ray Perkins in 1985 and 1986, when the Crimson Tide's weights program was regarded as one of the nation's finest. The athletes he helped develop during that span include premier linebackers Cornelius Bennett (Buffalo Bills) and Derrick Thomas (Kansas City), as well as Derrick McKey of the NBA's Indiana Pacers.

Johnston launched his coaching career in 1978 at Teague (Texas) High School as an assistant coach before signing on at Northwestern (La.) State in 1979. He next moved to Northeast Louisiana as strength coach in 1980 before returning to the prep ranks at Willis (Texas) High School in 1982. A year later, he joined Perkins' University of Alabama staff as a graduate assistant for two seasons (1983-84) before being named strength and conditioning coach in 1985. When Perkins became head coach at Tampa Bay in 1987, Johnston joined the Buccaneer staff.

A graduate of Stephen F. Austin University, he played defensive back in football en route to earning his bachelor's degree in physical education and history. He secured his master's degree in physical education from Alabama in 1984.

Born in Mexia, Texas, February 21, 1956, Allen Kent Johnston graduated from Mexia High School, where he participated in football, tennis and track. Kent and his wife, Pam, have two sons — Kody (born 5/30/90) and Kole (born 5/7/92).

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1979 (Northwestern La. State); 1980-81 (Northeast Louisiana); 1983-84 (Alabama, graduate assistant); 1985-86 (Alabama); 1987-91 (Tampa Bay Buccaneers); 1992-96 (Green Bay Packers).

JIM LIND

Linebackers

A 23-year coaching veteran, Jim Lind is in his second season as the Packers' linebackers coach, his fifth on the Green Bay staff.

Lind, defensive assistant/quality control in his first three Green Bay seasons, was named to his current position by Head Coach Mike Holmgren February 18, 1995. He replaced Bob Valesente, who took over the defensive backs.

A 48-year-old native of Isle, Minn., Lind spent nine years as a head coach in the college ranks before joining the Packer organization in 1992, a move which teamed him with Holmgren for a second time. They previously had coached together in 1982 when the Green Bay head coach was a member of LaVell Edwards' staff at Brigham Young University and Lind was a graduate assistant.

Head coach at the University of Minnesota-Morris from 1983 through 1986, Jim directed the UM-M Cougars to two championships in the Northern Intercollegiate Conference. In the process, he was named NIC 'Coach of the Year' in 1984 and NAIA District 13 'Coach of the Year' in 1986.

Lind subsequently served as head coach at the University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire from 1987 through 1991 prior to joining the Green Bay staff.

He began his college coaching career at St. Cloud (Minn.) State, where he was a graduate assistant in 1977 and offensive coordinator in 1978. He moved to neighboring St. John's University in 1979, serving as defensive coordinator under John Gagliardi.

Earlier Jim entered his profession in 1974 as head football coach at Underwood (Minn.) High School, a position he held until moving to St. Cloud State.

Born November 11, 1947, Lind played football and participated in track at Isle (Minn.) High School before enrolling at Bethel College, where he played linebacker for one year. Moving to Bemidji (Minn.) State, from which he received his undergraduate degree, he played defensive back for two years. Jim later earned his master's degree at St. Cloud State and defended his disseration and completed his doctorate in Professional Leadership in Physical Education and Athletics at BYU in 1987.

Jim and his wife, Cindy, have two sons — Erik (born 1/6/87) and Bryan (born 1/31/90).

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1977 (St. Cloud State, graduate assistant); 1978 (St. Cloud State); 1979-80 (St. John's University); 1981-82 (Brigham Young, graduate assistant); 1983-86 (Minnesota-Morris, head coach); 1987-91 (Wisconsin-Eau Claire, head coach); 1992-96 (Green Bay Packers).

TOM LOVAT

Offensive Line

Under Tom Lovat's patient and painstaking tutelage, the Packers' offensive line has maintained a high level of performance during his four-season tenure.

The first assistant to be hired by then-new Head Coach Mike Holmgren (January 14, 1992), he has presided over a front five that has delivered the most effective pass protection Packer quarterbacks have had since the NFL implemented the current 16-game schedule in 1978. Green Bay's opponents had to be content with 30 sacks in 1993 and 33 in both 1994 and 1995, the lowest such totals permitted by a Packer offensive line in the 17-year span that the 16-game format has been in place.

Lovat, in his fifth season on the Green Bay staff and his 17th year in the NFL, has been able to extract high quality performance from his charges despite major injury problems in both 1993 and 1994. The 57-year-old Bingham Canyon, Utah, native did perhaps the finest coaching job of his professional career in '93. Despite the injury loss of three of five starters during the course of the season (center James Campen, guard Rich Moran and right tackle Tootie Robbins), he was able to maintain a consistent, productive and well-coordinated unit over the 16-game regular-season schedule and throughout the playoffs.

So effective was the Packer O-Line under his direction that repeating Super Bowl champion Dallas was the only National Football Conference team to yield fewer sacks (29) during the '93 season than Green Bay's front wall, which gave up an average of only 1.9 per game.

In 1994, Lovat had to overcome the early loss of starting left guard Guy McIntrye, his premier run blocker, shelved by a blood clot for six games during the first half of the season, thus requiring him to move center Frank Winters to left guard and bring Jamie Dukes off the bench to step in for Winters.

Last season, Lovat's contributions to the Packers' offensive success were reflected in a league-leading third down efficiency ratio, 49.1 percent, and the club's first 1,000-yard rusher since 1978 in Edgar Bennett.

Earlier he enjoyed good success in 1992, the first year of his second tour of duty with the Packers. Although handicapped by injury problems which caused Moran to miss half of the season and Campen to sit out three games, the Green and Gold's offense ranked among the leaders in both third- and fourth-down efficiency, a development traceable in no small measure to the performance of Lovat's line.

The genial westerner, a 35-year coaching veteran and a member of the Phoenix Cardinals' staff prior to re-joining the Packers, previously served as a Green Bay offensive line assistant (to Ernie McMillan) in 1980 under Bart Starr.

Well respected for his teaching skills, Lovat launched his coaching career at the University of Utah in 1967 while completing his master's degree, received in 1968.

He moved to Idaho State and then to Saskatchewan of the Canadian Football League, taking on his first professional assignment as defensive coach for the Roughriders in 1971.

Lovat returned to Utah as an assistant in 1972 and later was named the school's head coach in 1974, a position he held through the 1976 season. He then moved to Stanford, where he was a member of the Bill Walsh staff from 1977 through 1979, before signing on with the Packers for the first time in 1980.

Tom next joined the Cardinals for the first time in 1981, serving as offensive line coach through the 1984 season. He then became assistant head coach-offense of the Indianapolis Colts, holding that position from 1985 through 1988 under Ron Meyer, the Colts leading the American Football Conference in rushing in '85 under his direction.

Tom subsequently spent the 1989 season as offensive line coach at the University of Wyoming before re-joining the then-Phoenix Cardinals in 1990. That '90 season his offensive line allowed only 43 quarterback sacks, the lowest total by the Cardinals in 11 seasons and one that the Phoenix forward wall matched in 1991. In the '90 process, Lovat's line paved the way for rookie Johnny Johnson to rush for 1,000 yards and earn Pro Bowl honors.

Born in Bingham Canyon, Utah, on December 28, 1938, Lovat is a 1961 graduate of the University of Utah, where he was a three-year football and baseball letterman for the Utes, earning All-Skyline honors in baseball.

Tom and his wife, Lyn, have three children — a daughter, Johna Rae Griese, and two sons, Matthew and Mark.

MARTY MORNHINWEG

Quarterbacks Coach

Ebullient Marty Mornhinweg, in his second year on the Packers' coaching staff, assumes a new role this season as quarterbacks coach.

The 34-year-old Mornhinweg, who previously served as offensive assistant/quality control, was named to his new position by Head Coach Mike Holmgren February 14, 1996, succeeding Steve Mariucci, who left to become head football coach at the University of California.

In announcing Mornhinweg's promotion, Holmgren said, "In his role as offensive assistant/quality control, Marty was very much involved with the quarterback play from the coaching standpoint. He spent a good portion of his time in the quarterback meetings with Steve Mariucci and the quarterbacks throughout the season.

"Earlier, he was an outstanding quarterback in his own right at the University of Montana and, later having been offensive line coach at the University of Missouri, he has a real total understanding of offense and offensive schemes, and how it all affects quarterback play. Additionally, he proved — in a very short time — that he could not only handle this job, but do it very well."

Mornhinweg, a native of San Jose, Calif., and a veteran of 10 coaching years at the college level, was well known to the Green Bay head coach before being invited to join the Packer organization. Holmgren, who coached him at San Jose's Oak Grove High, says of him, "Marty's one of the finest quarterbacks I've coached at any level."

A graduate of the University of Montana with a B.S. degree in health/physical education and a master's degree (health/physical education/sports management) from the University of Texas-El Paso, Mornhinweg began his college coaching career in 1985 at his alma mater, where he tutored the Montana receivers.

He subsequently served as graduate assistant/quarterbacks coach at Texas-El Paso (1986-87), running backs coach at Northern Arizona in 1988 and offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach at Southeast Missouri State University (1989-90). He then coached slots/tight ends (1991) and the offensive line (1992-93) at the University of Missouri before returning to Northern Arizona as offensive coordinator in 1994.

A four-year starter at quarterback for the University of Montana as a collegian, Mornhinweg set 15 school passing records and twice earned All-America honorable mention. He earlier had an outstanding prep career, winning all-state honors and being named Northern California 'Player of the Year.' In the process, Marty established three Northern California and 19 school records.

Following graduation from Montana, he had a tryout with the San Francisco 49ers in 1985, and, in 1986, quarterbacked the Denver Dynamite of the Arena Football League for two games before suffering a season-ending knee injury. His playing days behind him, he later resumed his collegiate coaching career in the fall of '86.

Born in Edmond, Okla., March 29, 1962, Marty and his wife, Lindsay, have three children — daughters Madison (born 5/27/91) and Molly Lynn (born 7/21/95) and a son, Skyler (born 8/10/93).

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1985 (Montana); 1986-87 (Texas-El Paso, graduate assistant); 1988 (Northern Arizona); 1989-90 (Southeast Missouri State); 1991-93 (Missouri); 1994 (Northern Arizona); 1995-96 (Green Bay Packers).

ANDY REID

Tight Ends/Assistant Offensive Line

Under Andy Reid's patient and resourceful tutelage, tight end has been a consistently productive position over his four-year Green Bay tenure, a span punctuated by Mark Chmura being named to the Pro Bowl following the 1995 season — the first such honor for a Packer tight end since 1983.

Reid, who built a reputation for developing outstanding offensive lines while in the college ranks, has seen Chmura and predecessor Jackie Harris put up near-record numbers under his direction since his arrival upon the Green Bay scene. Harris registered 55 receptions in 1993, a total only one shy of the Packers' single-season record, prior to signing on as a free agent with Tampa Bay in 1994, and Chmura posted 54 in 1995, the third-highest collection in team annals.

Reid may well have done the best coaching job of his Packer tenure in 1994 when he was called upon to juggle and utilize the talents of four different tight ends over the course of the season, among them 11-year veteran Ed West, handicapped by a pair of refractory knees; incoming Reggie Johnson, periodically hampered by a hamstring problem; then third-year pro Chmura, thrust into a late-season starting role by the injury factor; and rookie Jeff Wilner, inserted on a spot basis. The 38-year-old Brigham Young alumnus was able to garner a total of 57 receptions from this quartet, including a career-high 31 by the gimpy West.

Earlier, Harris matured into one of the NFL's premier tight ends under Reid's demanding, yet reinforcing, direction in 1992 and '93 prior to signing with the Bucs. Harris caught 97 passes over that two-year span.

Reid, who had been offensive line coach at the University of Missouri since 1988, was named to the Packer staff by Head Coach Mike Holmgren on January 21, 1992, to assist Tom Lovat with the offensive line in addition to coaching the tight ends.

Quality pass-blocking offensive lines, in both the Division I and II ranks, had been Reid's hallmark since launching his coaching career at San Francisco State in 1983. The school led the nation in passing offense and total offense for three consecutive years (1983-84-85) while he served as offensive coordinator, offensive line coach and strength coach.

Reid moved to Northern Arizona as offensive line coach in 1986, then to Texas-El Paso in 1987. When Bob Stull took over as head coach at Missouri in 1988, he joined Stull's Tiger staff, where he spent four years prior to being "recruited" by the Packers in 1992.

Andy received his coaching start at his alma mater, BYU, as a graduate assistant under LaVell Edwards in 1982. An offensive tackle/guard on three Holiday Bowl teams as a collegian, Reid earned three varsity football letters, graduating with a bachelor's degree in physical education. He also received a master's degree in Professional Leadership in Physical Education and Athletics.

Born in Los Angeles March 19, 1958, Reid and his wife, Tammy, have five children — Garrett (born 4/13/83), Britt (born 4/28/85), Crosby (born 3/17/88), Drew Ann (born 3/9/90) and Spencer (born 6/9/92).

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1982 (Brigham Young, graduate assistant); 1983-85 (San Francisco State); 1986 (Northern Arizona); 1987 (Texas-El Paso); 1988-91 (Missouri); 1992-96 (Green Bay Packers).

HARRY SYDNEY

Running Backs

Harry Sydney carries a new and impressive coaching credential into the 1996 season. In 1995 the former 49er fullback presided over Edgar Bennett's development into the Packers' first 1,000-yard rusher (1,067) since 1978, when Terdell Middleton turned the trick.

Sydney, who had just taken over as running backs coach last season, thus quickly put the expertise he gleaned in 10 pro playing seasons to specific use in maximizing Bennett's contributions to the running game.

A veteran of two Super Bowls as a performer, the voluble North Carolinian is in his third year on the Green Bay staff. He had been a general assistant in 1994, his first season as an NFL coach.

Harry, a fullback during his on-field career, played on Super Bowl championship teams in 1988 and '89 during a five-year tenure with the San Francisco 49ers in which he served as the Niners' special teams captain.

In one subsequent season with the Packers, 1992, he was a substantial contributor to the cause, catching 49 passes for 384 yards and rushing for 163 yards in 51 carries while helping the Green and Gold post a 9-7 record, their second-best mark in a 20-year span.

Sydney earlier played in the United States Football League for three years and in the Canadian Football League for one season prior to joining the 49ers in 1987. A wishbone quarterback at the University of Kansas as a collegian, he moved to running back prior to his junior season and earned All-Big Eight honors at the position.

Born Harry Flanroy Sydney III in Petersburg, Va., on June 26, 1959, he was an all-state performer in both football and basketball at Seventy-First High School in Fayetteville, N.C.

Sydney, who owns a degree in criminal justice from the University of Kansas, is the possessor of a highly eclectic resume. In addition to having taught a high school psychology course on a "sabbatical" from pro football in 1986, he also reports having had a variety of odd jobs in earlier years — cook, factory worker, basketball referee and driver of a soft drink truck, among others.

Harry has four children — Harry IV (born 6/13/81), Zachary (born 11/29/85), Nathan (born 12/26/89) and Taylor (born 10/12/92).

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1994-1996 (Green Bay Packers).

BOB VALESENTE

Defensive Backs

Scholarly Bob Valesente, now in his second season as Green Bay's defensive backfield coach, has spanned the coaching spectrum during a 34-year career in his chosen profession.

Taking over tutoring of the secondary thus was a smooth transition for Valesente, who has done it all, vocationally speaking, having coached at every level — high school, college and professional — and has had extensive experience on both sides of the football — as a head coach, assistant head coach and offensive or defensive coordinator for seven colleges and universities.

Earlier in his career, he coached the defensive secondary over a five-year span (from 1970 through 1974) while in the college ranks at Cornell University and later at the University of Cincinnati.

The 56-year-old Valesente, who earlier presided over Bryce Paup's rise to Pro Bowl status at linebacker in 1994, moved into his current role last season, replacing Dick Jauron, who had resigned to become defensive coordinator for the expansion Jacksonville Jaguars.

Bob, who joined the Packer staff in 1992 after two seasons with the Pittsburgh Steelers, is on his third NFL coaching assignment. In addition to his tour of duty with the Steelers, he previously had been secondary/special teams coach for the then-Baltimore Colts in 1982-83.

Valesente began his coaching career at Ithaca (N.Y.) High School in 1962. He left the coaching profession temporarily after one year to play professional baseball for the Chicago Cubs organization in 1963 and '64. Bob then launched his college coaching career at Cornell University as freshman defensive coordinator in the fall of 1964. After 10 seasons at Cornell, the last five as varsity secondary coach, he moved to the University of Cincinnati as secondary coach in 1975-76, then to Arizona (1977-79) and to Mississippi State (1980-81) as defensive coordinator/linebackers coach.

Valesente then received his first NFL coaching opportunity at Baltimore in 1982, later returning to the college ranks as assistant head coach/quarterbacks coach at the University of Kansas in 1984. He subsequently was named head coach at Kansas in 1986, then spent one year as offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach at Maryland in 1988 before joining the University of Pittsburgh staff. During Bob's Kansas tenure, the Jayhawks set numerous passing records.

Bob was named linebackers coach for the Steelers by then-head coach Chuck Noll on March 9, 1990, after serving as assistant head coach/defensive coordinator at Pitt in 1989. Under his tutelage, both David Little and Greg Lloyd blossomed into All-Pro performers, helping the Steelers earn the league's No. 1 ranking on defense in 1990.

A graduate of Ithaca College, Valesente played halfback on the football varsity and was a catcher-outfielder for the baseball team that reached the 1962 College World Series. Drafted by the Chicago Cubs, he played at the Class A level in 1963-64.

Valesente, a member of the Ithaca College Hall of Fame, graduated in 1962 with a bachelor's degree in physical education, later earning his master's degree from the same institution in 1965.

Born in Seneca Falls, N.Y., on July 19, 1940, Bob and his wife, Joan, have three children — a son, Rob, 28, and two daughters, Ginger Valesente Weekly, 30, and Michelle, 16.

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1964-74 (Cornell); 1975-76 (University of Cincinnati); 1977-79 (Arizona); 1980-81 (Mississippi State); 1982-83 (Baltimore Colts); 1984-87 (Kansas, head coach 1986-87); 1988 (Maryland); 1989 (University of Pittsburgh); 1990-91 (Pittsburgh Steelers); 1992-96 (Green Bay Packers).

Cornerback Doug Evans established a new unofficial Packer record for passes defensed in 1995 with 27. Evans' mark bettered the previous high of 25, set by LeRoy Butler in 1993.

GARY REYNOLDS

Administrative Assistant/Football Operations-Offensive Assistant/Quality Control

Gary Reynolds, administrative assistant/football operations since 1993, takes on additional responsibilities this year as offensive assistant/quality control.

Reynolds, a 29-year-old Texan, was assigned the added duties by Head Coach Mike Holmgren in February of 1996, replacing Marty Mornhinweg, who was named quarterbacks coach.

In his expanded role, he is in charge of all computer input and analysis for the offensive coaching staff, in addition to film breakdown and executing the scheduling of all team mini-camps, training camps, practices, meetings and events. He also assists in the coordination of team travel to road games.

A Texas A&M alumnus with a bachelor of science degree in engineering (1988) and a master's degree in education (1992), Reynolds joined the Packer organization in July of 1993 after serving as assistant recruiting coordinator at the University of Tennessee. He previously had been graduate assistant/assistant recruiting coordinator at Texas A&M from January 1991 until August 1992, when he joined the University of Tennessee staff.

Gary, born October 5, 1966, in Boston, graduated from Dulles High School in Sugar Land, Texas, in 1984. He is married to the former Beth Epperly of Knoxville, Tenn.

BARRY RUBIN

Strength and Conditioning Assistant

Barry Rubin, possessor of a 15-year background in the strength and conditioning field, is in his second year as strength and conditioning assistant for the Packers.

The 39-year-old Rubin joined the Packer organization May 19, 1995, following a third tenure as head strength coach at Northeast Louisiana University, thus becoming the first full-time strength and conditioning assistant in club history.

In assisting Kent Johnston, the Packers' strength and conditioning coach, his responsibilities include monitoring the team's cardiovascular conditioning (running) program, as well as player workouts in the weight room and assisting in setting up player nutritional profiles.

A native of Monroe, La., where he was born June 25, 1957, Rubin began his career in the strength and conditioning field in 1981 as a graduate assistant at Northeast Louisiana University following his graduation from Northwestern (La.) State University. In addition to seven years of service at Northeast, in three separate tenures, he also spent two years as head strength coach at Louisiana State, one year as a personal trainer to then-Pittsburgh Steelers quarterback Bubby Brister and four years at a health club in Monroe, La.

Rubin, who is single, was a tight end and punter as a collegian at Northwestern (La.) State from 1978-80, where his teammates included future NFL performers Bobby Hebert, Mark Duper, Joe Delaney and Gary Reasons. He was named to the Jewish All-America football team as a senior.

The Packers' 49 touchdowns in 1995 tied the fourth-highest mark in team annals.

Edgar Bennett forged a hallmark season in 1995, becoming the first Packer running back to rush for 1,000 yards (1,067 — in a club-record 316 attempts) since 1978, and invading the team's record book in three major categories. He amassed 1,715 total yards from scrimmage (including 648 on 61 pass receptions), breaking Jim Taylor's record of 1,580, and also moved into ninth place in career rushing (2,454 yards) and 10th in career receiving (211 catches).

50 MIKE ARTHUR

Center / Offensive Guard
Texas A&M 6th year
Ht: 6-3 Wt: 290 Born: 5/7/68 Acq: T-95

PRO: A solid and versatile veteran acquired in a training camp trade with the New England Patriots prior to the 1995 season, Mike Arthur is counted upon to provide quality depth in the heart of the offensive line...Also is expected to assume many of the Packers' long-snapping responsibilities this year...Offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis has been pleased with what he has seen of the 28-year-old center/guard during the offseason..."Mike showed quite a bit of improvement in our mini-camps," Lewis said, adding, "We've had him at both center and guard, and we think he's got a chance to help us at both positions. We're going to take a good look at him at guard — we know he can play center. It looks like he has some ability to play guard and I think he might give us some real good depth in our offensive line. He's got good strength and he's a pretty good technician — he executes well. He's very coachable and he's smart — he knows all the calls. He can make the calls (at center). And he looks like he has the ability to pull and do some of the things we like at guard, too, so we want to look at him there."...Originally a fifth-round draft selection of the Cincinnati Bengals in 1991, the seven-year pro started 38 regular-season games in five NFL seasons before coming to the Packers, including 13 for Cincinnati in 1992 and 11 in both 1993 and 1994 for the Patriots, who claimed him off waivers from the Bengals in '93...1995: Backed up veteran Frank Winters at center...Saw action on special teams in 11 of 16 regular-season games, plus all three playoff contests...Did not play in opener vs. St. Louis (Sept. 3), nor in any of the team's final four regular-season games...Assumed long-snapping responsibilities for placements during postseason win over Atlanta after Winters experienced elbow problems, continuing those chores through the playoffs...Had been acquired from Patriots on Aug. 12 in exchange for wide receiver Bill Schroeder and tight end Jeff Wilner...1994: Started the first three games at center for New England...Relieved by Mike Gisler for four contests, but returned to the starting lineup for the final nine games of the season, plus a subsequent playoff game...Allowed only 2½ of the 22 sacks permitted by the Patriots' offensive line, despite 721 passing attempts (including sacks)...1993: Claimed off waivers from the Bengals (Sept. 1) and started two weeks later vs. Seattle (Sept. 19)...Started 11 games in all, including the final five games of the season...The Patriots averaged 338.6 yards per game to close out the season, thanks in part to the consistent play of the offensive line, which allowed only one quarterback sack during that time...As a unit the offensive line allowed only 23 sacks, the second-best total in the league...1992: Played in all 16 games for Bengals, starting 13 at center...Opened the season as the starting center in just his second season...Started the first seven games as the Bengals began 2-0 before losing five straight...Played as a reserve during a three-game stretch between Nov. 1 through Nov. 15...Returned to start final six games of the season...Along the way, helped Harold Green to the first 1,000-yard rushing season of his career (1,170 yards)...Assisted the Bengals to a third-place ranking in the AFC by averaging 123.5 yards rushing per game (eighth in the NFL)...1991: Made his NFL debut in the third week of his rookie campaign, Sept. 15 against Cleveland...Injuries on the Bengals elevated him to the starting lineup against Miami (Dec. 9)...Started the final three weeks of the regular season...Drafted in the fifth round (130th overall) by Cincinnati in 1991.

Linebacker

Miami (Fla.) 2nd year

Ht: 6-1 Wt: 239 Born: 11/10/70 Acq: FA-95

PRO: An unheralded free agent with intriguing potential, Robert Bass is a leading candidate to augment the team's linebacker corps...Joined Packers' practice squad midway through last season after an early two-game stint on the roster of the Chicago Bears, the club with which he began his pro career in 1994...Remained a member of the practice squad for the balance of the season and into the playoffs before he was signed to Green Bay's 53-man roster for the last two postseason games..."He has really good athletic ability," Packers defensive coordinator Fritz Shurmur says of the former Miami Hurricane. "He's quick, and we look for him to challenge for the middle linebacker spot. There are, of course, a lot of things that apply here, and not the least of which is special teams ability in the preseason, and those kinds of things. But he's going to make a legitimate run. 34 EDGAR BENNETT

Running Back

Florida State 5th year

Ht: 6-0 Wt: 217 Born: 2/15/69 Acq: D4-92

PRO: Versatile, committed and productive, the highly durable Floridian has entrenched himself among the Packers' all-time rushing and receiving elite in just four seasons, a feat of major proportions considering the team's history dates back to the dawn of the NFL in 1921...Invaded the club's lifetime top ten in both categories in 1995, vaulting into ninth place in rushing (2,454 yards) while becoming Green Bay's first 1,000-yard rusher since 1978, and taking over 10th place in receiving (211 catches)...Following his 61-catch production, only one running back in team history has caught more passes in a career than he — Gerry Ellis with 267...Tied Don Hutson, Bill Howton and Paul Coffman for third place all-time for the most 50-catch seasons...He also has caught at least one pass in 48 straight games, the longest streak in team history for a running back and the sixth-longest in club annals...Remarkably sure-handed, he has had 684 consecutive rushing attempts without a lost fumble, his last coming as a rookie at Chicago's Soldier Field on Nov. 22, 1992, in his first pro start...Packers offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis, duly appreciative of Bennett's multiple contributions to the cause, says of him, "Edgar's just an all-around, excellent back. The guy does everything well — he's an excellent receiver coming out of the backfield and he can run inside. He's very durable — he's been hurt and he hasn't missed any games. The thing I like about him more than anything is the fact that we give him the ball a lot and he just doesn't fumble. He's got great hands — in the four years we've been here, he's had very few fumbles. There's probably faster backs, there's bigger backs, there's probably better blocking backs and better receiving backs. But as far as a guy that can do it all, he's as good as any of them."...Always answers the bell on Sunday, he has yet to miss a game as a professional, playing in 64 consecutive contests — tying center Frank Winters for the longest active string on the team...Now has five career 100-yard rushing games and is tied (with three others) for fourth on the Packers' all-time list, behind only the 26 of Jim Taylor, the 13 of John Brockington and the nine of Tony Canadeo...Has rushed for 342 postseason yards in seven career games, a total which in 1995 lifted him past Paul Hornung (323) into second place in Green Bay's all-time playoff rushing, behind only the 505 of Taylor...1995: Assumed a new role in the Green Bay offense, moving from fullback to halfback, with the objective of more fully featuring his skills in Coach Mike Holmgren's productive system, and the stratagem paid substantial dividends...Started all 16 games for the first time in his career...Ground out 1,067 yards to lead the club in rushing for a second consecutive year and rank 10th in the National Football Conference...Also finished second on the club with 61 pass receptions, becoming the first running back in team annals to catch more than 60 passes in two different seasons (following a club record, for RBs, 78 in 1994) and also the first running back in club history to record three 50-reception seasons...Closed out the season with a team-record 1,715 yards from scrimmage (surpassing the 1,580 of Taylor in 1962) to rank fifth in the NFC...Became the Packers' first 1,000-yard rusher since Terdell Middleton (1,116 in 1978) and only the fifth player in team history to rush for 1,000 yards in a season...In addition, his 316 rushing attempts set a new team record for most in a season — breaking the previous mark of 284 by Middleton in '84...Named to the 'All-Madden Team' by Fox Sports analyst John Madden...Registered over 100 yards of total offense in 10 games...Limited during training camp by an ankle sprain suffered in a preseason game at Pittsburgh (Aug. 13), which ended up lingering throughout the year, he returned to start the regular season opener vs. St. Louis (Sept. 3)...Rushed for 96 yards on a career-high 30 carries at Chicago (Sept. 11)...Had 87 yards rushing on 23 carries (3.8 avg.) in win over N.Y. Giants (Sept. 17)...Rushed for 66 yards on 21 attempts against Jaguars, in addition to catching 3 passes, in a return to his hometown of Jacksonville (Sept. 24)...Weighed in with 129 total yards from scrimmage at Dallas (Oct. 8), catching 4 passes for 79 yards, including a leaping, 30-yard catch midway through the fourth quarter — and rushing 16 times for 50 yards...Had his second consecutive game of 100-or-more yards in total offense when he accounted for 148 yards from scrimmage (77 rushing, 71 receiving) Oct. 15 against Detroit...Recorded a third straight game of 100-plus yards with a 105-yard effort (71 rushing, 34 receiving) vs. Minnesota on Oct. 22...Established single-game career highs with 121 yards rushing (on 22 carries for a 5.5 average) and total yards from scrimmage (171) at Detroit (Oct. 29)...Also caught 6 passes for 50 yards in Lions contest, a game which marked his fourth consecutive 100-plus total yards effort...Posted a solid, all-around performance at Minnesota (Nov. 5), rushing for 70 yards, including a 13-yard scoring run on the Packers' first drive of the game...Also caught a season-high 7 passes for 65 yards, marking the fifth straight game he had totaled 100-or-more yards from scrimmage...Had a career-best 2 touchdown receptions — both on screen passes — in the Packers' 35-28 victory over the Bears (Nov. 12), including a 16-yard TD catch midway through the fourth quarter which was the decisive score...Amassed 145 yards of offense vs. Tampa Bay (Nov. 26), when he posted a team-leading 60 yards rushing and also caught 3 passes for a season-high 85 yards...One of the catches was a diving, 31-yard reception that he caught at the Buccaneers' 5-yard line (the Packers scored a touchdown two plays later)...Gained 71 yards on the ground at Cleveland (Nov. 19) and had another 42 yards receiving on 5 catches — totaling 113 yards from scrimmage...Had another productive outing Dec. 3 vs. Cincinnati, totaling 130 yards of offense when he rushed for 80 yards and equaled his season high with 7 receptions for 50 yards — including a 14-yard scoring pass on a screen play midway through the third quarter, giving Green Bay the go-ahead touchdown in an eventual 24-10 victory...Had 150 yards of total offense at New Orleans (Dec. 16) — a day which saw him go over 1,000 yards rushing in the fourth quarter...Rushed for 57 yards and scored on a diving 9-yard run vs. Pittsburgh in regular-season finale (Dec. 24)...Also had a season-best 23-yard run against Steelers...Augmented his in-season contributions by leading the Packers in rushing during the postseason, gaining 205 yards in 56 attempts, a 3.7-yard average, as he started all three games...Launched his playoff efforts with a club-record, 108-yard performance on 24 carries in a 37-20 wild-card victory over Atlanta (Dec. 31), breaking the 35-year-old mark of 105, set by Taylor at Philadelphia Dec. 26, 1960, and tied by Hornung vs. Cleveland Jan. 2, 1966...Also had 3 pass receptions for 11 yards vs. Falcons...Rushed for 51 yards in 23 carries in 27-17 divisional playoff triumph over San Francisco 49ers (Jan. 6)...Gained 46 yards in 9 rushing attempts (5.1 avg.) and made 3 catches for 20 yards in NFC title game at Dallas (Jan. 14)...His 6 playoff receptions (3 each against Atlanta and Dallas) swelled his career playoff total to 26, leaving him in fourth place in the team's postseason annals...1994: Led club in rushing for the first time in his career with 623 yards and 5 touchdowns on 178 carries...Also paced the National Football League in receptions among running backs with his 78 catches — a total second on the team to Sterling Sharpe's 94 and the sixth-highest single-season collection in Packer annals — and surpassed Green Bay's previous one-season mark for receptions by a running back, 65, set by Ellis in 1981...His 623 yards rushing ranked 12th in the NFC and his 56 points placed him eighth in the conference among non-kickers...Played in all 16 games for the third straight season, making 15 starts at fullback...Posted second consecutive 1,000-or-more total-yard season (623 rushing, 546 receiving), closing out the year with 1,169 yards...Had his third 100-yard rushing game of the season (and fourth of his career) at Tampa Bay Dec. 24, when he rushed for exactly 100 yards in 21 attempts, including a career-long 39-yard scoring excursion for the game's first score in a 34-19 victory, in the process becoming the first Packer to record three 100-yard rushing games in a season since Middleton, who had four in 1978...Also caught 6 passes for 35 yards vs. Bucs...Made 8 receptions for 101 yards vs. Atlanta (Dec. 18), the first 100-yard receiving day of his career — including a career-long 40-yard catch-and-run of a screen pass...Also had 46 yards rushing against the Falcons, his 147 total yards in the contest were a season high as well...Registered his third career 100-yard rushing game vs. Chicago (Dec. 11) when he posted a season-best 106 yards on 22 attempts, including a 4-yard TD run...Rushed for 5.6 yards per carry (8-45) at Buffalo on Nov. 20, he also caught 5 passes vs. Bills, including a 5-yard scoring toss in the third quarter...Had limited production in win over the Jets (Nov. 13), being required to leave the game with a bruised knee late in the second quarter from which he did not return...Had a team-leading 47 yards receiving on 5 catches, including a 17-yard touchdown reception, in 38-30 win over Detroit Nov. 6...Recorded perhaps finest day of his pro career at Chicago (Oct. 31), scoring a career-high 3 touchdowns in a torrential, gale-like rainstorm and rushing for 105 yards on 26 carries (4.0 avg.)...Had 2 rushing scores and caught a 9-yard TD pass from Brett Favre early in the fourth quarter, giving the Packers a 27-0 lead, in eventual 33-6 triumph over the Monsters of the Midway...Scored Packers' winning touchdown vs. L.A. PRO: A wide receiver as a collegian and during his first two years as a professional, this former Buffalo Bill is attempting to make the NFL grade on the other side of the football as a defensive back in his first full season with Green Bay...Joined the Packers in mid-December of last year after his preseason release by Buffalo...Brings impressive skills to his bid to switch positions..."Bucky has great speed and he has outstanding athletic ability," says Green Bay defensive coordinator Fritz Shurmur. "He has shown tremendous ability to be able to cover. The thing that he needs is experience at the defensive position, and he doesn't have that. Right now, it's a matter of exposure, but we think that he has a tremendous upside as a defensive player and we're going to continue with this process of trying to move him along as quickly as we can. Just being out there is something that he's going to have to do."...1995: Placed on waivers by Buffalo in the preseason (Aug. 22)...Signed by the Packers on Dec. 12 as a free agent, he was inactive for the team's last two regular-season and all three playoff games...1994: Played in three regular-season games with Buffalo as a rookie, averaging 18.0 yards on 9 kickoff returns...Also posted 1 assisted tackle and 1 fumble recovery on special teams...Made NFL debut Sept. 26 in Bills' Monday night game with Denver...Suffered knee injury Oct. 30 vs. Kansas City, he subsequently went on injured reserve on Nov. 17...Also was inactive for seven games prior to his placement on IR...Drafted in the second round (48th overall) by Buffalo in 1994.

87 ROBERT BROOKS

Wide Receiver

South Carolina 5th year

Ht: 6-0 Wt: 180 Born: 6/23/70 Acq: D3-92

PRO: Few players in the Packers' distinguished history have seized opportunity as surely and swiftly as the fluid South Carolinian, who made a profound personal "statement" in 1995 when challenge came his way...Called upon to succeed the departed Sterling Sharpe as the "go-to-guy" in Green Bay's offense, he proceeded to eclipse two of Sharpe's all-time club records with a season-long performance of rare brilliance...En route, he became only the second player in team annals to catch 100-or-more passes in a season, his career-high 102 receptions representing the third-highest total in Packer history, behind only Sharpe's 112 in 1993 and 108 in '92...Amassed 1,497 receiving yards, surpassing Sharpe's previous mark of 1,461 in 1992, and registered nine 100-yard receiving days, two more than Sharpe's 1992 record of seven...Quickly became a fan folk hero in the process, endearing himself to the faithful by leaping into the stands to share his elation with them following his touchdown receptions...Also established new team mark and equaled NFL record with 99-yard TD reception at Chicago in Week 2...Became only the fifth receiver in team history to post a 1,000-yard season, joining Don Hutson, Billy Howton, James Lofton and Sharpe...Also became only the ninth receiver in Packer annals to post as many as two 50-catch seasons (he had 58 in 1994)...Made considerable inroads in club's postseason record book in '95, establishing marks for: Most Passes Caught (career) — 36; Most Yards Catching Passes (career) — 547; Most Games, 100 or More Yards Pass Receiving — 3; Longest Pass Reception — 73 yards (TD)...Also shares team playoff record for: Most Consecutive Games, 100 or More Yards Pass Receiving — 2, tying him with Sharpe...Enters the 1996 season tied with Phillip Epps for 12th place in Packer career receiving with 192 catches and the possessor of a streak of 33 consecutive games in which he has caught at least one pass...Green Bay offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis, itemizing Brooks' multiple assets as an NFL wideout, launched his appraisal by pinpointing Number 87's "excellent explosiveness," saying, "We've timed him and he'll run like a 4.6 or 4.5, so he doesn't have the speed like some of the guys have, but I think he just plays fast. When he comes off the line of scrimmage, he comes off full speed in three steps and he really gets on the DBs. He's a very tough young man. I mean he'll take a hit and he's right back up. He doesn't have any fear. He's got great open-field running ability as he demonstrated when he returned punts and kickoffs. So he has the ability to catch the short pass and take it all the way. And even though he doesn't time very fast, nobody catches him, so he's one of those guys."...Lewis also applauds Brooks' penchant for jumping into the stands to share his joy with the fans..."The fans love it," he said, "and I think it's something that just happened and became kind of contagious, and went through the team. The next thing we know it was all over the country — people were showing it. That's what football used to be like — that's the way it should be."...Also has a 24.3-yard career average on 51 kickoff returns, as well as an 8.8-yard average for 67 punt runbacks as a pro...1995: Started all 16 games for Green Bay for the second time in his career (and the second straight year), finishing with a team-record 1,497 yards on 102 receptions, including 13 TDs...Was one of nine National Football League players to have at least 100 catches last season, he finished eighth in the NFC in receptions and fifth in receiving yards...In addition, his 13 receiving touchdowns tied him for fourth in the conference and equaled the third-best one-season total in club annals (behind Sharpe's 18 in '94 and the 17 of Hutson in 1942)...Also ranked seventh in conference scoring among non-kickers with 78 points...Had three consecutive 100-yard games during a mid-season stretch (at Detroit Oct. 29, at Minnesota Nov. 5 and vs. Chicago Nov. 12), one shy of the team record and the first such trifecta by a Packer receiver since Lofton turned the trick in 1984...Four times he caught 2 touchdown passes in a game and had six contests with at least 8 receptions...Made a minimum of 4 catches in 16 of the Packers' 17 games, including playoffs, the exception being a 2-reception effort vs. Minnesota (Oct. 22)...His 29 third-down receptions ranked sixth in the NFC...First-team All-Pro choice of USA Today...Also named to 'All-Madden Team'' by Fox Sports analyst John Madden...Had a team-leading 8 receptions for 70 yards in opener with St. Louis (Sept. 3)...Named NFC 'Offensive Player of the Week' for his outstanding performance at Chicago (Sept. 11), when he caught 8 passes for a career-best 161 yards and 2 touchdowns...One of the latter was an NFL record-tying, 99-yard scoring reception from quarterback Brett Favre early in the second quarter, which also was a new team record (previously held by Billy Grimes, who collaborated with Tobin Rote on a 96-yard hookup at San Francisco Dec. 10, 1950), and only the eighth time in league history that this feat had been accomplished...Made 5 catches for 47 yards, including a 19-yard TD reception from Favre midway through the second quarter, in win over N.Y. Giants (Sept. 17)...Caught a 6-yard TD pass from Favre at Jacksonville (Sept. 24) among 4 receptions for 30 yards vs. Jaguars...Had 10 receptions for 124 yards at Dallas (Oct. 8)...Caught his fifth touchdown pass of the season — a 12-yarder midway through the third quarter — and had 4 catches for 66 yards overall in win over Detroit (Oct. 15)...Had his third 100-yard receiving day of the season in rematch at Detroit (Oct. 29) when he totaled 127 yards on 6 receptions, including a weaving 77-yard TD late in the second quarter, the second-longest of his career...Posted his second consecutive 100-yard receiving game Nov. 5 at Minnesota, snaring 9 passes for 120 yards...Turned in another outstanding performance, this time vs. Chicago (Nov. 12), when he caught 6 passes for 138 yards and 2 TDs (covering 29 and 44 yards) in key divisional triumph over Bears for third straight 100-yard day...Registered sixth 100-yard game of the season in win over Tampa Bay (Nov. 26), catching 6 passes for 114 yards and 2 TDs — a 54-yard reception late in the second quarter and a 3-yard scoring catch midway through the fourth quarter...Had a team record-tying seventh 100-yard receiving game of the season in Buccaneers rematch at Tampa (Dec. 10)...Established a new club record with his eighth 100-yard effort of the season at New Orleans (Dec. 16), when he caught 5 passes for 118 yards and 2 touchdowns — on first-half scoring strikes of 17 and 40 yards...Extended his own team record with his ninth 100-yard receiving game of the season Dec. 24 vs. Pittsburgh, when he caught a career-high 11 passes for 137 yards and a touchdown, including 8 receptions (for 116 yards) in the first half plus another 3 after halftime to surpass the century mark...Continued to excel in

68 GARY BROWN

Offensive Guard / Tackle
Georgia Tech 3rd year
Ht: 6-4 Wt: 315 Born: 6/25/71 Acq: W-94

PRO: Poised to take over a starting job in the offensive line following a two-year apprenticeship and a strong showing in the team's offseason mini-camps...A one-time waiver wire acquisition, he is expected to succeed the departed Harry Galbreath at right guard..."We're very pleased with him," offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis says of the 25-year-old Amityville, N.Y., native. "Gary's worked hard in the offseason, and he's getting bigger and getting stronger. He's versatile. He can also play tackle and we now have moved him into guard. In our mini-camps he looked very good. His pass protection was excellent, his run blocking was excellent. He has real good feet. So we think he's got a chance to start for us at guard. We looked at him at left guard and now we've looked at him at right guard. We're going to give him every chance to see what he can do. But he's worked hard, and he's probably as good an athlete as there is up there in the offensive line."...1995: Appeared in all 16 games as a special teams performer...Also backed up at both tackle spots...Played entire second half of opener vs. St. Louis (Sept. 3) at left tackle as starter Ken Ruettgers missed the game with a back injury and replacement Joe Sims, who started the game, was ineffective...Also saw action at right tackle late in the second half vs. Detroit (Oct. 15) as starter Earl Dotson left contest with a calf injury...1994: Claimed on waivers from the Steelers Aug. 29...Was inactive for 14 of Packers' 16 games...Played on special teams in regular-season opener vs. Minnesota (Sept. 4)...Active, but did not see action, at New England (Oct. 2)...Also inactive for both playoff games...Drafted in the fifth round (149th overall) by Pittsburgh in 1994.

COLLEGE: Two-year starter and letterman (1992-93) for Georgia Tech after beginning collegiate career at Nassau County Community College in Garden City, N.J. ...Started seven games at tackle for Tech in '93 as only senior on offensive line, he missed other four games with a knee injury...Started first 10 games at guard as a junior before moving to tackle for season finale...First-team NJCAA All-America choice at Nassau County Community College, where he also served as team captain...Helped lead team to consecutive conference and sectional titles...Majored in history of science and technology.

PERSONAL: Given name Gary Lee Brown...Nicknamed 'Bubblin' and 'Bertha' (his mother has called him that since he was a youngster)...Born in Amityville, N.Y. ...Single...Earned three letters in football and four in basketball at Brentwood (N.Y.) High School...Played quarterback and tight end as a 215-pound prep...Favorite pastimes: listening to music and watching TV...Residence: Long Island, N.Y.

93 GILBERT BROWN

Defensive Tackle
Kansas 4th year
Ht: 6-2 Wt: 325 Born: 2/22/71 Acq: W-93

PRO: Super-massive Detroit native, hampered by injuries the past two seasons, is expected to ensconce himself among pro football's elite defensive linemen in his fourth NFL campaign...Somewhat facetiously described by Head Coach Mike Holmgren as "a guy-and-a-half wide," he looms equally large in defensive coordinator Fritz Shurmur's plans for the '96 season..."Gilbert Brown has the ability to be a dominant player on the line of scrimmage in this league," Shurmur says without equivocation. "He has at times exhibited that. He's had a difficult time over the last two years with injuries (but) I think he demonstrated this spring that he's in the best going-into-camp shape he's ever been in. He's free of injury and has worked very, very hard in the offseason in the conditioning and the weight program. I look for him to have a tremendous year. Last year, when our defense picked up toward the end of the year in the stretch run, part of that was due to the fact that his elbow had healed up and he was able to use his hands and, as a result, play effectively for us. So we need him. He's a real force in there, in terms of stopping the run. He probably, in terms of football strength, is the strongest player on our team. He can knock 'em back — he can knock offensive linemen back off the ball. He has the ability to be able to really control his side of the line of scrimmage because of his massive strength and bulk."...1995: Assumed starting role at defensive tackle beginning with Cleveland game (Nov. 19), giving Packers' run defense a major lift...Saw action in 13 games, starting seven, over course of season...Finished regular season with 27 tackles (18 solo)...Had returned nicely from torn anterior cruciate ligament injury suffered late in 1994 season, coming back in time for the opener against St. Louis (Sept. 3)...Suffered additional setback, however, when he sprained a ligament in his left elbow in Rams contest...Was inactive for three successive games before returning against Dallas (Oct. 8)...Started his first game of the season at Detroit (Oct. 29) as Packers opened in their 'nickel' package and equalled his career high with 4 tackles...Also made 4 stops vs. the Browns and Buccaneers (Nov. 26)...In his first game back as a full-time starter, provided a strong inside surge at Cleveland, which played a big role in stopping a Browns fourth-and-one play at the Green Bay 10-yard line in the waning minutes of the game, giving the Packers the ball back to run out the clock in 31-20 victory...Practiced for the first time coming off knee injury prior to the final preseason game vs. Washington (Aug. 25)...Starter in team's three postseason games, posting all 3 of his tackles in wild-card playoff win over Atlanta (Dec. 31)...Left upset win at San Francisco (Jan. 6) late in the first quarter with a left knee contusion, but returned to start the following week in NFC Championship Game at Dallas...1994: Played in 13 games with one start (vs. Miami Sept. 11, his first NFL start) before suffering a season-ending tear of the anterior cruciate ligament in his left knee at Detroit (Dec. 4)...Was placed on injured reserve Dec. 6 and underwent corrective surgery Dec. 12...Frequently replaced Steve McMichael on second and third down, his playing time increased as the season progressed up until he was hurt...Finished fourth among team's defensive linemen with 30 tackles, 18 of them solos, including 3 quarterback sacks...Twice equalled his career best with 4-tackle efforts — at Chicago Oct. 31, including a sack of the Bears' Erik Kramer, and at Buffalo Nov. 20, among them a sack of the Bills' Jim Kelly...Also played a major role in helping Packer defense limit the Vikings to only 1.2 yards per rush at Minnesota (Oct. 20)...Earlier was a key factor in restricting former high school teammate Jerome Bettis to 65 yards rushing in victory over L.A. Rams (Oct. 9) as Packers permitted only 2.7 yards per rush...Registered his first career sack at Philadelphia (Sept. 18), felling the Eagles' Randall Cunningham...Saw extensive action from scrimmage in opener vs. Minnesota (Sept. 4) as Packers held Vikings to an average of 2.8 yards per rush...1993: Although he played in only two games after being claimed on waivers from the Minnesota Vikings Aug. 31, he exhibited sufficient skills to convince Packer coaches he had a chance to play at the NFL level...Did not play in three games and was officially inactive for the other 11...Got initial playing time as a Packer against Denver (Oct. 10) after being inactive for first four games...Later played at Tampa Bay (Oct. 24) and quickly made his presence felt, registering a solo tackle on his first play from scrimmage...Also was on active roster for four other games — at Kansas City (Nov. 8), vs. Detroit (Nov. 21), vs. Tampa Bay (Nov. 28) and at Chicago (Dec. 5), but did not play...Saw reserve duty in Detroit playoff game (Jan. 8), then again was on active roster, though he did not play, in Dallas postseason contest the following week (Jan. 16)...Second of two third-round draft choices (79th overall) by Minnesota in 1993.

COLLEGE: Started 35 games in four seasons for Kansas (1989-92)...Tied for sixth in school history in tackles by a defensive lineman with 168 and fifth in career tackles for loss with 30...Also had 7½ career sacks...Finished second on the team in sacks, tackles for loss and fumbles recovered in 1991 while helping the Jayhawks hold opponents to an average of 150.9 yards per game on the ground, then the best run defense at Kansas since 1968...A year earlier, as a sophomore, was named as Jayhawks' 'Co-Defensive Most Valuable Player' and earned second-team All-Big Eight recognition...Started nine games at nose guard as a freshman...An All-Academic Big Eight selection in 1991...Majored in human development.

PERSONAL: Given name Gilbert Jesse Brown...Born in Farmington, Mich. ...Single...Has a son, Jamal (born 3/5/93)...Recorded 89 tackles and 10 sacks at Detroit's MacKenzie High School his senior year to earn all-state honors...Played both nose guard and offensive tackle...Also lettered in track, competing in the shot put and 100- and 200-meter dashes...Favorite pastimes: spending time with his son and reading...Splits residence between Detroit and Green Bay.

36 LEROY BUTLER

Strong Safety

Florida State 7th year

Ht: 6-0 Wt: 200 Born: 7/19/68 Acq: D2-90

PRO: The freewheeling and undisputed leader of the Packer secondary, ebullient LeRoy Butler is an obvious candidate to regain Pro Bowl recognition in the season ahead, based on a productive 1995 campaign which saw him pace the defense in three major categories — total tackles (117), solo tackles (97) and interceptions (5)...Also finished in a tie for third on his unit in passes defensed with 13...Was Green Bay's second-leading tackler in the postseason, posting 26 stops...Now has led the Packers in interceptions in two of the last three seasons...Defensive Coordinator Fritz Shurmur, for one, is convinced that Number 36 has the physical and mental wherewithal to recapture a niche among the National Football League's elite strong safeties, a stature he first enjoyed during the 1993 season, when he played in the Pro Bowl..."LeRoy has the potential to again be an All-Pro," Shurmur says. "Last year, he became more and more effective as we involved him more and more in things like blitzing, and moved him up toward the line of scrimmage. He has an uncanny knack for timing and instincts for playing close to the line of scrimmage. We expect to do more of that with him this year. He's a leader — obviously a leader — of our team. He makes the calls and has a great understanding of our defense and everybody's role in it. He is a real leader for us, with our defense. I would say, without reservation, that he is one of the better strong safeties in the league."...The irrepressible Floridian, a cornerback in his first two NFL seasons, also has entertained Packer loyalists by executing impromptu dance "routines" after making big plays, some of which have found their way into the team's highlight videos...His fancy footwork has provided a graphic illustration of how far LeRoy has come from a childhood which once found him wheelchair-bound...There was a time when dancing would have been impossible for him — because the bones in his feet were extremely weak, creating a misalignment which allowed him to walk only short distances and prevented him from running...For most of his childhood, his feet were in braces or casts, and there were periods when he was bound to a wheelchair...By the time he reached seventh grade, however, his feet had healed and he was on his way to Florida State and the NFL...1995: Started all 16 games en route to becoming the first Green Bay defensive back to lead the team in tackles (with 128) since Mark Murphy achieved that distinction in 1990...His 5 accompanying interceptions were one short of his career-best 6, which he posted in 1993, and tied him for 10th in the NFC...Turned in excellent game at Chicago (Sept. 11), making 7 tackles and intercepting an Erik Kramer flea-flicker pass between two potential Bear wide receivers at the Packers' 1-yard line, wrestling the ball away from Curtis Conway and blunting a potential scoring drive (Green Bay scored on the subsequent possession — Brett Favre to Robert Brooks for a 99-yard TD)...Made a team-leading 9 tackles in win over the Giants (Sept. 17), then had 6 stops in front of friends and family Sept. 24 at Jacksonville...Recorded a season-high 13 tackles (also equaling his career high), including 12 solo stops, at Dallas (Oct. 8)...Forced a key fumble late in the game Nov. 5 at Minnesota...Intercepted a Kramer pass in the end zone with 1:53 left in 35-28 victory over Chicago (Nov. 12), halting a potential game-tying drive by the Bears, who had reached the Green Bay 22-yard line...Also weighed in with 8 tackles and his lone sack of the season in rematch with Midway Monsters...Made his second interception in as many weeks midway through the fourth quarter at Cleveland (Nov. 19), when he waylaid a Vinny Testaverde pass intended for Andre Rison at the Packers' 15-yard line; he then got up and raced 76 yards to the Browns' 9, setting up a Favre TD run two plays later which gave the Packers a 31-13 lead en route to a 31-20 win...Intercepted his fourth pass of the year on Dec. 3 vs. Cincinnati, when he picked off a Jeff Blake aerial in the end zone on a fourth-down play midway through the fourth quarter...Had one of his finest performances of the season at Tampa Bay (Dec. 10), when he registered a team-leading 9 solo stops and 3 passes defensed, as well as his fifth interception of the year...Made 8 tackles in division-clinching victory over Pittsburgh (Dec. 24), including stop of Kordell Stewart for a one-yard loss on a third-and-goal play at the Packers' five-yard line with 16 seconds left in the game — setting up a fourth-down pass play which fell incomplete...Started all three playoff games, making 26 tackles to rank second on the team (behind Wayne Simmons) in the postseason...Had 9 stops in playoff games against San Francisco and Dallas...1994: Overcame serious September episode with viral pneumonia to lead the team's defensive backs and finish fourth overall with 63 total tackles (47 solo)...Also tied for second on club with 3 interceptions among his 5 passes defensed...Inactive for three games (vs. Philadelphia Sept. 18, Tampa Bay Sept. 25 and New England Oct. 2) due to pneumonia, then missed most of another with a shin injury...Started 13 games, including the last 11 in succession...Also started both playoff contests, leading Green Bay defenders in tackles during the postseason with 11...Recorded 8 stops vs. Atlanta (Dec. 18), his second-highest tackle output of the season...Made key play vs. Chicago (Dec. 11) when he intercepted a Steve Walsh pass and returned it 51 yards to the Bear 4-yard line, setting up an Edgar

PRO: Imposing New Englander who firmly established himself among pro football's tight end elite in 1995 in his first full season as a starter...Highlighted a career year by leading the NFL's tight ends in touchdown receptions with 7, one more than runnersup Ben Coates of New England and Keith Jennings of Chicago, and earning election to the NFC's Pro Bowl squad as a backup...Closed out the season with a career-high 54 catches, only two shy of the club single-season record for a tight end (56 by Paul Coffman in 1979), and went on to make his presence felt in the postseason, snaring 6 passes for 50 yards and 2 TDs...Green Bay offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis subsequently described Chmura's '95 performance as "an All-Pro year," one highlighted by the first two 100-yard receiving days of his pro career..."He's an excellent receiver down the field," Lewis says. "He can make the tough catch. He's an above-average blocker and getting better every year. He's a big target, and he and Brett (quarterback Brett Favre) have a nice feel for each other, and Brett likes to go to him in clutch situations. He's improved every year he's been here and we expect him to improve even more this year. He had an All-Pro year and we expect him to follow up with another one."...Took steps to ensure another standout year by spending majority of this past offseason in Green Bay and maintaining a strict weightlifting and conditioning regimen, something he also did prior to last season and acknowledges as one factor in his '95 success...1995: Started 15 of 16 regular-season games and two of three playoff contests...Finished as the team's third-leading receiver, his 54 catches surpassing his previous career best, 14 in 1994, by 40...Accounted for 679 receiving yards, a 12.6-yard average, and his 7 receiving TDs were the most by a Packer tight end since Coffman had 11 in 1983...First-team All-Pro selection of College & Pro Football Newsweekly and Football Digest...Also named to All-NFC squads of Football News and United Press International (second team)...Was utilized as the team's long-snapper on punts in addition to receiving duties, posting 2 special teams tackles in the regular season plus 3 in the playoffs...Turned in auspicious performance in season opener vs. St. Louis Rams (Sept. 3), establishing a personal career high with 7 catches for 97 yards and his first NFL touchdown, a 7-yarder from Favre midway through

91 SHANNON CLAVELLE

Defensive End
Colorado 2nd year
Ht: 6-2 Wt: 287 Born: 10/12/73 Acq: FA-95

PRO: A quality addition at midseason of 1995, he saw limited action as a rookie but is expected to be a factor in the '96 defensive line..."He has shown us that he's got ability to play in this league," defensive coordinator Fritz Shurmur says of the former Buffalo Bill, signed as a free agent. "We've worked him both as a defensive end and a defensive tackle. I think he will make this team and he has a chance to play. He played a little at the end of the year last year when Reggie (White) went down and we got a little short on defensive linemen. We like him — he has excellent hands, he plays and practices hard, and he has really good takeoff. In other words, he has great initial reflexes and reactions. When the ball goes, he goes, and that's really a rare skill that he has."...1995: Joined Green Bay's practice squad on Sept. 15 after being waived by the Buffalo Bills on Aug. 27 in final roster cutdown of training camp...Signed off the team's practice squad to 53-man roster on Oct. 25 following Gabe Wilkins' knee injury three days earlier vs. Minnesota...Saw his only regular-season action as a Packer on special teams vs. Chicago (Nov. 12)...Was inactive at Detroit (Oct. 29) and for each of the team's last six games...Active, but did not get in, Nov. 5 at Minnesota...Played on defense in Packers' first postseason game, vs. Atlanta Falcons (Dec. 31), then was inactive for ensuing two playoff games...Drafted in the sixth round (185th overall) by Buffalo in 1995.

54 RON COX

Linebacker
Fresno State 7th year
Ht: 6-2 Wt: 235 Born: 3/29/68 Acq: UFA-96

PRO: Anticipated to be the Packers' answer at middle linebacker, a position left vacant when '95 starter Fred Strickland departed for Dallas via free agency...Instinctive playmaker whose enthusiasm for the game is apparent...Is a strong, physical player with the intelligence to make all of the team's calls...Signed by Green Bay as an unrestricted free agent on March 29...Though the Bears had a negotiated right-of-first-refusal clause under Cox's expired contract, they elected not to match the offer on April 4 and he became a Packer...Spent his first six seasons in the NFL with Chicago...Originally was a second-round draft choice of the Bears in 1990 after a stellar collegiate career at Fresno State which saw him make 231 tackles, including a school-record 50 sacks, in only three seasons..."When we looked at Ron Cox on tape, immediately we identified him as a guy we would like to have because of his outstanding ability to be able to make plays," says Fritz Shurmur, Green Bay's defensive coordinator. "He's all football player and he's got the great instincts. He works hard at the game and loves to play football — and it shows when you watch him play. He plays it with enthusiasm, he plays it physically and he's got some athletic ability to go with that — and toughness — so we like that a lot."...Veteran of 82 career games played, including 20 starts...Has made 245 tackles as a pro, including 7 sacks, and forced 5 fumbles...Shurmur defies the notion that Cox is an inexperienced linebacker when it comes to playing inside, saying, "That's a little bit of a misconception because in the defense he played in with the Bears he was a 'behind the line' linebacker as opposed to a guy on the line of scrimmage. He was more behind the line than on the line, and that puts it into a very similar position to a middle linebacker. 72 EARL DOTSON

Offensive Tackle
Texas A&I 4th year
Ht: 6-3½ Wt: 315 Born: 12/17/70 Acq: D3-93

PRO: Massive Earl Dotson literally climbed the mountain, professionally speaking, in 1995...Faced with what he termed a "do or die" situation when training camp opened, the mountainous Texan responded by not only entrenching himself as the starter at offensive right tackle but proceeding to earn postseason description as a potential Pro Bowl performer...Packers offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis, paying enthusiastic tribute to Dotson's turnaround in looking to the 1996 campaign, said, "Earl had a super season. After we went through our scheme evaluations and watched all the plays — all our running game and passing game — we really felt that he had an outstanding year. Very seldom did he get beat — and last year was his first year starting. We didn't expect him to be as good as he was last year. We thought that might be a problem, but he handled it well. He handled his weight — the problem he had earlier in his career. That's over. He's in great shape. He's just a good technician, a tough kid. He's a battler. And he's going to get better — he's still very young."...Green Bay offensive line coach Tom Lovat, in assessing Dotson's quantum leap, was equally upbeat about his 25-year-old protege, saying, "Earl made mistakes a first-year guy would make, but he also made great improvement. If he continues, he could be our best offensive lineman this year."...Addressing whether 'Big E' has the wherewithal to become a Pro Bowl lineman, Lovat asserted, "He sure does. He's got the feet, the strength and the timing. He's our best drive blocker. He comes off the ball with what we call a flat back. He has a lot of snap."...Dotson, who had played in only four games as a second-year pro in part because of an elbow injury, says in explanation of his salutary renaissance, "I just started taking the game more seriously. It was do or die for me. I pretty much had to come in and prove myself. I finally realized that to make it, I had to make it in the weight room, then, bring it on the field. The offseason is one of the most important times of a player's career."...1995: Started all 16 regular-season games plus the team's three playoff contests at right tackle after shedding 15 pounds during an offseason weight-reduction program to enhance his quickness and endurance...Prevented a possible touchdown at Cleveland (Nov. 19) when he chased down the Browns' Tim Goad — following a Brett Favre fumble — and tackled him at the Packers' 28-yard line; Cleveland eventually had to settle for a field goal on the drive...Also made a crunching, key block on the Lions' Robert Porcher on a reverse that enabled Robert Brooks to gain 21 yards in a win over Detroit (Oct. 15)...Later left Lions contest in the fourth quarter after straining his left calf...Though not at full strength, he started and played the entire game in the Packers' win over Minnesota the following week (Oct. 22)...Earlier posted a fine performance at Chicago (Sept. 11) when he was lined up against the Bears' formidable Alonzo Spellman, even as he was playing through a painful elbow injury in the second half (the same elbow he had dislocated one year earlier)...Started his first NFL game vs. the St. Louis Rams (Sept. 3) in Green Bay's regular-season inaugural when he opened at right tackle...1994: Had his season abbreviated by an early injury, suffering a dislocated right elbow vs. Tampa Bay (Sept. 25) when he lined up as an eligible receiver on a short-yardage play...Subsequently was inactive for Packers' final 12 regular-season games after seeing action in each of the first four contests, playing primarily on special teams...Saw most extensive action of the year with offense at Philadelphia (Sept. 18) when starting right tackle Paul Hutchins left game with a knee injury...Returned to practice, after recovering from the elbow problem, in latter portion of year...Was the backup to Joe Sims at right tackle when Sims suffered a left foot sprain vs. New England in preseason finale...Had been scheduled to start regular-season opener vs. Vikings the following week (Sept. 4), but sprained his ankle in practice the week prior to the game and gave way to Hutchins...Inactive for both playoff games...1993: Played in 13 games as a rookie, almost exclusively on special teams...Inactive for other three games with foot sprain, incurred at Dallas (Oct. 3)...Returned to action at Kansas City (Nov. 8) and played in every game thereafter...Was primary backup to Sims over final four regular-season games after starting right tackle Tootie Robbins suffered a season-ending triceps injury at Chicago on Dec. 5...Also saw reserve action in both playoff games...Third-round draft choice (81st overall) of Green Bay in 1993.

COLLEGE: Two-year starter (1991-92) at Texas A&I after transferring from Tyler (Texas) Junior College...First-team All-America selection by NFL Draft Report, Associated Press, Football Gazette and Kodak in 1992...Also was a unanimous All-Lone Star Conference first-team pick, winning 'Lineman of the Year' recognition...Did not give up a sack the entire '92 season, he also did not allow any tackles by his opponent in six games...Was not penalized for holding or offside in any contest his senior season while registering 78 knockdown blocks as the Javelinas' ground game ranked 11th in the nation, averaging 262.5 yards per game...Also won all-conference selection in 1991...Majored in sociology.

4 BRETT FAVRE

Quarterback

Southern Mississippi 6th year

Ht: 6-2 Wt: 225 Born: 10/10/69 Acq: T-92

PRO: Reigned as professional football's premier field general as the 1995 NFL season ended, coming off a classically productive, hallmark campaign which brought him consensus acclaim as the National Football League's Most Valuable Player...Earned the first such distinction for a Packer player since 1966, when fellow quarterback Bart Starr was so honored, throwing for 4,413 yards and 38 touchdowns to lead the NFL in both major categories and escort Green Bay to its first NFC Central Division championship since 1972...His primacy at the position was underscored when he also was named the starter for the NFC in the Pro Bowl and was a first-team selection on the Associated Press All-Pro team (he was the leading vote-getter on offense, receiving votes on 86 of 88 ballots)...In the wake of these memorable accomplishments, the personable Mississippian finds himself facing a new and major challenge off the field in the year ahead, after coming forward in the offseason (May 14) to acknowledge a substance abuse problem and voluntarily entering a clinic for treatment on a self-referral basis the next day...Returned to Green Bay July 3 — five days after completing a 45-day stay at the Menninger Clinic in Topeka, Kan. — to prepare for the 1996 season — with a solid vote of confidence from General Manger Ron Wolf..."We expect him to come back in excellent shape, mentally and physically, and have the same kind of year (as in '95)," Wolf said of Favre, calling Number 4 "as exciting a player as ever graced Lambeau Field, or any field in the NFL, for that matter."...Both on the hallowed turf of "Lambeau" and on the road, the 26-year-old Favre had consistently justified Wolf's glowing appraisal during the 1995 season...His 38 touchdown passes, a club record, represented the third-highest single-season total in the league's 76-year history and the most ever by an NFC quarterback...Only the Miami Dolphins' Dan Marino, who posted 48 in 1984 and 44 in 1986, has had more...Also, his 38 TDs, combined with 1994's 33 scoring strikes, marks only the fifth time in NFL history a quarterback has thrown 30-or-more touchdown passes in consecutive seasons (Marino, 3 consecutive years, 1984-86; Y.A. Tittle 1962-63; Dan Fouts 1980-81; and Steve Bartkowski 1980-81)...Favre's 4,413 passing yards also rank second in Packer annals only to the 4,458 recorded by Lynn Dickey in 1983, and his 359 completions have been surpassed only by his own club record of 363, set in 1994...These imposing numbers prompted Green Bay offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis to acknowledge, "Brett had a fantastic year. I think he'll get better, too. People ask me, how's the offense going to improve, and I think even though the numbers might not be there — you never know if he's going to throw 30-some touchdown passes — but I think he'll get better in his reads and his decision-making and his technique a little bit. He's the leader of the team and that's where it all starts. We're anticipating a great season from him, and there are things he can improve on — he knows it — and I think he will."...Fearless, daring and resourceful, Favre possesses a major intangible that sets him apart from many of his fellow field generals — the ability to rally a team from behind to victory...He has maneuvered his team from a fourth-quarter deficit or tie to win no fewer than 10 games over his four-year career as a starter — three times in 1992, four times in 1993, twice in 1994 and once in 1995...Has led Green Bay to four straight winning seasons and three consecutive playoff berths...Statistically, after four highly productive years, Favre enters the '96 season as the fourth-highest rated passer in NFL history with a career passer rating of 86.8 — behind only Steve Young (96.1), Joe Montana (92.3) and Marino (88.4)...Also, in 1995, became the third-fastest quarterback in NFL history to throw 100 career TD passes — accomplishing the feat in 62 games — only Marino (44) and Johnny Unitas (53) did it faster...Further testament to Favre's scoring production, his 71 TD passes over the past two seasons (with only 27 interceptions) easily outdistance his nearest counterparts' numbers: 55 of Young and 54 of Marino...The owner of a 37-24 regular-season record as a starting quarterback, he also currently is the most durable field general on the NFL scene, having started 61 consecutive games dating back to Game 4 of the 1992 season, when he took over for Don Majkowski as the team's starter...Continues to hold Green Bay's all-time passing efficiency record, which he originally appropriated from Starr in 1993, with a 62.56 mark on 1,342 completions in 2,145 attempts...The first Packer to lead the NFL in touchdown passes since Dickey did so in 1983 with 32, he now ranks third in career TD passes in team history with 108, behind only Starr (152) and Dickey (133)...Moved past Majkowski (10,970) and Tobin Rote (11,535) into third place last year on Packers' career passing yards list with 14,825 yards...Now trails only Starr (24,718) and Dickey (21,369)...With seven 300-yard passing games last season, raised his career total to 12, moving past Starr (five) and Majkowski (nine) on club's all-time list...He now stands behind only the 15 of Dickey...Has had third- and fourth-best single-season touchdown-to-interception ratios in team history over the last two years, 2.92 TDs for every 1 INT in 1995 after 2.36 to 1 in '94, ranking behind only Starr's 1966 and '64 campaigns (4.67 to 1 and 3.75 to 1, respectively)...Has compiled remarkable record since midway point in 1994 season, throwing 61 touchdown passes compared to only 20 interceptions during 24-game span...1995 HONORS: Selected to start in the Pro Bowl after two earlier appearances (1992, '93) as a reserve...Earned NFL 'Most Valuable Player' awards from the Associated Press, Professional Football Writers of America, Pro Football Weekly and Sports Illustrated...Named 'Player of the Year' by The Sporting News, Football Digest, Miller Lite, the Maxwell Club and the Touchdown Club of Columbus...Selected as Pro Football 'Performer of the Year' by ESPN's ESPY Awards...Named league 'Offensive Player of the Year' by AP, Pro Football Weekly, College & Pro Football Newsweekly and The Newspaper Enterprise Association...Selected NFC 'Player of the Year' by Football News and the Touchdown Club of Columbus...Also named NFC 'Offensive Player of the Year' by United Press International and the Kansas City Committee of 101...Received first-team All-Pro honors from AP, College & Pro Football Newsweekly, Football Digest, Pro Football Weekly/PFWA, TSN, Sports Illustrated and USA Today...Garnered 'All-NFC' honors from Football News and UPI...Honored as 'Wisconsin Sports Person of the Year' by Wisconsin Sports Authority/Milwaukee Pen & Mike Club...1995: Became only the third 4,000-yard passer in team history after a 308-yard performance at New Orleans (Dec. 16)...Finished the season with NFL-best 4,413 passing yards, second-highest total in team history and only 45 yards shy of Dickey's team record 4,458 (1983)...Earlier, became the first player in team history to post four 3,000-yard passing seasons, achieved in four consecutive seasons...Established a new team record with seven 300-yard passing games, breaking Majkowski's previous record of six in 1989...Led the NFC (and was second in the NFL) with a 99.5 passer rating — only the Colts' Jim Harbaugh with a 100.7 rating had better...Paced the NFC in third-down passing with a 103.8 passer rating...Threw three-or-more TD passes in seven games and for at least 4 TD passes in three games...Had thrown at least one touchdown pass in 17 straight games dating back to Week 8 of '94 — the second-longest string in club annals, behind only the 22 of Cecil Isbell (1941-42) — until streak was snapped at Minnesota (Nov. 5)...Also had thrown at least two touchdown passes in 12 consecutive games, equaling the NFL record also held by Unitas (1959), Don Meredith (1965-66) and Marino (1986-87), until the string ended at Dallas (Oct. 8)...Finished the season with the third-lowest single-season interception percentage (2.28) in team annals, behind only the 1.20 and 1.47 of Starr in 1966 and 1964, respectively...Started all 16 games for third straight season, plus all three of the team's playoff contests...Rebounded from an ankle injury at Minnesota (Nov. 5) to complete 70.3 percent of his passes (166-236) in the ensuing seven games for 2,046 yards and 21 touchdowns, with only 2 interceptions — an imposing passer rating of 123.0...Tied for team lead with his career-best 3 rushing scores...Turned in gutty performance in leading Packers to their division-clinching, 24-19 victory over Pittsburgh (Dec. 24) when, despite having to stop twice during the game after getting the wind knocked out of him, he threw for 301 yards and 2 touchdowns...On one sequence, he was hit hard by three Steeler defenders while scrambling on a play; the Packers called a timeout and Favre, who coughed up blood on the sidelines during a break in the action, returned to throw a 1-yard scoring pass to tight end Mark Chmura on the following play...Threw 4 TD passes — all in the first half — in the Packers' 34-23 win at New Orleans (Dec. 16)...Completed 21 of 38 passes for 308 yards against the Saints...Had 287 yards passing and 1 touchdown with 1 interception — completing 27 of 46 passes — in rematch at Tampa Bay (Dec. 10)...Threw his first interception in 126 attempts when the Bengals' Corey Sawyer picked off a pass late in the fourth quarter vs. Cincinnati (Dec. 3) but still led Packers to 24-10 win over the Bengals, throwing for 339 yards and 3 touchdowns while completing a season-high 31 passes (in 43 attempts)...Named NFC 'Offensive Player of the Month' for December, passing for 1,233 yards on 102 completions in 151 attempts with 10 TDs and only 2 INTs (109.0 passer rating) in leading Green Bay to three victories during the month...Had a stellar outing vs. Tampa Bay (Nov. 26), completing 16 of 24 passes for 267 yards and 3 TDs...Led the Packers to a tough road win at Cleveland (Nov. 19) when, despite still being limited with an ankle injury, he passed for 3 touchdowns and ran for another...Completed 23 of 28 passes for 210 yards against Browns for a career-best 82.1 completion percentage...Had arguably his best performance as a professional in a rematch with Chicago (Nov. 12) when, not knowing until late in the week if he was even going to play due to a severely sprained ankle from the week before, he threw for a career-high and team-record tying 5 touchdown passes to lead the Packers to a key 35-28 victory over the Bears — the 10th game-winning comeback of his pro career...Subsequently was named NFC 'Offensive Player of the Week' (for the second time in four weeks) after completing 25 of 33 passes for 336 yards with no interceptions against Chicago, giving him a career-high single-game passer rating of 147.2...His 5 TD passes share a team record held by Isbell (1942), Don Horn (1969) and Dickey (who accomplished the feat in 1981 and '83)...Had suffered a severely sprained left ankle late in second quarter of rematch at Minnesota one week earlier (Nov. 5) — an injury which later would require offseason surgery (Feb. 27, 1996) to remove several bone chips and one large spur...Left Vikings game for the remainder of the first half, then played three series in the second half before the injury hindered his play and he gave way to Ty Detmer...Completed 17 of 30 passes for 177 yards with 2 interceptions against Minnesota...Had a string of 113 consecutive pass attempts without an interception ended when the Lions' Willie Clay picked off his second pass of the game (Oct. 29)...Had a bittersweet outing in the Silverdome, throwing for 304 yards and 1 TD (a 77-yarder to Robert Brooks) but was intercepted 3 times...Saluted as NFL's recipient of the 'Extra Effort Award' for the month of October...Earned his first-ever NFC 'Offensive Player of the Week' honor with an outstanding performance in initial game with Minnesota (Oct. 22), tying a then-career high with 4 touchdown passes (the third time in his career he had accomplished that feat) in leading the Packers to a 38-21 win...Completed 22 of 43 passes for 295 yards without an interception against the Vikings...Led Packers to a win over Detroit (Oct. 15), when he threw for a season-best 342 yards (fourth-highest total of his career) and 2 TDs on 23 of 34 passing...Triggered a valiant comeback attempt at Dallas (Oct. 8), when he rushed for a career-high 2 TDs and threw for another score to rally the Packers from a 21-point, second-half deficit to within seven at 31-24 with 8:13 remaining in the game...Completed 21 of 41 passes for 295 yards vs. the Cowboys...Led the Packers to a win at Jacksonville (Sept. 24), passing for 202 yards and 2 TDs, completing 20 of 30 passes while rushing for 39 net yards, including a career-best 40-yard run...Had a solid game in win over the N.Y. 86 ANTONIO FREEMAN

Virginia Tech 2nd year

Ht: 6-0½ Wt: 190 Born: 5/27/72 Acq: D3d-95

PRO: Instinctive, big-play type receiver who will challenge for a more prominent role in the offense this year after a rookie season which saw him make his mark on special teams as a quality return man and contribute somewhat as a pass catcher...Became more and more involved with the offense as the '95 campaign progressed...Makes sound decisions on the field..."Antonio has a good feel for working in the open field," says Gil Haskell, Green Bay's wide receivers coach. "Some guys don't have that feel — he does. I see good things for him. I think he's a real receiver. There's speed guys, there's track guys, but he's a real receiver."...Ironically enough, it is his experience on special teams which makes Freeman a better receiver, according to Haskell..."I think his ability to return punts has helped him see the field when he plays the game," Haskell explains. "And when he catches the ball, he doesn't catch it and just go down. He catches the ball and tries to score a touchdown. He's got great peripheral vision to know where people are around him so he can get away from them."...1995: Got opportunity early in his rookie season to contribute as a return man after incumbent Charles Jordan was hampered by shoulder and knee injuries, he never really relinquished the role...Subsequently became more involved in the offense as the year went on, seeing regular duty in four receiver formations by the time the playoffs rolled around...Twice was named NFL 'Special Teams Player of the Week' during the playoffs as a result of his performances against Atlanta (Dec. 31) and at Dallas in the NFC Championship Game (Jan. 14)...Broke open close playoff game with Falcons by returning a Dan Stryzinski punt 76 yards for a touchdown midway through the second quarter — the first-ever scoring return of either a punt or kickoff in Green Bay's storied postseason history...Also had 2 kickoff returns for 54 yards vs. Atlanta, including a 42-yarder right after the Falcons had scored a quick touchdown for an early 7-0 lead...Totaled 202 return yards in Cowboys contest — 7 for 148 yards on kickoffs and 4 for 54 yards on punts...His 39-yard punt return late in the first quarter of NFC title game triggered a Green Bay touchdown three plays later which gave the Packers a 17-14 advantage...One week earlier had made a favorable impression as a receiver at San Francisco (Jan. 6), catching 2 passes for first downs on opening drive of 27-17 triumph over 49ers...Led team and finished fifth in the NFC in kickoff returns with a 23.2-yard average (24 returns for 556 yards)...Set club rookie record with 37 punt returns (for 292 yards)...Ranked 10th in conference with 7.9-yard average returning punts...Also caught 8 passes for 106 yards and 1 touchdown...Made 2 receptions vs. the N.Y. Giants (Sept. 17) in his initial league game...Scored his first touchdown in the NFL at New Orleans (Dec. 16) when he caught an 11-yard pass from Brett Favre late in the second quarter among his career-best 3 receptions...Also averaged 27.3 yards on 3 kickoff returns vs. Saints...Provided Packers with great field position in key, 35-28 win over Chicago (Nov. 12) with a 26-yard punt return in the first quarter and a 45-yard kickoff return in the third period — both runbacks set up a Green Bay touchdown on the very next play...Averaged an impressive 35.3 yards on 3 kickoff returns in same Bears contest...Saw action in 11 regular-season games as a reserve, was inactive for four contests and did not play in another...Played in all three postseason games, making his first career start in NFC Championship Game at Dallas (Jan. 14) when Packers opened in four wide receiver formation...Caught 4 passes for 43 yards in the playoffs, he also averaged 14.3 yards returning punts (10-143) and 23.2 yards returning kickoffs (11-255)...Had enjoyed a tremendous preseason, leading club with 10 receptions and averaging 12.4 yards per punt return...Was the last of four third-round draft choices (90th overall pick and 9th wide receiver) by Green Bay in 1995.

COLLEGE: Three-year starter and four-time letterman (1991-94) at Virginia Tech...Was redshirted in 1990...Departed as Hokies' all-time leader in receptions with 121 (for 2,207 yards)...Also set school record with 22 career receiving touchdowns — 11 of which went for 45 yards or more...Established himself as one of the country's top punt returners in his final collegiate season...Was team leader in catches each of his last three years...Earned All-Big East second-team honors as both a wide receiver and punt returner in 1994, when he caught a career-best 38 passes for 586 yards and 5 TDs...Led conference and finished sixth nationally in punt returns as a senior, setting a school single-season record for yardage with 467 on 39 returns (12.0 avg.)...Returned a punt 80 yards for a touchdown in '94 game against Pittsburgh...Made 32 receptions for 644 yards as a junior, including a Tech single-season record 9 touchdown catches...Set Big East one-game record with 194 receiving yards vs. Temple, he also equalled school mark with 3 TD receptions in same contest...Was a third-team pick on 'Sophomore All-America' squad of Football News in 1992...Averaged a school-record 22.0 yards per catch (32 receptions for 703 yards and 6 touchdowns)...Became just second player in Tech history to catch 3 touchdown passes of 60-plus yards in one season; included in that group was an 83-yard score against West Virginia...Finished third on team in receptions in 1991 with 19 for 274 yards and 2 TDs...Holds B.S. degree in human resources.

PERSONAL: Given name Antonio Michael Freeman...Nicknamed 'Free' and 'Buttons'...Born in Baltimore...Single...Named prep 'Offensive Player of the Year' by the Baltimore Sun and was an honorable mention on USA Today All-America team as a 1989 senior at Polytechnic High School in Baltimore, his team went 10-0 that year, won the Maryland Group A title and was ranked 23rd in the nation...Averaged 23 yards per reception during his senior season, when he caught 47 passes for 1,079 yards and 9 touchdowns...Lettered twice in football as a wide receiver and cornerback, he also won two letters in basketball...Hobbies include music and basketball...Residence: Baltimore.

55 BERNARDO HARRIS

Linebacker

North Carolina 2nd year

Ht: 6-2 Wt: 243 Born: 10/15/71 Acq: FA-95

PRO: Quiet and unassuming, is a promising young athlete who could challenge for the starting middle linebacker spot in his second NFL season...Possessor of all the necessary physical skills, is an equally capable player at either inside or outside linebacker...Played almost exclusively on special teams last year, save for two games when injuries spontaneously thrust him into the lineup...Had battled through a broken arm in training camp to make the team's 53-man roster as a virtually unknown free agent..."We've got a lot of aspirations for this guy," says Fritz Shurmur, Green Bay's defensive coordinator. "We think he's going to be a tremendous linebacker. He has excellent instincts, speed, athletic ability, toughness and all that, and the only question in our mind is can he stay away from injuries. And he needs to be more self-assertive, he needs to take charge more. If one of our starters were to get injured, he'd be the first guy in there."...1995: Saw action in 11 regular-season games plus all three postseason contests, mostly in a special teams capacity...Received his most extensive defensive action of the season at Cleveland (Nov. 19) when starting middle linebacker Fred Strickland left the game in the first quarter due to a knee injury...Responded to the challenge by posting a career-high 4 tackles vs. the Browns...Also got prolonged duty at middle linebacker three weeks later at Tampa Bay (Dec. 10), playing in Joe Kelly's stead in the first half after Kelly shifted outside to replace an injured George Koonce (wrist)...Ranked seventh on the team in special teams tackles with 11, including 2 vs. Detroit (Oct. 15), Chicago (Nov. 12) and New Orleans (Dec. 16)...Blocked a John Jett punt on opening series at Dallas in NFC Championship Game (Jan. 14), leading to a Chris Jacke field goal...Had played in Packers' first three preseason games, performing well, until fracturing his left arm in the third, Aug. 19 vs. Indianapolis...Subsequently was inactive for each of Green Bay's first four regular-season contests...Got first playing time in the NFL on Oct. 8 vs. Cowboys at Texas Stadium, he made 1 special teams tackle that day...Later was inactive in finale against Pittsburgh (Dec. 24) due to a lingering ankle sprain originally suffered three weeks earlier vs. Cincinnati...Had joined the Packers on Jan. 13, 1995, as a free agent...1994: Originally signed by the Kansas City Chiefs on June 2, 1994, as an undrafted free agent, he subsequently was waived in training camp (Aug. 5) and spent the remainder of the season out of football.

COLLEGE: Two-year starter and four-time letterman (1990-93) at North Carolina...Finished his collegiate career with 224 tackles (117 solo), including 15 for loss and 7 sacks, as an outside linebacker...Also recorded 2 forced fumbles, 2 fumble recoveries and 1 interception...Was a second-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference selection as a senior when he had 85 tackles and 4½ sacks...Made a career-high 90 stops his junior season, the most by a Tar Heel outside linebacker since Lawrence Taylor had posted 95 in 1979...Posted a career-best 18 stops in 1992 game with Army...Majored in physical education.

PERSONAL: Given name Bernardo Jamaine Harris...Born in Chapel Hill, N.C. ...Married to Kellie, couple has a son, Bradley (born 5/4/94)...Was an all-area and all-conference tight end and linebacker at Chapel Hill (N.C.) High School...As a senior, had 115 tackles and 4 interceptions at linebacker and caught 10 passes for 300 yards and 5 touchdowns at tight end...Earned three letters in football and one in basketball...Hobbies include playing basketball and Nintendo...Residence: Chapel Hill, N.C.

30 WILLIAM HENDERSON

Fullback

North Carolina 2nd year

Ht: 6-1½ Wt: 248 Born: 2/19/71 Acq: D3b-95

PRO: Classic bruising fullback who is expected to push incumbent Dorsey Levens for the team's starting job in 1996...Had similar opportunity short-circuited as a '95 rookie after he suffered a knee injury early in training camp...Still received significant playing time, frequently rotating into offense as a powerful run blocker..."I think he's going to have an excellent year," says Harry Sydney, coach of the Green Bay running backs. "By the end of last year he was doing the things that we drafted him for. And now this year hopefully we're going to put the ball in his hands more, to let him run the ball and catch the ball, so we'll see that he's not just a blocker, he's an all-around fullback."...Rebounded from early setback of knee injury to become one of Packers' most effective blockers by season's end, earning high regard from opposition defenders in the process..."I think the injury hurt him quite a bit," Sydney recalls. "In this offense with a fullback — and I can say this because I ran this offense as a fullback — the first year or so is slow because there's so many little things that you have to know. It's not just about who you have to block, but about how you have to block them and how you fit into the play. At the end of the season, though, put it this way, he was getting respect throughout the league. When they see him line up back there and there's a linebacker looking across, they're saying, 'Oh my goodness, here he comes,' so he's getting that respect. Now he just has to be a little bit more under control, size his target up a little more, just be a veteran."...Earlier had demonstrated in college a clear ability to run productively inside the tackles...1995: Played in final 15 regular-season games, including first NFL start in finale vs. Pittsburgh (Dec. 24)...Had been inactive for opener vs. St. Louis (Sept. 3) while rehabbing from arthroscopic knee surgery...Finished rookie campaign fourth on the team in rushing with 35 yards on 7 carries, he also caught 3 passes for 21 yards...Missed all four preseason games after suffering torn cartilage in his left knee Aug. 1 in a training camp practice...Subsequently had knee scoped on Aug. 9...Turned in career-long 17-yard run on his first professional carry, Sept. 24 at Jacksonville...Got extensive playing time Oct. 8 at Dallas as usual starter Levens was inactive due to a knee injury...Turned in banner blocking effort Nov. 19 at Cleveland, often going head-to-head with Browns LB Pepper Johnson...Saw reserve duty in all three playoff games...Caught 1 pass for 4 yards in Atlanta postseason contest (Dec. 31) and rushed once for 2 yards at Dallas in NFC Championship Game (Jan. 14)...Regularly played at fullback in short-yardage and goal-line situations with Levens moving to halfback...Was the second of four third-round draft choices (66th overall) by Green Bay in 1995.

17 CRAIG HENTRICH

Punter

Notre Dame 3rd year

Ht: 6-3 Wt: 200 Born: 5/18/71 Acq: FA-93

PRO: Self-effacing and unflappable, is quietly and quickly emerging as one of the National Football League's preeminent punters...Sound in his technique, an attribute vital late in the season in Green Bay, appears to have a long and productive professional career in front of him...Complementing his 41.7-yard career average, he already has put 50 punts 'inside the 20' after only two seasons...Continued to perform well early in the 1995 season despite blocking breakdowns which led to two blocked punts and regularly erratic punt snaps which would have shaken many punters...Able to give the coverage team ample opportunity to make the tackle by effectively combining excellent hang time with good distance...Also adept at punting the ball out of bounds..."Technically, Craig is very good," says Nolan Cromwell, the Packers' special teams coach. "Plus, he's so versatile — he can do a lot of things. Mentally, he's very strong. When people rush us, things of that nature, that doesn't bother him at all. He knows what he has to do, he knows he has to get it out quickly. And he knows where the rush is coming from."...Skilled in multiple areas, was a last-minute choice to handle kickoffs for the Packers in '95 after Chris Jacke suffered a strained hamstring in final week of training camp...Kicked off so well early in the year that Jacke was unable to wrest those responsibilities away from him six weeks later when he was healthy...Even filled in on an emergency basis as the team's field goal kicker for two-and-a-half games when Jacke was sidelined after aggravating the hamstring injury in Week 2 contest at Chicago..."Craig's kickoffs, for not doing it in training camp or really even practicing it much, he performed very, very well," Cromwell says. "I think his kickoffs were a strength for us as far as coverage. He has the ability to kick the ball into the end zone, deep into the end zone when he hits it well, plus he gives us hang time. His kickoffs were consistently inside the five-yard line, which was an improvement for us and a contributing factor in our good coverage. It's also a great situation for the team to have a guy, that if something does happen to the kicker, you've got a guy who can go in and be a good field goal kicker — not just a backup, somebody to fill in. That's because he did it in college."...Watched his career make a decided upward turn midway through the 1994 season, his initial campaign as the Packers' punter after a year on the club's practice squad...Was well-versed as both a kicker and punter upon entering the pro ranks in 1993, having handled both responsibilities as a collegian at Notre Dame...1995: Began to quietly establish himself as one of the league's top punters...Contributed throughout season in dual role of punter and kickoff specialist...Also capably filled in as team's field goal kicker for two-and-a-half games early in the year while Jacke was sidelined by a strained hamstring...Continued in his duties as the Packers' holder for field goal and PAT tries when not attempting them himself...Turned in second-best gross punting average (42.2 yards) by a Green Bay punter over the past decade to rank seventh in the NFC...Punted a team-record 26 times 'inside the 20' (the NFL began keeping the stat in 1976), a total which also was good for third in the conference...Had only 7 touchbacks as a punter...Put 24 of his 74 kickoffs into the end zone, 9 resulting in touchbacks (12.2%)...Stepped in with a clutch performance Sept. 11 at Chicago when, after Jacke had re-injured his hamstring on a second-quarter PAT try, he calmly kicked field goals of 32 and 38 yards — the first field goals of his NFL career and the first since he was a collegian at Notre Dame, where he handled both duties — in 27-24 win...Had an especially busy afternoon the next week vs. the N.Y. Giants (Sept. 17), punting a season-high 9 times (for a 43.3-yard average) and hammering home 2 extra point attempts in a 14-6 victory...Included in his 9 punts against New York were a career-high 4 'inside the 20' and a season-long 61-yard boot...Had a season-best 49.0-yard average on 4 punts the following Sunday night at Jacksonville, in addition to a career-long 49-yard field goal and 3 PATs in 24-14 win over Jaguars...Landed 3 punts 'inside the 20' in the team's next game, Oct. 8 at Dallas, he also put 3 of his 5 kickoffs into the end zone vs. the Cowboys, including 2 for touchbacks...Had a career-best 3 touchbacks among his 7 kickoffs Oct. 15 vs. Detroit...Later had 3 of his 6 kickoffs go for touchbacks in upset victory at San Francisco in the playoffs (Jan. 6)...Punted 3 times for a 48.0-yard average at Dallas in NFC Championship Game (Jan. 14)...Posted a sparkling 41.0-yard net average in first-round playoff win over Atlanta (Dec. 31)...Over course of playoffs, punted 12 times for 42.5- and 37.0-yard gross and net averages, respectively...Had a 48.9-yard average on 7 punts, including a 60-yarder and 2 'inside the 20,' in the season opener vs. St. Louis (Sept. 3), but did have the first punt blocked of his NFL career...Made 3 tackles (2 solo) on special teams over course of season...Did not handle kickoff duties during second half of Minnesota rematch (Nov. 5) due to a sore toe...Played in all 16 regular-season games plus all three of the team's postseason contests...1994: Beat out incumbent Bryan Wagner in training camp for the punting job...Went on to be one of NFL's top punters over last half of year, averaging 45.5 yards per punt in final eight regular-season games (31 punts for 1,411 yards)...Ended season with 24 punts 'inside the 20' — then a team record, but which he subsequently surpassed in 1995 — to rank fifth in the NFC...Finished in a tie for seventh in conference punting overall with a 41.4-yard gross average...Net average of 35.5 (also seventh in NFC) was second-best by a Packer punter since league started compiling stat in '76, exceeded only by Wagner's 36.3-yard net in 1993...His 41.4-yard gross average is bettered by Bucky Scribner alone (41.6 in 1983) since 1955 among rookie or first-year Green Bay punters...Battled through horrific weather conditions at Chicago's Soldier Field Oct. 31 — driving rain and winds of 45-50 miles per hour — to punt 7 times for remarkable 26.7-yard average, each of his first four kicks traveling exactly 27 yards against the wind, a Herculean effort which provided him with a huge confidence boost...Followed up Bears contest by averaging 50.3 yards on 4 punts, including 2 'inside the 20,' vs. Detroit the ensuing Sunday...Named NFC 'Special Teams Player of the Week' for his performance against the N.Y. Jets on Nov. 13, when he punted for career-high gross (54.8 yards) and net (47.3) averages...His punting exploits vs. New York (the team which had drafted him in 1993) included a career-long 70-yarder...Equalled season high of 3 punts "inside the 20" in Thanksgiving Day tilt at Dallas (also had 3 at Vikings and Eagles) among his 6 kicks for 45.7 gross and 41.5 net averages...Had career-high 10 punts Oct. 20 at Minnesota, averaging 46.0 yards...Contributed 2 special teams tackles in the regular season, as well as 2 in the playoffs...Had second-longest punt (62 yards) and second-best gross average (44.0 yards) in Packer postseason history Jan. 8 at Cowboys, a game in which he handled kickoff duties for first time in his career...Sealed 16-12 wild-card playoff victory over Detroit the previous week (Dec. 31) when, with seven seconds remaining, he took an intentional safety by running out back of end zone...Served as placement holder for field goals and PATs while playing in all 16 regular-season games plus both playoff contests...1993: Signed off of Packers' practice squad on Jan. 14 for NFC divisional playoff game at Dallas two days later, but subsequently was inactive...Had spent majority of '93 season on team's practice squad following his training camp release by the Jets (Aug. 24)...Initially joined Green Bay practice squad on Sept. 7...Eighth-round draft choice (200th overall) of New York Jets in 1993.

13 CHRIS JACKE

Kicker

Texas-El Paso 8th year

Ht: 6-0 Wt: 205 Born: 3/12/66 Acq: D6-89

PRO: Arguably the most prolific kicker in the long history of the Green Bay Packers, his personal success has been buttressed by unwavering confidence and mental toughness, along with consistency in his kicking...Overcame an early-season hamstring injury in 1995, which caused him to miss two-and-a-half games, to approach his previous stellar form by year's end...Is ideally suited to prosper in the haggard weather conditions and frozen fields that are typical to northeastern Wisconsin from mid-November on, in large part due to a technically-sound kicking style which minimizes his chances of slipping by not putting a lot of weight on his plant foot...Has the opportunity this year to break a 51-year-old team record, that for most career points, currently held by the legendary Don Hutson, who scored 823 points over an 11-year career (1935-45)...Currently the third-highest scorer in Packer history, Jacke enters the '96 campaign with 706 career points to his credit, 54 points shy of #2 Paul Hornung (760) and 118 points away from surpassing Hutson's total...Already holds 13 Packer records, including most career field goals (152), and is tied for four other club marks (see complete lists at bottom of page 91)...Also possesses three team playoff records, while sharing a fourth with Don Chandler, and is on the verge of three others...Comes into the year as the 10th-most accurate field goal kicker in National Football League history on the basis of a career success rate of 77.16% (152/197) — see end of bio for full list..."I think everybody around the league knows how good of a kicker Chris is," says Nolan Cromwell, the Packers' special teams coach. "I think the past couple years have been below his standards, but I really look for this year to be a great year for him. When he came back from the injury last season, I don't think his focus was as good as it could have been. He might have had a little bit of concern about getting through a few games, making sure the hamstring was still good."...Had not missed a game in his professional career until he sat out in Week 3 of last year after aggravating a training camp hamstring injury the prior Monday at Chicago, ending a streak of 102 straight games played (98 in the regular season, four in the playoffs)...Has 14 career game-winning kicks — successes which provided the eventual winning points — to his credit (10 FGs, 4 PATs), including six as a rookie...Highly successful from inside of 30 yards throughout his career — 64/67 (95.5%)...Possessor of an exemplary mental makeup for a kicker, according to Cromwell, who says, "He's just a very confident guy. Confidence, I think, is 95 percent of kicking. I don't know if I've ever seen Chris get shook up. He takes everything in stride. It's a business for him. He's very precise in what his approach is and the way he works at it."...Had shared the NFL record for most 50-plus yard field goals in one season — 6 in 1993 — until the Falcons' Morten Andersen posted 8 last year...Has six of the 10 longest field goals in team history...Continues to hold No. 2 spot in club history for career field goal percentage (77.16%), bettered only by Hall of Famer Jan Stenerud's 80.82%...Relinquished role as Packers' primary kickoff specialist last year when Craig Hentrich assumed the spot after Jacke's hamstring injury late in the preseason...Expected to battle Hentrich in '96 for those duties, has a career touchback percentage of 12.4%, 52 of his 421 kickoffs having been kicked out of or downed in the end zone..."I expect Chris to challenge for it," says Cromwell of the kickoff responsibilities. "I anticipate that will be one of the things that he really concentrates on. Visiting with him a little bit, he expressed that he felt like that was part of his job. I should add, too, that Chris actually was kicking off better last year before he got hurt than he had in the past."...Led Green Bay in scoring for five straight seasons (1989-93), surpassed in club annals only by Hutson's seven from 1939-45...Had not had a field goal or extra point attempt blocked as a professional until he had one of each batted down in 1994 in his sixth league season...1995: Rebounded to make 13 of his last 15 field goal attempts after missing 4 of his first 8 tries as he returned from a training camp hamstring injury...Became only the third player in Packers' 77-year history to reach 700 career point plateau, when he did so on Dec. 16 at New Orleans with his second field goal of the game...Led the team in scoring for sixth time in his seven pro seasons with 94 points, a total which ranked him 10th among NFC kickers...Converted 17/23 field goal tries and all 43 point after touchdown attempts...Made a key 47-yard field goal early in the fourth quarter vs. Pittsburgh (Dec. 24) to give the Packers a 24-13 lead — forcing Steelers to score a touchdown instead of a field goal — in eventual 24-19 Green Bay victory to clinch NFC Central crown...Kicked second-half field goals of 27 and 26 yards to extend Packers' lead from 21-10 to 27-10 in eventual 27-17 triumph at San Francisco in divisional playoffs (Jan. 6)...Had successful FG tries of 46 and 37 yards in NFC Championship Game at Dallas (Jan. 14)...Was Packers' scoring leader in the postseason with 25 points, including 5/7 on field goal attempts...Hit a season-long 51-yarder at Tampa Bay (Dec. 10)...Made 3 field goals of 40-plus yards (42, 50, 46) Nov. 5 at Minnesota in perhaps his best performance of the season...Also handled second-half kickoff duties in same Vikings contest as Hentrich was experiencing a sore toe...Equalled season high with 3 field goals in each Detroit game...Originally pulled the hamstring in his left (plant) leg on Aug. 23, two days prior to the team's preseason finale with Washington...Subsequently re-injured the hamstring on his third PAT effort Sept. 11 at Chicago...Was inactive the following Sunday vs. the N.Y. 53 GEORGE KOONCE

East Carolina 5th year

Ht: 6-1 Wt: 243 Born: 10/15/68 Acq: FA-92

PRO: Of humble NFL beginnings — he was cut by the Atlanta Falcons as an undrafted player in 1991, then played in the World League before joining the Packers as an obscure free agent in '92 — George Koonce now has entrenched himself as the second-longest tenured player on the Green Bay defense behind only LeRoy Butler...Following two straight seasons (1993-94) as a consistent playmaker, saw his performance level dip last year...Working hard to ensure a return to his pre-'95 form, enjoyed a great 1996 offseason and appears poised for a rebound in his production..."I think George has demonstrated that he is really ready to have a good year," says Fritz Shurmur, the Packers' defensive coordinator. "I think he's had a great offseason. He's in great shape. He came into the first mini-camp really ready to go. Last year, due to some contractual things and things of that nature, he did not have, I think, the kind of offseason that he would like to have had. And as a result it caused him to have a little bit of a slow start. We look for him to have a great year."...Is one of Green Bay's superior free agent "finds" of recent seasons, having been discovered on the worst team in the World League by the Packers' player personnel department in 1992...Extremely versatile, has played every linebacker position during his four previous seasons in Green Bay..."He's a playmaker and a guy who has excellent athletic ability," adds Shurmur. "He works hard at his job and is a real team player. I think he's ready to move toward being one of the top linebackers in the league."...Has the most NFL starts (57) among the Packers' linebackers...1995: Started all 16 games for second straight year, including 14 at 'Plugger' (right outside) linebacker, plus all three playoff contests...Finished fifth on the team in tackles with 84, including 46 solo stops and 1 sack...Also contributed his first NFL interception and 3 passes defensed...Registered a season-best 13 tackles in NFC Championship Game at Dallas (Jan. 14) among his 20 total stops in the postseason...Had 6 tackles and picked off a Warren Moon pass deep in Minnesota territory (Oct. 22), his 12-yard return of the interception to the Vikings' seven-yard line set up a Green Bay touchdown two plays later which staked the Packers to a 14-7 lead in an eventual 38-21 victory...Had recorded 11 stops in regular-season game at Cowboys (Oct. 8)...Made 8 tackles in opener vs. St. Louis (Sept. 3) and at Tampa Bay (Dec. 10), even though he missed a portion of Bucs contest after spraining his left wrist...Registered his lone sack of the year Oct. 29 at Detroit...Had been forced to play some at middle linebacker late in training camp after injuries decimated the team's linebacking corps...1994: Moved into 'Plugger' linebacker position in Green Bay's new 4-3 alignment, a spot vacated when Johnny Holland was forced into retirement by a neck injury, and started all 16 games for first time in his career...Went on to lead Packers in total (119) and solo (78) stops for initial time, posting his second consecutive 100-tackle season in the process...Also weighed in with the first forced fumble and 2 fumble recoveries of his career...Contributed 1 sack and 3 passes defensed additionally...Made a season-high 12 tackles on two occasions — Sept. 18 at Philadelphia and Nov. 20

Georgia Tech 3rd year

Ht: 6-1 Wt: 235 Born: 5/21/70 Acq: D5b-94

PRO: Highly-effective performer last season in his first year as the Packers' starting fullback after seeing minimal playing time as a 1994 rookie...Possesses the ability to easily shift over and play halfback, capably filled role as team's short-yardage runner in '95...Was a regular contributor in the passing game as well last year, he had a reception every game he was in the lineup...Had won starting fullback job with a strong training camp performance..."Dorsey is a good back to have," says Harry Sydney, coach of Green Bay's running backs. "He's a very good all-around back. He is a heck of a ball carrier, and he's an excellent short-yardage and goal-line back. He's a big halfback, but he has halfback mentality. When he's at fullback, he runs a lot of things well, catches the ball well. The thing he has to work on is his blocking. He's at his best when he has the ball in his hands. We're going to work on his blocking a lot this training camp and I expect him to be a very good blocker."...Primarily had been a halfback throughout his career until moving to fullback when he was drafted by the Packers two years ago...1995: Beat out William Henderson in training camp to win the starting fullback job following the offseason move of '94 starter Edgar Bennett to halfback...Played in 15 regular-season games, making 12 starts...Finished third on the team in rushing with 120 yards and 3 touchdowns on 36 carries...Also was club's fourth-ranking receiver with 48 receptions for 434 yards and 4 TDs...Was consistently productive as a receiver, catching at least one pass in every game he played (including playoffs)...Made a career-high 6 receptions (for 50 yards) at Detroit (Oct. 29)...Had a one-yard touchdown catch among his 5 receptions in the Packers' 35-28 win over Chicago (Nov. 12), he also rushed for a career-best 26 yards that day...Scored his first TD of the season on a two-yard plunge at Jacksonville (Sept. 24)...Also caught 4 passes for 49 yards, including a career-long 27-yard reception, against the Jaguars...Had a career-best 2 rushing scores vs. Tampa Bay (Nov. 26)...Was inactive at Dallas (Oct. 8) due to a sprained left knee suffered in practice three days earlier...Played in all three playoff games, starting the first two...Was team's third-leading receiver in the postseason with 7 receptions for 47 yards...Made looping, 18-yard touchdown catch along right sideline midway through the fourth quarter, sealing 37-20 first-round playoff victory over Atlanta (Dec. 31)...Usually moved to halfback (with Henderson coming in at fullback) in goal-line and short-yardage situations...Scored 3 touchdowns (2 rushing, 1 receiving) in preseason finale vs. Redskins (Aug. 25)...1994: Won preseason duel with veteran Dexter McNabb for backup fullback position behind Bennett...Played in Packers' final 14 regular-season games, plus both playoff contests, after having been inactive for the first two games of the year...Saw majority of his action on special teams, but also was utilized periodically as a blocking back for Bennett in short-yardage situations...Carried 5 times for 15 yards during regular season...Had Green Bay's lone touchdown — a three-yard run off left tackle on fourth-and-one to cap Packers' opening drive — in 16-12 wild-card playoff victory over Lions at Lambeau Field (Dec. 31)...Caught 1 pass for 9 yards in his most extensive action of the season, against the N.Y. Jets Nov. 13, when he played the entire second half in place of Bennett, who had left in the second quarter with a bruised knee...One week earlier vs. Detroit also had filled in for Bennett, who missed the fourth quarter due to the recurrence of a shoulder injury, and carried the ball for the first time in his NFL career (3 attempts for 10 yards)...Additionally forced a fumble by Lions' Derrick Moore on kickoff coverage which Green Bay recovered, leading to an early field goal in eventual 38-30 victory...Made a key block for Bennett on his game-winning, one-yard TD run early in the fourth quarter of 24-17 triumph over L.A. Cornerback

Arizona State 2nd year

Ht: 5-11½ Wt: 190 Born: 8/10/71 Acq: D1-95

PRO: A quiet and mature family man at the tender age of 25, this 1995 first-round draft choice of the Packers surpassed the expectations of most people last year...Was Green Bay's starter at left cornerback from the opening day of training camp, never relinquishing the position...Consistently displays excellent work habits on the field, a trait perhaps attributable to the two post-high school years he spent laboring in the hot California sun as a block mason...Aggressive and physical, he routinely demonstrates tackling ability which is on par with his fine coverage skills..."Craig Newsome exceeded, I think, anything we imagined before last season," says Fritz Shurmur, the Packers' defensive coordinator. "We knew he was a good football player. But there's no way to know just how competitive a guy will be until you go through the wars with him. He is absolutely tenacious, a competitor who knows no bounds in terms of work ethic and who, in my opinion, will be a fixture at the left corner position for the Green Bay Packers for a long time. I think he'll make a lot of trips to Hawaii (the Pro Bowl)."...Tested throughout the '95 season, he refused to back down and by year's end had merited selection to several all-rookie teams and established a club rookie record for passes defensed...Along with being a sound fundamental player, has the necessary mental toughness to play cornerback at a high level in the NFL..."He's wired right," Shurmur adds. "He has the kind of mentality that it takes to play out there, the gunslinger kind of thing. 'You're going to take your shots and I'm going to take mine and I'm going to keep coming at you.' And that's the way he plays. He also has physical coverage ability, which makes him a special kind of corner."...1995: Started all 19 games (16 regular season, three in the playoffs) for the Packers at left cornerback...Finished fourth on the team in tackles with 85 (72 solo)...Also had a club rookie record 19 passes defensed, including his first NFL interception Dec. 16 at New Orleans, when he picked off a Jim Everett throw in the end zone...Earned selection to all-rookie teams of Football News and College & Pro Football Newsweekly...Also was named to All-Madden Team by Fox analyst John Madden...Chosen as Packers' 'Rookie of the Year'...Played especially well late in the season and into the playoffs...Made his first pro touchdown particularly memorable and meaningful, when he scooped up an Adam Walker fumble on the 49ers' first play from scrimmage of NFC divisional playoff contest and raced 31 yards into the end zone to give the Packers a 7-0 lead in eventual 27-17 upset win at San Francisco (Jan. 6)...Also had 4 solo tackles and 2 passes defensed, including a late interception of the Niners' Steve Young...Was one of primary Green Bay defenders who established a physical presence to help shut down the 49ers' vaunted passing attack, in part by limiting receiver non-pareil Jerry Rice to virtually no yards after the catch...One week earlier had posted 7 stops and broken up 2 Jeff George throws in first-round postseason victory over Atlanta (Dec. 31)...Ended playoffs with 14 total tackles (13 solo), 1 fumble recovery, 1 interception and 4 passes defensed...Recorded single-game career highs in tackles (13) and passes defensed (5) in 24-19 triumph over Pittsburgh in regular-season finale (Dec. 24)...Had 11 stops plus 2 pass breakups in win over Tampa Bay (Nov. 26)...Two weeks later left nationally-televised Buccaneers rematch early in the second quarter after suffering a concussion...Led team with 7 tackles (all solo) at Cleveland Nov. 19...Limited Herman Moore, the Lions' Pro Bowl wide receiver, to only 3 receptions — this despite 13 throws in his direction — in 30-21 victory over Detroit (Oct. 15)...Also started all four preseason games at left cornerback, leading the team in passes defensed with 3...First-round draft choice (32nd overall and third cornerback, after Panthers' Tyrone Poole and Patriots' Ty Law) by Green Bay in 1995.

COLLEGE: Two-year starter (1993-94) at Arizona State after beginning his collegiate career at San Bernardino (Calif.) Valley Junior College...Recorded 99 tackles (71 solo), 4 interceptions, 14 passes defensed, 2 fumble recoveries and 1 forced fumble for ASU...Was a first-team All-Pacific 10 Conference selection in 1993, when he picked off 4 passes and broke up 12 to go along with 57 tackles (38 solo)...Also was a candidate for the Jim Thorpe Award, given annually to the nation's top defensive back...Missed first four games of his senior season while meeting academic requirements before returning to start Sun Devils' last seven contests at left cornerback...Posted a career-best 12 stops against Washington State...Earlier had been a two-year starter (1991-92) for San Bernadino Valley Junior College...Was a first-team All-Foothill Conference choice and was named as league's 'Most Valuable Defensive Back' in each of his two seasons...Also merited second-team All-America selection in 1992 from JC Gridwire...Set a national junior college record with a 103-yard interception return for a touchdown vs. Riverside City College in '92...Majored in criminal justice.

75 KEN RUETTGERS

Offensive Tackle
Southern California 12th year
Ht: 6-6 Wt: 295 Born: 8/20/62 Acq: D1-85

PRO: The longest continuous starter on Green Bay's offensive line since center Larry McCarren started for 11 straight seasons (1974-84), Ken Ruettgers has been a fixture at left tackle for the last decade (1986-95) after spending his rookie season mostly in a reserve capacity...Also is the longest-tenured player on the Packers' current roster by a wide margin, kicker Chris Jacke, who joined the club four years after him in 1989, being the closest...Already amongst a group of but 10 players who have played on the team's offensive line for 11-or-more seasons (see list at end of bio), is poised to become only the fourth individual in club annals with 12-plus years up front in the trenches — Hall of Famer Forrest Gregg, Charles 'Buckets' Goldenberg and McCarren filling out this impressive quartet...Possessor of 153 career games played, including 139 starts...Also has accumulated seven postseason starts over last three years...Remains one of Green Bay's most valuable players, a fact evidenced by how much his presence was missed in the '95 season opener when he was out due to a back injury...Ever sound in his technique, is an equally dedicated worker in the classroom..."There's nobody in this organization that doesn't appreciate Ken Ruettgers as a left tackle," points out Tom Lovat, the Packers' offensive line coach. "He may not be a Pro Bowl tackle, but he's effective and he's played against the best over a long period of time. I don't think there's any question that he's a leader on our offensive line because of his work ethic and his overall performance over the years. He studies the opponent HARD. He's a real student of the game, he looks at a lot of tape. And then as far as the game plan goes, he knows where he's got to be, how he's got to be, and he's smart enough to know that at this stage in his career he has to start changing up a bit because people study him, too. Rut's always been a worker, but I think now he realizes he's got to push it even harder because if you lose a step, even half a step, that's all it takes in this league. He's aware of that and works hard at it."...A regular starter since the opening game of the 1986 campaign, his second year in the league, he has developed into one of the NFC's better left tackles, in part through his exhaustive preparation...A tireless seeker of perfection, not only does he spend long hours in the weight room, he also thoroughly studies his opponent during the workday and, frequently, after hours...Measured into his success, undoubtedly, is the strenuous offseason regimen which he maintains, a program consisting of, among other things, four days of weightlifting per week, racquetball, basketball, jumping rope and hitting the speed bag...Had been designated by the Packers as a 'transition' player on Feb. 25, 1993, giving Green Bay the opportunity to match any contract offer from another club which he might have received that year in the offseason...1995: Was Packers' starter at left tackle in final 15 regular-season games and all three playoff contests after missing season opener against St. Louis (Sept. 3) with a painful back injury incurred one week earlier...Had a personal-best, 52-game starting streak snapped by his absence vs. the Rams...Suffered a cracked transverse process (lower back) when he was kicked in the back against Washington in the preseason finale (Aug. 25)...Played especially well near the end of the year, holding exceptional pass rushers Renaldo Turnbull (Saints) and Greg Lloyd (Steelers) to no sacks in Green Bay's final two regular-season games...Then shunted 49ers' Rickey Jackson in upset postseason win at San Francisco (Jan. 6)...Made an alert play in 38-21 victory over Minnesota (Oct. 22) when he recovered a Brett Favre fumble in the third quarter...1994: Started all 16 games for the third year in a row and for the fifth time in his career (also 1986, 1989, 1992-93)...Additionally was Packers' starter at left tackle in both playoff games...Saw action in his 45th straight league contest Dec. 4 at Detroit, surpassing his previous personal longevity string of 44 uninterrupted regular-season games played from 1985-87...Helped Packers to rush for combined total of 480 yards in two meetings with archrival Chicago, including season-high 257 yards in second win over Bears (Dec. 11)...Earlier, in rain-swept Halloween matchup at Chicago, had moved over to left guard for one snap late in game while Guy McIntyre (normally the starter at LG) lined up at left tackle because a nagging groin injury prevented him from pulling on the play; Ruettgers subsequently pulled and led Reggie Cobb on a 9-yard touchdown run to cap the scoring in 33-6 Green Bay triumph...Did not allow a sack in head-to-head matchups with Eagles' Greg Townsend, Jets' Jeff Lageman, Dolphins' Marco Coleman, Falcons' Chris Doleman and Rams' Fred Stokes...1993: Was Green Bay's starter at left tackle for all 16 games plus both postseason contests — the first of his career...Had one of his finest seasons as a pro, this despite the fact that he did not join the team until the week before the league opener (Aug. 31) due to a contractual stalemate...Held some of the league's top sack artists without a sack, including the Vikings' Doleman (twice), the Cowboys' Charles Haley (twice), the Bears' Richard Dent (twice), the Saints' Turnbull and the Eagles' Clyde Simmons...Made his 100th NFL start Nov. 8 at Kansas City...1992: Did not miss an offensive snap the entire year — a giant accomplishment for a player who had been ravaged by injury the previous two seasons — starting all 16 games in the process...Held Simmons, the NFC sack leader at the time, without a sack in 27-24 victory over Philadelphia (Nov. 15)...Same Eagles contest also marked his 100th NFL contest...1991: Got into only four games as he was hobbled by nagging hamstring injury...Started at left tackle in Packers' first three games before suffering pulled hamstring in practice on Sept. 18...The injury — the first hamstring problem he had experienced in his career — initially was thought to be relatively minor...When it lingered, however, he was forced to miss the next six games (inactive), plus Green Bay's bye week, while on the mend...Returned to start Nov. 10 vs. Buffalo in Milwaukee, but re-injured the hamstring while pulling on a running play...Placed on injured reserve Nov. 13, where he spent the remainder of the year...1990: Missed five starts at mid-season after undergoing arthroscopic surgery on both of his knees during the Packers' bye week, ending string of 37 consecutive games in which he had started dating back to Week 2 of '88 campaign...1989: Started all 16 games for second time in his career as Packers enjoyed 10-6 season...1988: Missed the season opener vs. the Rams (Sept. 4) due to shoulder injury sustained in Packers' initial preseason contest, Aug. 6 vs. the N.Y. Giants...His absence in inaugural snapped a streak of 44 straight non-strike games played, beginning with opening duel of his '85 rookie year...1987: Had one of the finest seasons of his career, giving up only 3½ sacks over the course of the strike-shortened, 12-game schedule...Recognized for that accomplishment, among other things, when he was voted as Packers' 'Offensive Player of the Year' by Wisconsin sports media — the first time a Green Bay offensive lineman has been so honored since center Ken Bowman was similarly recognized in 1971...Was the starter in all 12 'union' games...His season-long performance was all the more impressive in light of the fact that he had been forced to overcome an attack of mononucleosis during the early weeks of training camp...1986: First gained league-wide notoriety in finale against N.Y. Giants (Dec. 20), who would go on to win Super Bowl XXI, when he climaxed his personal year by shutting out NFL sack titlist Lawrence Taylor, in the process depriving the Pro Bowl linebacker of the league's single-season record for sacks...Started all 16 games for first time...1985: Played in all 16 games with two starts as a rookie...Pressed into starting lineup at left tackle for opening game at New England (Sept. 8) when incumbent Karl Swanke was moved to right tackle in place of Greg Koch, who himself had been switched to right guard in Ron Hallstrom's injury-forced absence...Also got starting call in closer at Tampa Bay as Swanke had suffered a knee injury the previous week vs. Detroit...Split time with Swanke in eight of the final nine games...Became a Packer by virtue of a draft day trade with the Buffalo Bills, Green Bay exchanging its first- (14th overall) and second-round (42nd overall) choices for the Bills' first-rounder (seventh overall), which then was used to tab Ruettgers, the Packers also receiving a fourth-round pick in 1986.

73 AARON TAYLOR

Offensive Guard

Notre Dame 3rd year

Ht: 6-4 Wt: 305 Born: 11/14/72 Acq: D1-94

PRO: Former first-round draft choice who has had each of his first two pro seasons ended by similar knee injuries...Missed his entire rookie year after tearing the patellar tendon in his right knee during a June 1994 rookie mini-camp...Fully returned to action 14 months later, he went on to start the entire 1995 season at left guard for Green Bay before rupturing the same tendon in his other (left) knee during the opening game of the playoffs...On a tighter time frame (less than eight months) in his return this time due to when the injury occurred, he has established Sept. 1 — the day of the Packers' 1996 regular-season opener with Tampa Bay — as his personal target date to get back onto the playing field...A two-time collegiate All-American, he was pencilled in as the team's starter at left guard the day he was drafted...Began to live up to his extreme promise as the 1995 season wore on..."You saw a steady progression from him, he got better as the season went on," says Tom Lovat, Green Bay's offensive line coach. "Then the injury hit. As far as his play and as far as the kind of mistakes he made, he was like the normal rookie — maybe not as many mistakes as the normal rookie. I think he can get better. Coming off of the injury, he'll definitely have some rustiness. But he'll be more ready to play this time than last time because of the mental part. He knows that injury, having been through it one time, he knows how far he can push it. It will just be a matter of timing once he gets back as far as the assignments go."...Demonstrated all the characteristics of a superior offensive lineman in college — size, speed, strength and intelligence — traits which make him especially suited to play in the Packers' offense...No matter the date of his return, heading into this season again will have a handicap that he had in 1995, Lovat points out..."What the injury has done is, and what he wasn't able to do last year because he was rehabbing," says Lovat, "was strengthen the lower body for the type of player he has to be. And that, I think, had a direct effect on why he got injured again. He was playing, utilizing the back muscles, and he put a lot of strain on them. Now that he reinjured himself, that's put him back in the same category this offseason."...Versatile, also has the capability to easily shift over and play at tackle, a move already made in his career as a collegian...1995: Successfully returned from knee injury which had kept him on sidelines throughout his rookie year to start all 16 regular-season games at left guard...Also started in first-round playoff victory over Atlanta (Dec. 31) before tearing the patellar tendon in his left knee late in the first half while engaged with the Falcons' Jumpy Geathers...Corrective surgery was performed on Jan. 2, 1996, and he was placed on injured reserve Jan. 12 after being inactive for San Francisco postseason contest...Had made critical recovery of a Brett Favre fumble near midfield early in the third quarter of 21-21 game vs. Chicago (Nov. 12), Green Bay subsequently went on to defeat the Bears 35-28...Also had recovered a fumble by Favre in win over the N.Y. Giants (Sept. 17)...Started and saw the first action of his NFL career in opener vs. St. Louis (Sept. 3)...1994: Had his rookie season ended before it even got started by a freak summer knee injury...Ruptured the patellar tendon in his right knee June 6 while participating in a rookie mini-camp, the injury occuring during a routine one-on-one pass protection drill...Underwent corrective surgery the following day, he later was placed on the reserve/physically unable to perform list Aug. 25...Despite an intensive rehabilitation, was unfit to return to the field in '94 and remained on PUP...First-round draft choice (16th overall and third offensive lineman, after Eagles' Bernard Williams and Rams' Wayne Gandy) of Green Bay in 1994, his acquisition the byproduct of a trade with Miami which saw the Packers move up four spots to snatch him.

COLLEGE: Three-year starter and letterman (1991-93) at Notre Dame...Was a first-team All-America choice each of his final two seasons, including unanimous selection as a senior...Winner of the Lombardi Award, given annually to the top lineman in the country, following his senior season, a year which also saw him serve as one of three captains for the Irish...Additionally, was one of three finalists that year for the Outland Trophy, presented to college football's top interior lineman...Utilized primarily at guard over his first three seasons before switching to left tackle as a senior...Helped Notre Dame to rank among national leaders in rushing each of his final three seasons — sixth in '91, third in '92 and sixth in '93...Played in two games as a 1990 freshman, but did not letter...Holds a B.A. degree in sociology.

PERSONAL: Given name Aaron Matthew Taylor...Nicknamed 'A.T.'...Born in San Francisco...Single...First-team prep All-America pick of USA Today as a senior at De La Salle High School in Concord, Calif., where he played both offensive and defensive tackle...Was a two-time all-state choice and helped his team win back-to-back section titles...Rated as one of the top 100 incoming freshmen nationally by at least six different publications, including USA Today and The Sporting News, upon graduation...Heavily involved in local community service, among his contributions are frequent appearances as a speaker at elementary schools...Organized in 1995 team-wide sponsorship of 45 Brown County needy families through Paul's Pantry — providing food, toys and clothes — with similar plans for '96...Was able to furnish hats and mittens to roughly 1,100 kids last year through player cash contributions he collected and turned over to Paul's Pantry...Local spokesman for 1996 'AIDS Walk Wisconsin' held Sept. 22 along Milwaukee's Lakefront, in conjunction with Center Project, Inc. PRO: Now entering his fourth professional season, George Teague hopes to overcome illness and nagging injuries that have hampered his play the last two seasons...In 1994 he was plagued by a thyroid condition, while last season a nagging toe injury limited his play...Despite the setbacks, he still recorded a career-best 72 tackles in 1995 and equalled his career high with 13 passes defensed...Had started 41 consecutive regular-season games for the Green and Gold at free safety until he missed the second Tampa Bay contest with a toe injury...Has started 43 career games in the regular season, in addition to seven postseason starts...Known for making big plays in college, has not disappointed in that aspect in the professional ranks — returning an interception 101 yards for a touchdown (the longest in NFL postseason history) against Detroit in a 1993 playoff game and bringing back another interception 74 yards last season vs. Cincinnati...Green Bay defensive coordinator Fritz Shurmur is one person who is wishful that Teague can regain his old form, saying, "I'm hoping for a return to his '93 physical status after two years of fighting illness and injuries. George appears to be ready to return to his old form. He has exceptional ball skills and the ability to make plays."...1995: Started 15 games at free safety, missing only the Tampa Bay contest (Dec. 10) with a nagging toe injury...Had started 41 consecutive games at free safety until Bucs contest...Tied for sixth on the team with a career-high 72 tackles...Equalled his career best with 13 passes defensed (tied for third on club), he also had 2 interceptions and 1 fumble recovery...Intercepted his second pass of the season Dec. 3 vs. Cincinnati and returned it 74 yards to the Bengals' four-yard line...Had made his first pickoff of the year Oct. 15 vs. Detroit, when he intercepted a tipped Scott Mitchell throw at the Green Bay 38-yard line with 1:28 left in the game, clinching a 30-21 win over the Lions...Made a career-high 12 tackles at New Orleans (Dec. 16)...Had 5 tackles and 1 pass defensed at Minnesota (Nov. 5), including a recovery of a James Stewart fumble late in the fourth quarter, stopping an almost-certain Vikings scoring drive...Started vs. Tampa Bay (Nov. 26) despite missing entire practice week due to broken big toe, suffered one week earlier at Cleveland...Started at free safety in all three postseason games, he finished as the team's third-leading tackler in the playoffs with 21 total stops...Made 5 tackles and intercepted a Jeff George pass in playoff win over Atlanta (Dec. 31)...Had 11 tackles at Dallas in NFC Championship Game (Jan. 14)...1994: Started all 16 regular-season games at free safety for the first time in his career though he had never fully recovered from a thyroid problem that plagued him prior to the season...Also started both playoff games...Finished third on the team with a career-high 13 passes defensed, he also had 53 tackles (ninth on club)...Tied for second on the team with a career-high 3 interceptions...Practiced on a limited basis early in training camp due to a thyroid condition discovered in the offseason which initially produced dramatic weight loss and later hampered his conditioning...Began practicing on a full-time basis Aug. 4...Turned in outstanding performance in season-opening win over Minnesota (Sept. 4) when he intercepted 2 Warren Moon passes — the first led to a 25-yard field goal, while the second stopped a Vikings drive in Green Bay territory — but suffered a fractured thumb in contest...Was forced to play with a cast on one hand for much of the first half of the season in order to protect thumb...Later intercepted a Craig Erickson pass in regular-season finale at Tampa Bay (Dec. 24)...Made a season-high 8 tackles vs. N.Y. Jets (Nov. 13)...Forced a fumble in Thanksgiving Day loss at Dallas...Contributed 8 solo tackles in the playoffs...1993: Played in all 16 games, starting the final 12 plus both postseason contests at free safety...Made one of the more memorable plays in Packers' illustrious playoff history at Detroit (Jan. 8) when, with the Lions driving to an almost-certain score, he intercepted an Erik Kramer pass one-yard deep in the end zone and returned it 101 yards for a touchdown, giving the Packers a 21-17 lead late in the third quarter of an eventual 28-24 win...His 101-yard return was the longest INT return in NFL playoff history — breaking the previous mark of 98 yards, set by the Jets' Darrol Ray Jan. 9, 1982, at Cincinnati — and along with his 4 solo tackles helped earn him selection as the NFL's 'Defensive Player of the Week' for the wild-card round...It also tied him with Herb Adderley and Mark Lee for the team record for most interceptions returned for a touchdown in postseason play (one)...Chosen to all-rookie teams of Pro Football Weekly/Pro Football Writers of America, Football Digest and College & Pro Football Newsweekly...Also named as Packers' 'Rookie of the Year'...Finished the year tied for 12th on the team with 36 total tackles (30 solo)...Contributed 9 solo tackles in the playoffs...Also made 5 unassisted special teams tackles...Had seen action in 'nickel' and 'dime' packages in first four games (backing up Mike Prior) before starting his first game as a pro at free safety vs. Denver (Oct. 10)...Made 4 tackles on defense and also forced a Glyn Milburn fumble on kickoff coverage, which he recovered himself to set up a Packer score, giving Green Bay a 17-0 lead in an eventual 30-27 win over the Broncos...Had 4 tackles and 1 fumble recovery at New Orleans (Nov. 14), the recovery setting up the Packers' only touchdown in a 19-17 win over the Saints...Recorded 2 passes defensed, including his first NFL interception (of Jeff Hostetler), Dec. 26 vs. L.A. Raiders...Made season-high 5 solo tackles in playoff loss at Dallas (Jan. 16)...The second of two first-round draft choices (29th overall) by Green Bay in 1993.

83 JEFF THOMASON

Tight End
Oregon 4th year
Ht: 6-4½ Wt: 250 Born: 12/30/69 Acq: FA-95

PRO: Now in his second season with the Packers, Jeff Thomason looks to see more action in 1996 after mainly a special teams role during the '95 campaign...Served as Green Bay's third tight end for much of the year, though was the primary backup to starter Mark Chmura early in the season...A talented athlete who really has dedicated himself to the game of late...According to Packers offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis, Thomason has good size and catches the ball well..."Jeff is an excellent receiver who is a big target with soft hands," says Lewis. 63 ADAM TIMMERMAN

Offensive Guard
South Dakota State 2nd year
Ht: 6-4 Wt: 295 Born: 8/14/71 Acq: D7-95

PRO: Was one of the Packers' most pleasant surprises last season...Only a year after he went to training camp with hopes of simply making the club, now finds himself as a potential starter at guard in 1996...Is one of the team's more popular players because of his genuine demeanor off the field, he is a fierce and intense competitor on the field...Able to play both guard spots...Filled in well late last season during Green Bay's playoff run as he started two postseason contests after Aaron Taylor was lost with a knee injury...All Timmerman lacks is a little experience, according to Packers offensive line coach Tom Lovat, who says, "He will be a starter in this league. Adam is a good football player who just needs experience. He's got good feet and is a very strong and intelligent football player. He needs a good year of playing to eventually become a good starter."...1995: Served as a backup at both guard positions...Saw action on special teams in 13 regular-season games...Was inactive for three games early in the year (Giants, Jaguars, Cowboys)...Pressed into service during the playoffs when Taylor went down with a season-ending knee injury late in the second quarter of Atlanta postseason contest (Dec. 31)...Played remainder of win over Falcons and then had successive starts at left guard at San Francisco (Jan. 6) and at Dallas (Jan. 14) in NFC Championship Game...Drafted in the seventh round (230th overall) by Green Bay in 1995.

92 REGGIE WHITE

Defensive End

Tennessee 12th year

Ht: 6-5 Wt: 300 Born: 12/19/61 Acq: UFA-93

PRO: Larger than life, literally and figuratively, Reggie White is a man apart, both at his position and off the field...Possessor of a persona and exponent of a lifestyle that transcend the game he plays with maximum intensity and commitment, the perennial Pro Bowler continues to elicit superlatives for his exemplary performance in both areas...Still at the very top of his game after 11 years at the pinnacle of his profession, he again saw his on-field preeminence documented in 1995 by his selection to the Pro Bowl for the 10th consecutive year, extending his NFL record for such a laurel being bestowed upon a defensive end...This honor followed upon even more singular recognition for professional football's all-time sacks leader — his election to the National Football League's 75th Anniversary All-Time Team in August of 1994...In 1995, he continued his reign as the league's all-time leader in quarterback sacks, recording an even dozen to swell his career total to 157 over his 11-year NFL tenure...One of the game's most durable performers, he missed a non-strike game for the first time in his career last season (Dec. 10 at Tampa Bay due to a hamstring problem), but was back at his customary stand the following week...Had played in 166 consecutive 'union' contests to that point, one of the longest such streaks in NFL history...Packers defensive coordinator Fritz Shurmur, openly admiring of the monolithic Tennessean, pays him high tribute — as a player, leader and citizen..."The good Lord hasn't made too many like him, I don't imagine, over the years. He's rare," Shurmur says of White. "He's rare in his capacity to play the game consistently. He has tremendous strength and explosiveness, to go with speed. And he's wired exactly right to be a great team player. He's probably the most unselfish team player I've ever been around and it rubs off. If you were to look at the one guy whose demeanor and whose mode of living is an example for all of us to follow, it's Reggie White. So it's not only what he has in the way of ability, and that puts him at probably the best who ever played the game at his position. But also that's transcended by his ability to have a compassion for his fellow man outside of football — but also within the framework of the team. That all comes across. He is an outstanding leader. He leads by example better than any player I've been around — he never misses a turn in practice. And for someone to be that gifted — and that unselfish — positions him to be the kind of leader he is. But that's rare. We've all got to realize how rare that is — a rare-ability-guy with rare ability to be able to not have any really personal goals. And that's all transcended by his commitment to get this team to the ultimate game."...These accolades having been delivered, there remains no way to adequately measure White's electrifying impact upon the defense in his three seasons as a Packer...But his unit's rankings since his arrival upon the Green Bay scene offer an eloquent testimonial to his contributions...The defense soared to second place (from a distant 23rd the previous year) in 1993, when the former Philadelphia Eagle superstar joined the Green and Gold as the most sought-after performer to become available with the advent of unrestricted free agency in the National Football League...It subsequently finished a highly-respectable sixth in 1994 despite the loss of starters Johnny Holland, Tony Bennett and Roland Mitchell from the '93 unit...Head Coach Mike Holmgren, for one, was able to put the 1993 performance in practical perspective...White "made us a better football team — no question about it," Holmgren said, documenting this assertion by noting, "We went from 23 on defense (in the league as a whole) to two — with no noticeable dramatic personnel changes, except for one man."...Larry Brooks, who took over as defensive line coach in 1994, also has become a devout fan of professional football's preeminent sack artist..."Reggie's the real deal," he declares. "At his position, there are three or four at the very top and Reggie's in those top three or four. The bigger the game, the bigger he plays. When he gets to playing, it just shows — he's a force. Offensive teams have to account for him with two people. As greatness shows, it shows how great he is in the number of people they put on him. It's hard to know how good he could be if he was single-blocked on a regular basis."...The 34-year-old Chattanooga, Tenn., native is the only player in NFL history to register double-digit sack totals in nine consecutive seasons (1985 through 1993)...Along the way, his perennial dominance at his position has earned him selection to the National Football Conference Pro Bowl squad each of the past 10 seasons, the first seven years as a member of the Eagles...He in 1993 also became the first Packer defensive end chosen for the Pro Bowl since Ezra Johnson in 1978...Impressively productive since his selection by the Eagles as a first-round pick in the NFL's supplemental draft of USFL players in 1984, White has amassed 997 tackles (715 solo), in addition to his 157 sacks...He also has registered 2 interceptions, 39 passes defensed, forced 25 fumbles and recovered 15, two of the latter for touchdowns...In addition, he has supplemented these contributions by posting 2 safeties and blocking 3 kicks (2 FGs and 1 PAT)...The only player to be selected by Pro Football Weekly on its 1980s All-Decade team and also to be projected to its All-1990s team, he has customarily lined up at defensive end, but also has used his strength and speed to play havoc on blocking schemes from various positions along the line during his career...Launched his career with the USFL's Memphis Showboats (1984-85), posting 193 tackles (120 solo), 23½ sacks and forcing 7 fumbles in 34 starts...1995 HONORS: Elected to the Pro Bowl for 10th consecutive year...First-team All-Pro selection by Associated Press, Pro Football Weekly/Pro Football Writers of America, USA Today, Sports Illustrated, The Sporting News, College & Pro Football Newsweekly and Football Digest...All-NFC choice of United Press International and Football News...Selected as NFC 'Defensive Player of the Year' by the Kansas City Committee of 101...Also honored as NFC 'Defensive Player of the Year' at the annual Mackey Awards...Was named to the 'All-Madden Team' by Fox Sports analyst John Madden...1995: Finished third in the NFC with 12 sacks — the 10th time he has enjoyed a double-digit sack year in his 11 NFL seasons...Played in 15 games, making 13 starts...Was the team's second-leading tackler among defensive linemen with 46 total stops...Also forced 2 fumbles and was credited with 4 passes defensed...Made a miraculous recovery in final weeks of the season when an initial prognosis of surgery to repair a torn left hamstring suffered in Dec. 3 victory over Cincinnati (which would have ended his personal year) proved premature when he returned to practice on Dec. 14 (a Thursday), the day after the presumed need for surgery was announced (Wednesday, Dec. 13)...First felt renewed strength in the hamstring at his home the evening of the 13th, then confirmed those thoughts during a late-night workout at the Packers' indoor practice facility, The Don Hutson Center, under the supervision of Kent Johnston, the team's strength and conditioning coach...Saw action in pass-rushing situations two days later at New Orleans (Dec. 16), recording 1 solo tackle...Subsequently returned to the starting lineup for regular-season finale vs. Pittsburgh the following week (Dec. 24)...Had missed the first non-strike game of his NFL career when he was inactive for Bucs rematch at Tampa (Dec. 10) with the hamstring injury suffered a week earlier...Had his third sack in as many weeks against Bengals, but also suffered hamstring tear in his left leg in the fourth quarter...Felled the Bucs' Trent Dilfer for a 10-yard loss late in the third quarter vs. Tampa Bay (Nov. 26)...Sacked Browns quarterback Eric Zeier for an 11-yard loss among his 3 tackles in the Packers' win at Cleveland (Nov. 19)...Turned in gutty performance in Green Bay's key, 35-28 victory over Bears (Nov. 12), when he had a season-high 6 tackles, a half-sack and batted down an Erik Kramer pass — despite not knowing until pre-game warmups if he was even going to play, due to the knee injury he had suffered a week earlier...Notched a sack in rematch at Minnesota (Nov. 5), but left the game in the fourth quarter after suffering a sprained medial collateral ligament in his right knee following a collision with teammate Sean Jones on an attempted quarterback sack...Had another in a long line of outstanding performances, this time in first '95 meeting with Minnesota (Oct. 22), when he recorded 2 quarterback sacks and forced a Warren Moon fumble which was recovered in the end zone by Jones for a Green Bay touchdown, giving the Packers a 35-14 lead en route to eventual 38-21 triumph...Dominated each of the three players the Vikings lined up at right tackle across from him...Made 4 tackles and recorded 1 sack at Dallas (Oct. 8) despite constant double-team blocking by the Cowboys...Made 3 tackles and registered 1 sack (another sack was nullified due to a penalty) in the Packers' win at Jacksonville (Sept. 24)...Posted 2 tackles and had 1 pass defensed as he continually hounded Giants QB Dave Brown in win over New York (Sept. 17)...Continues to make the big play, as evidenced at Chicago (Sept. 11), when, with Green Bay clinging to a 27-24 lead, he sacked Kramer, forcing him to fumble, the ball being recovered by teammate Wayne Simmons at the Bears' 22-yard line with only 1:59 remaining in the game...Launched '95 season with a dominating performance against St. Louis Rams (Sept. 3), recording 2½ sacks despite being double- and triple-teamed...THE PLAYOFFS: Registered 2 solo tackles and 1 sack during three postseason appearances, the latter a 5-yard trap of Dallas quarterback Troy Aikman on the Cowboys' first offensive series in NFC Championship Game (Jan. 14)...Though he had no stats to show for his efforts, continually harassed 49ers quarterback Steve Young in 27-17 upset win at San Francisco (Jan. 6) as Green Bay defense shut down Niners' vaunted offensive attack...Did not start wild-card playoff with Atlanta (Dec. 31), but saw considerable duty as a reserve...1994: Durable as well as devastating, he had started 117 consecutive games — tying him with five other players for the longest active streak in the NFL — until the string was snapped Nov. 24 at Dallas when he did not start the game because of an elbow injury, suffered in the previous weekend's Buffalo contest (Nov. 20)...He did, however, come in with the first 'nickel' unit in the first quarter and played much of the rest of the game...Played in all 16 regular-season games, missing only the start against Dallas...Finished second among team's defensive linemen with 59 total tackles and was second on the club with 8 sacks...Also forced 2 fumbles, recovered 1 and knocked down 7 passes...Started both playoff games at defensive tackle, his domination of the middle of the line vs. Detroit (Dec. 31) was a primary reason that the Packers were able to hold the Lions to an NFL postseason record -4 yards rushing on 15 attempts and league rushing champion Barry Sanders to a career-low -1 yard on 13 carries...Made his presence felt Dec. 11 vs. Chicago while moving to the interior of the defensive line at times to make up for the injury loss of Gilbert Brown, the Bears rushed for only 27 yards on 14 carries...Sacked Detroit's Dave Krieg among 2 tackles at the Lions (Dec. 4)...Although hampered by an elbow injury, turned in the type of dominating performance which has become his trademark at Dallas on Thanksgiving Day, posting 6 tackles and 1 sack, an 11-yard drop of Cowboys QB Jason Garrett; he also applied heavy pressure and forced Garrett into an intentional grounding infraction during the contest...Also, on a number of occasions, he lifted 325-pound Dallas offensive tackle Larry Allen off the ground, literally with one arm because his left elbow was in a brace, as he strove to move upfield...Played against Cowboys when, only two days earlier, he had been declared out of the contest medically due to the elbow injury suffered vs. the Bills...Had 2 tackles at Buffalo, but suffered sprained medial ligament in his left elbow midway through the third quarter, an injury which forced him to leave the game...Equalled his season high with 6 tackles in the Packers' 38-30 win over Detroit (Nov. 6), he also batted down a Krieg pass...Had one of the most dominating performances of his career Oct. 20 at Minnesota...After flushing Moon out of the pocket, he promptly took WR Cris Carter (who was between White and Moon) and flung him at Moon's feet before sacking the Viking QB for a 15-yard loss...On Billy Grimes, a running back out of Oklahoma A&M, holds two of the Packers' oldest records — for single-season punt return average (19.1 yards) and total yardage (555) — established in a banner 1950 season with 29 runbacks, one of them an 85-yard excursion for a touchdown. Grimes, who had been drafted No. 1 by the Packers from the defunct Los Angeles Dons following the disbandment of the rival All-America Football Conference a year earlier, finished the '50 season as the NFL's No. 2 punt returner.

Taking over as the starter at left cornerback from the opening day of training camp, 1995 first-round draft choice Craig Newsome went on to establish a club rookie record for passes defensed (19) and earn NFL all-rookie honors.

A player will be credited with a year of NFL experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List, Inactive List, Reserve/Injured List, or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform List — six games on a combination of any of these lists. Rookies are players in their first year of professional football who have not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. Players who have played in other professional sports leagues (Canadian Football League, etc.), have participated in previous NFL training camps, or have been on the above lists for fewer than six games are listed as first-year NFL players ("1").

1995 SEASON HIGHLIGHTS

SEPT. 11: The Packers bounced back from a 17-14 season-opening home loss to the St. Louis Rams to defeat the Chicago Bears 27-24 in a 'Monday Night Football' matchup. Green Bay jumped out to a 21-0 lead just four minutes into the second quarter on a 99-yard touchdown pass from Brett Favre to Robert Brooks. The 99-yard completion was a Packer record and the eighth such passing play in NFL history.

The Bears closed the gap to 27-14 with 28 seconds remaining in the third quarter, when Erik Kramer drove Chicago 75 yards in 13 plays for its second touchdown of the evening. The Packers' lead closed to six, 27-21, after Chicago's Rashaan Salaam scored on an 8-yard run after a Favre interception which was returned to the Green Bay 8-yard line.

After a Craig Hentrich punt was blocked out of bounds deep in Green Bay territory, the Bears regained possession at the Packers' 2-yard line. The Green and Gold defense stiffened, however, stopping Salaam for no gain on two consecutive running plays, and on third down Kramer's pass to the end zone was caught out of bounds, forcing the Bears to settle for a field goal.

Green Bay proceeded to put the contest away when Favre directed an 11-play drive to the Bears' 24-yard line which consumed 6:22 and put the game clock to under three minutes. Though a muffed snap on the Packers' ensuing field goal attempt resulted in no points, Chicago was left with little time to mount a final comeback effort. Green Bay's Reggie White extinguished the Bears' hopes by forcing a Kramer fumble which was recovered by Wayne Simmons.

SEPT. 24: The Packers, who went to 3-1 overall, moved into sole possession of first place in the NFC Central for the first time in 17 years with a 24-14 victory over the Jacksonville Jaguars in a nationally-televised Sunday evening game. Green Bay took a 17-0 lead on a 49-yard field goal by Hentrich, Brooks' 6-yard touchdown catch from Favre and Dorsey Levens' 2-yard run.

The Jaguars closed the gap to 17-7 on ex-Packer Mark Brunell's 8-yard scoring strike to Willie Jackson. But Favre put the game out of reach with a 29-yard touchdown throw to Anthony Morgan with 5:52 to play.

Favre closed out the evening with 20 completions in 30 attempts for 202 yards and 2 touchdowns with 1 interception. His 2 touchdown passes gave him 12 straight games with two TD passes or more, tying him with Johnny Unitas, Don Meredith and Dan Marino for the longest such streak in NFL history.

OCT. 15: Successful in the first of five consecutive meetings with three different NFC Central Division teams, the Packers defeated the Detroit Lions 30-21. It was to be the best offensive performance of the year to date for the team as it amassed 436 yards, controlling the ball for 37:51.

The Packers jumped to a 20-0 halftime lead, which included a pair of field goals (42 and 43 yards) and a tight-fisted defense that forced the Lions to punt after six of their seven first-half possessions, holding Detroit to just four first downs in the process.

Favre gave Green Bay a 27-7 advantage when he hit Brooks in the heart of the end zone with a 12-yard pass with seven minutes remaining in the third quarter. Less than three minutes later, the Lions struck back with a 77-yard scoring drive, culminating when quarterback Scott Mitchell connected with Johnnie Morton for a 16-yard TD pass. On Detroit's next possession, Mitchell hit Herman Moore with a second touchdown pass to pull Detroit within six points, 27-21. The Packers reasserted themselves and mounted a retaliatory 11-play, 66-yard drive, which climaxed in Chris Jacke's 20-yard field goal at 7:58 of the final period.

OCT. 22: A 38-21 victory over the Minnesota Vikings gave the Packers, 5-2 overall and 3-0 in the division, their best start of the season since 1978 and a tie with the Chicago Bears for the division lead. The Green Bay defense produced four turnovers, converting two into touchdowns and ended a major drive by the Vikings with a third.

George Koonce intercepted a Warren Moon pass in the second quarter and returned it for 12 yards to the Minnesota 7-yard line, and two plays later Favre hit Charles Jordan in the right corner of the end zone for the score. When the Vikings were on the move in the third quarter with the score tied at 14, Doug Evans intercepted Moon at the Green Bay 13-yard line to void the threat.

Favre conducted scoring drives of 69 and 82 yards and brought the Packers out to a 28-14 lead, but White and Sean Jones then put the game out of reach for the Vikings. White exploded through the line to sack Moon for a second time, and when Moon fumbled Jones recovered the loose ball in the end zone for a TD.

NOV. 12: The historic 150th meeting between the Packers and Chicago Bears, which marked the first occasion in professional football history that two NFL teams have met 150 times in regular-season play, provided just as much drama and excitement as the previous 149 gatherings. The game saw the lead change hands four times, a total of 800 yards in total offense were amassed (the Bears rolled up 444 and the Packers 356) and the clubs combined for nine touchdowns.

Favre, whose status was unknown until Sunday morning because of a severe ankle sprain he had suffered the week prior at Minnesota, showed no signs of the injury in a record-breaking performance. Passing for all five Packer touchdowns, Favre tied a team single-game record shared by Cecil Isbell, Don Horn and Lynn Dickey.

Favre completed 25 of 33 passes for 336 yards without an interception, threw a pair of touchdown tosses to Bennett, two to Brooks and another to Levens.

The win, the Packers' fourth straight over the Bears, brought Green Bay into a tie with Chicago for the divisional lead, the teams sharing identical 6-4 marks.

NOV. 26: The Packers closed in on their first outright Central Division title since 1972 by defeating the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, 35-13, and moving out to an 8-4 record.

The turnover-free game, the fourth of the season for the Packers, saw Green Bay run just 50 offensive plays, compared to the Bucs' 71, but it managed to out-yard Tampa Bay 369-325. Favre finished the day with completions on 16 of his 24 passes for 267 yards and 3 touchdowns. The offense displayed effective balance, tallying 108 rushing yards and 261 net passing yards.

The Packers' defense contained Tampa Bay's talented running back Errict Rhett to only 11 yards on 14 carries and held its overall running game to a meager 42 yards in 19 attempts.

DEC. 16: The Packers rebounded from the previous week's 13-10 overtime loss at Tampa Bay to defeat the New Orleans Saints, 34-23. The win secured at least a wild card playoff berth, moved Green Bay to within one victory of its first NFC Central Division championship in 23 seasons and gave it a 4-4 road record, the first time since 1989 that the Packers had gone at least .500 away from home.

Going into the locker room at halftime, Favre had thrown 4 touchdown passes — connecting with Brooks twice as well as with Morgan and Antonio Freeman once each — to give the Green and Gold a 28-14 lead. The second half saw a pair of Jacke field goals and a lone Saints field goal by Doug Brien before Greeen Bay permitted a last-play, consolation score. The Packers finished the day with 397 yards, 103 rushing and 294 passing.

Late in the game, Bennett became the first Green Bay running back to rush for 1,000 yards since 1978, swelling his season total to 1,010 with an 80-yard performance. Terdell Middleton had been the last Packer to scale the 1,000-yard barrier. Bennett also set a team record for most rushing attempts in a season.

The game was highlighted by the "miraculous" return of Reggie White, who four days earlier had been scheduled to undergo surgery for the repair of a hamstring injury originally suffered against the Cincinnati Bengals Dec. 3.

DEC. 24: Leading 24-19, the Packers staged a critical defensive stand in the closing minutes as the Pittsburgh Steelers had positioned themselves with a first-and-goal at the Green Bay 5-yard line with 29 seconds to play. Pittsburgh quarterback Neil O'Donnell saw his first two passes fall incomplete before Steelers rookie Kordell Stewart got behind center on third down. But Green Bay strong safety LeRoy Butler sniffed out Stewart's attempted deception, throwing him for a one-yard rushing loss. Then, on the climactic fourth down play with 16 seconds remaining, O'Donnell tossed to wide receiver Yancey Thigpen deep in the left corner of the end zone beyond a defender who had slipped. The ball sailed in and out of Thigpen's hands, and the Packers began to celebrate their first outright NFC Central Division title since 1972 and their best record, 11-5, since 1966.

Prior to the electrifying finish, Favre had turned in another tremendous performance, passing for 301 yards and 2 touchdowns, while presiding over TD drives of 63, 83 and 32 yards as well as a 58-yard push which triggered a 47-yard Jacke field goal. Favre's 300-yard game was his seventh of the season, establishing a new team record.

The Packers' ability to counter the attack of the Steelers was complicated by a pair of injuries to Favre. He suffered a bruised chest late in the third quarter, which caused him to spit up blood, and earlier had been temporarily knocked groggy when the back of his head struck the turf.

Brooks recorded 137 yards via 11 receptions, establishing a new Green Bay single-season record for receiving yards with 1,497. He also extended his new club mark for 100-yard receiving games in a season to nine and became only the second receiver in club annuals to catch 100-or-more passes in a season.

THE PLAYOFFS

DEC. 31: In postseason play for the third consecutive year and playing host a playoff game for the second straight season, the Packers rebounded from an early 7-0 deficit to score 27 of the game's next 30 points and mount a 27-10 halftime advantage en route to a 37-20 victory over the Atlanta Falcons.

Bennett, who set a club single-game playoff record with 108 yards rushing, evened the score at seven with an 8-yard TD run after the Falcons got on the board first, when Jeff George found a wide-open Eric Metcalf for a 65-yard touchdown pass. Favre subsequently sandwiched drives of 78 and 85 yards, each culminating in a scoring throw, around the rookie Freeman's 76-yard punt return for a touchdown in the second quarter (the first in Green Bay's distinguished postseason history).

Favre seemed to close the books on the Falcons for the day when he found Levens with a looping 18-yard touchdown pass midway through the fourth quarter. Jacke later closed out the day's scoring with a 25-yard field goal with just under two minutes remaining.

Bennett, who constituted the Packers' running game, carried 24 times for 108 yards in breaking the team's postseason rushing mark of 105 yards, previously shared by Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung. Overall, Bennett accounted for all but nine of Green Bay's rushing yards. Favre, continuing to show a knack for spreading the football around, utilized no fewer than nine receivers while completing 24 of 35 passes for 199 yards and 3 touchdowns without an interception.

JAN. 6: It was one of the most remarkable performances in the Packers' 75-year NFL history. Green Bay defeated the defending Super Bowl champion San Francisco 49ers, 27-17, on their home field in a divisional playoff game.

The Packers had control of the game from the beginning, especially after they forced an early turnover which immediately was converted into a touchdown by rookie cornerback Craig Newsome, and had mounted a commanding 21-0 lead by early in the second quarter. Favre's hot hand completed 15 of his first 17 passes, including a connection with Keith Jackson on a 35-yard, first down throw to trigger a four-play, 62-yard scoring drive and a 13-yard strike to Mark Chmura to cap off a seven-play, 72-yard drive with just 3:39 gone in the second quarter. San Francisco managed a field goal before halftime, leaving the Packers out front 21-3 at the break.

The 49ers threatened to get back into the game following the second half kickoff, driving 80 yards in 14 plays and scoring on a 4th-and-one sneak by Steve Young. But two possessions later Green Bay extended its lead to 24-10 on a 27-yard field goal by Jacke, and midway through the fourth quarter Jacke connected on a 26-yarder to give the Packers a secure lead.

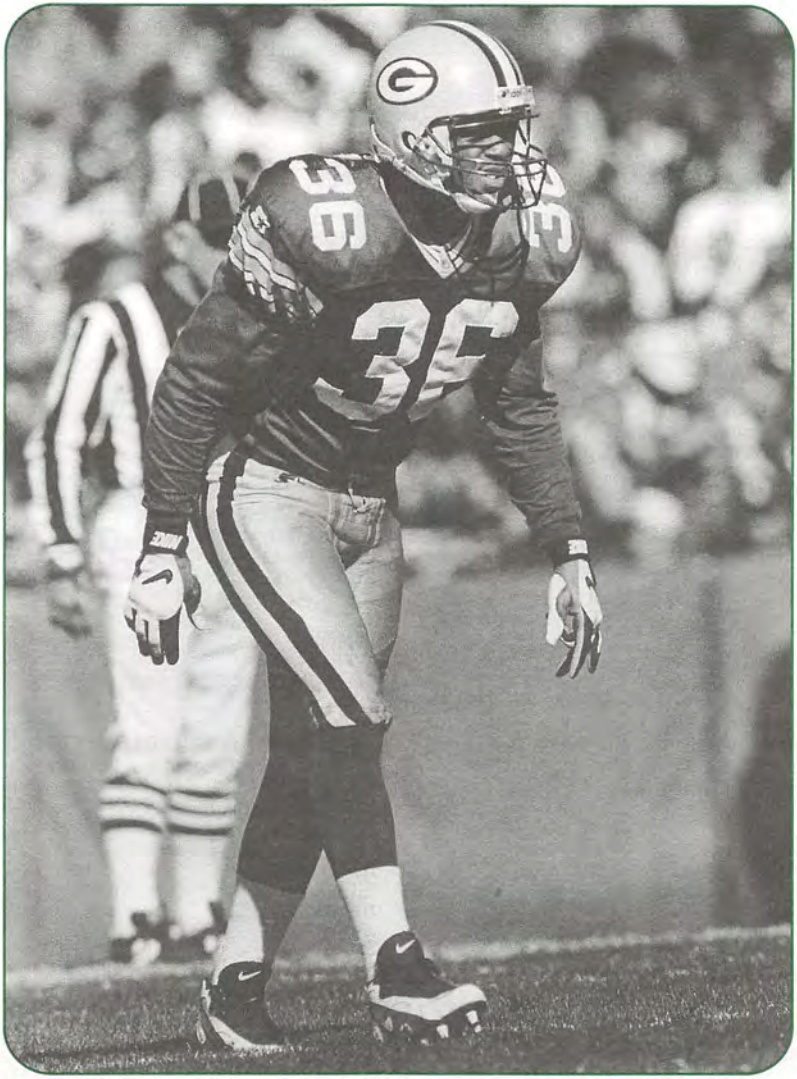
Favre closed out the day with a team-record 75% completion rate (21-28) for 295 yards and 2 touchdowns. Brooks led the Packer receivers with 103 yards, while Jackson tallied 101 yards on his 4 catches.

JAN. 14: As Green Bay advanced to the NFC Championship Game for the first time since 1967, facing the Dallas Cowboys in the postseason for the third consecutive year, the Packers managed a 27-24 lead as the two teams headed into the fourth quarter. But the electrifying run ended as the Packers eventually succumbed to the eventual Super Bowl champions, 38-27. The Cowboys converted two Green Bay interceptions into a pair of touchdowns and the last, five minutes into the fourth quarter, put the game out of reach.

Green Bay had rebounded from a 14-3 first quarter deficit, trading scores with the host Cowboys until finding themselves up 27-24 and one quarter away from the Super Bowl. Dallas' massive offensive line finally wore the Packers' defense down, however, as running back extraordinare Emmitt Smith spearheaded fourth period scoring drives of 90 and 52 yards, Smith capping each drive off with a touchdown run.

In what became the game's turning point, with the Packers trailing 31-27 Favre had directed his team past midfield before he was picked off by Dallas cornerback Larry Brown. Two plays later, Smith went 16 yards into the end zone, his second TD of the quarter and third of the day. Favre, who had not thrown an interception in either of the Packers' two previous playoff victories, closed out the day with 21 completions in 39 attempts for 307 yards and 3 touchdowns along with those 2 INTs.

Tragedy struck the Green Bay sideline during the second quarter when wide receivers coach Gil Haskell was knocked unconscious after hitting the back of his head on the turf at the end of a play. The Cowboys' Darren Woodson had pushed Brooks out of bounds after a short passing play, Brooks catapulting into Haskell. Haskell was taken from the field to a local hospital, where he was diagnosed with a skull fracture.



Strong safety LeRoy Butler led Green Bay's defense in interceptions (5) and total tackles (117) in 1995, the first time a single Packer has paced the defensive platoon in both categories since fellow strong safety Mark Murphy turned the trick in 1990.

PACKERS NO. 1 IN POSTSEASON

On the heels of three straight playoff appearances for the first time in over a quarter-century, the Packers continue to own the best winning percentage in postseason play in National Football League history. They have won 17 of 25 playoff games since their first-ever postseason contest – the 1936 NFL championship (a 21-6 victory over the Boston Redskins) – for an overall winning percentage of .680. NFC foes San Francisco (.636) and Dallas (.633) follow. The all-time standings:

Jerry Kramer (64), who will be a finalist in the voting for the 1997 class of enshrinees in the Pro Football Hall of Fame, forged his claim of fame as an All-Pro guard, but he also was an effective placekicker. Kramer, with Bart Starr as his holder, kicked three field goals to provide the winning margin in the Packers' 16-7 win over the Giants in the 1962 NFL Championship Game at New York's Yankee Stadium.

SUPER BOWL I
January 15, 1967

Memorial Coliseum; Los Angeles, Calif. Paid Attendance: 61,946

Green Bay 35, Kansas City 10

The Packers launched the Super Bowl series by whipping Kansas City's American Football League champions 35-10 behind the passing of Bart Starr, the receiving of Max McGee and a key interception by All-Pro safety Willie Wood.

Vince Lombardi's repeating NFL champions broke open the game with three second-half touchdowns, the first of which was set up by Wood's 50-yard return of an interception to the Chiefs' 5-yard-line with the Packers leading by only 14-10. The pass, authored by the Chiefs' Len Dawson, had been intended for Kansas City tight end Fred Arbanas.

McGee, filling in for ailing Boyd Dowler (injured on the Packers' first offensive series) after having caught only four passes all season, snared seven from Starr for 138 yards and two touchdowns. Elijah Pitts ran for two other scores, counting one on a 5-yard run in the third quarter and the other on a one-yard bolt in the final period.

The Chiefs' 10 points came in the second quarter, the only touchdown on a seven-yard pass from Dawson to Curtis McClinton.

Starr completed 16 of 23 passes for 250 yards and 2 touchdowns and was chosen the game's most valuable player. His scoring strikes came on a 37-yard collaboration with McGee in the first quarter and a 13-yard pitch to the aging end in the decisive third period.

The Packers collected $15,000 per man and the Chiefs $7,500 apiece — the largest single-game shares in the history of team sports at the time.

SUPER BOWL II
January 14, 1968

Orange Bowl; Miami, Fla. Paid Attendance: 75,546

Green Bay 33, Oakland 14

Having acquired a third consecutive NFL championship just two weeks earlier, the Packers embellished that record-tying parlay by winning the Super Bowl title for the second straight year. This time, they dispatched the AFL champion Raiders 33-14 in a game that drew the first $3-million gate in football history.

Bart Starr again was chosen the game's most valuable player as he completed 13 of 24 passes for 202 yards and one touchdown and directed a Packers attack that was in control all the way after building up a 16-7 halftime lead.

Don Chandler kicked four field goals (39, 20, 43 and 31 yards), and All-Pro cornerback Herb Adderley highlighted the Green Bay scoring with a 60-yard interception return of a Daryle Lamonica pass.

After leading by only 3-0 at the quarter, the Packers padded their margin to 16-7 at halftime by way of three Chandler field goals and a 62-yard scoring pass from Starr to split end Boyd Dowler. They then left the Raiders behind with a 10-point third period, Donny Anderson scoring on a 2-yard run and Chandler with his final field goal.

The game marked the last for Vince Lombardi as Packers coach, ending nine years at Green Bay in which he won six Western Conference championships, five NFL titles and two Super Bowls, a record unprecedented in pro football history.

PACKER NFL PLAYOFF HISTORY

ELEVEN TIMES WORLD CHAMPIONS

The Green Bay Packers have won more championships — eleven — than any other team in National Football League history. They won their first three by league standing (1929, 1930 and 1931) and eight since the NFL's playoff system was established in 1933 (1936, 1939, 1944, 1961, 1962, 1965, 1966 and 1967). Green Bay also is the only NFL team to win three straight titles, having done it twice (1929-30-31 and 1965-66-67).

In addition, the Packers won the first two Super Bowls (over Kansas City in 1966, 35-10, and over Oakland in 1967, 33-14).

Chicago's Bears rank second with nine NFL titles, followed by the Giants with six, the Cowboys, Redskins and 49ers with five each, and the Lions and Browns with four apiece.

GAME BY GAME

1936 — GREEN BAY 21, BOSTON REDSKINS 6 (Polo Grounds, New York) — Although New York was not represented in the title playoff, the game was played in the Polo Grounds because the Redskins' franchise was being shifted to Washington, D.C., by George Marshall. A turnout of 29,545 saw Don Hutson take a 43-yard touchdown pass from Arnie Herber in the first three minutes, and the Packers were never behind.

1938 — NEW YORK 23, GREEN BAY 17 (Polo Grounds, New York) — The Packers overcame an early 9-0 New York lead, spawned by two blocked punts, but could not hold off the Giants in the second half. The Packers began to close in early in the second period, Arnie Herber capitalizing on a Paul (Tiny) Engebretsen interception by lofting a 50-yard touchdown strike to Carl Mulleneaux, cutting the Giants' margin to 9-7.

The Giants shortly converted a midfield fumble by Packer fullback Eddie Jankowski into a 16-7 lead before Green Bay again trimmed the deficit to two points before the half was over, Clarke Hinkle crashing over from the 6-inch line following a 66-yard Cecil Isbell pass to Wayland Becker. The Packers then forged in front in opening minutes of the second half for the first and only time in the game, an Engebretsen field goal presenting them with a 17-16 edge. The Giants, however, stormed back with a 61-yard scoring drive, capped by a 23-yard pass from Ed Danowski to Hank Soar. Soar fought his way over the goal line from the 2, with Hinkle clinging to one leg, for what proved to be the winning touchdown. A crowd of 48,120, a playoff record, sat in on proceedings.

1939 — GREEN BAY 27, NEW YORK 0 (State Fair Park, Milwaukee) — The Packers made playoff history by scoring first shutout ever registered in NFL championship game. Despite bitter 35 m.p.h. winds, both Arnie Herber and Cecil Isbell passed for touchdowns in leading Green Bay to its fifth world championship before 32,279 fans.

Green Bay mounted a 7-0 halftime lead, by dint of a Herber scoring strike to Milt Gantenbein, and pulled away in the third quarter on a 29-yard field goal by Paul (Tiny) Engebretsen and a long TD pass from Isbell to Joe Laws. The Packers added 10 more points in the fourth quarter on a 42-yard field goal by Ernie Smith and a short scoring run by fullback Eddie Jankowski.

1941 — CHICAGO BEARS 33, GREEN BAY 14 (Wrigley Field, Chicago) — In a Western Division playoff contest necessitated when the two teams finished the year with identical 10-1 records, each having given the other its lone loss, the Packers fell victim to Chicago's offensive trio of George McAfee, Norm Standlee and Hugh Gallarneau in the 16-degree cold at Wrigley Field.

After the Bears fumbled the opening kickoff, Green Bay grabbed an early 7-0 lead. Gallarneau returned a punt 81 yards for a touchdown to narrow the gap to 7-6, before Chicago exploded for 24 second-quarter points to essentially settle the issue. The Bears rushed for 277 yards this day, McAfee leading the way with a team record 119 and Standlee adding 79 plus two touchdowns.

Green Bay's prolific end, Don Hutson, was held to only one catch for 19 yards.

1944 — GREEN BAY 14, NEW YORK 7 (Polo Grounds, New York) — With peerless pass catcher Don Hutson employed primarily as a decoy for the Giant defense, fullback Ted Fritsch emerged the offensive hero of Packers' sixth world title victory.

Fritsch scored both Green Bay touchdowns, one on a 2-yard run in the second quarter and the other on a 26-yard pass-and-run collaboration with Irv Comp in the third. Ward Cuff scored the Giants' touchdown with a one-yard plunge on the first play of the final period. Joe Laws, the Packers' veteran, 34-year-old all-purpose halfback, had a brilliant day, setting a playoff record with three interceptions and claiming ground gaining honors with 74 yards in 13 carries.

1960 — PHILADELPHIA 17, GREEN BAY 13 (Franklin Field, Philadelphia) — Packers erected a 6-0 lead in the second period and were out in front by 13-10 in fourth quarter before yielding to late surge by Eagles, who scored the deciding points on a 5-yard burst by Ted Dean.

Green Bay moved ahead in first quarter on a 20-yard Paul Hornung field goal. Hornung added 23-yard FG in second quarter but Eagles tied it 6-6 on a 35-yard scoring pass from Norm Van Brocklin to Tommy McDonald and edged ahead via Bobby Walston's first conversion. Walston followed with a 15-yard FG for a 10-6 halftime lead.

The Packers stopped Philadelphia at its own four late in the third period, then recaptured lead on a 7-yard TD pass from Bart Starr to Max McGee. A 58-yard kickoff return by Dean, however, ignited Eagles and victory eluded Packers, making their first title game appearance in 16 years.

1961 — GREEN BAY 37, NEW YORK 0 (City Stadium, Green Bay; renamed Lambeau Field in 1965) — Paul Hornung, on leave from the Army, scored a record-tying 19 points to key Packer decimination of Giants in first title game ever played in Green Bay.

A record Packer home crowd of 39,029 watched the Green and Gold erupt for 24 points in the second quarter. In all, the Packers scored seven times against the NFL's top defensive team of 1961, amassing four touchdowns and three field goals. The defense, meanwhile, was proving a devastating complement to the attack, intercepting four Giant passes and recovering one fumble.

Two interceptions, by Ray Nitschke and defensive back Hank Gremminger, set up touchdowns No. 2 and 3 while the fumble recovery by Forrest Gregg led to Hornung's second field goal and a Jesse Whittenton interception to Hornung's final FG.

1962 — GREEN BAY 16, NEW YORK 7 (Yankee Stadium, New York) — Out front all the way in a raw, cyclonic setting, Packers weather siege by vengeful Giants in primitive, hand-to-hand struggle. Ray Nitschke proves principal frustration to New Yorkers, seeking redemption for shutout humiliation in '61 title game. His deflection triggers interception to blunt early Giant drive to Green Bay 10. On way to being named game's most valuable player, he also registers two interceptions, one of which led to the Packers' only touchdown of the afternoon. The other set up a 29-yard field goal by Jerry Kramer, whose trio of three-pointers provided eventual margin.

Giants' only TD comes on block of Max McGee punt in Green Bay end zone midway through the third quarter.

A battered Jim Taylor sets playoff record with 31 rushing attempts, good for 85 yards.

1965 — GREEN BAY 13, BALTIMORE 10 (ot) (Lambeau Field, Green Bay) — Don Chandler's second field goal provided the winning margin for the Packers at 13:39 of sudden death overtime as Green Bay defeated Baltimore 13-10 in front of 50,484 partisans. His 25-yard kick ended the only overtime playoff game in Packer history, a contest necessitated when the two teams ended the regular season with matching 10-3-1 records.

Chandler's first field goal, a 22-yarder with 1:58 remaining in regulation to tie the game, remains controversial to this day, Baltimore loyalists claiming it was wide right. The kick sailed high above the uprights, making it difficult for game officials to determine its accuracy. Uprights were lengthened for the next season in an effort to avoid a recurrence of this situation.

The Colts, who were playing without starting quarterback Johnny Unitas (knee) and his backup, Gary Cuozzo (dislocated shoulder), used halfback Tom Matte as a fill-in. He completed only five passes, but did gain 57 yards rushing. Baltimore took a 10-0 halftime lead, scoring first 21 seconds into the game when linebacker Don Shinnick scooped up a Bill Anderson fumble and went 25 yards for a touchdown. Packers quarterback Bart Starr injured his ribs on the play, Green Bay's first from scrimmage, when he tried to get to Shinnick.

Zeke Bratkowski replaced Starr for the balance of the afternoon, completing 22 of 39 passes for 248 yards. The Packers moved to within 10-7 in the third quarter when Paul Hornung scored on a one-yard run, setting the stage for Chandler's heroics.

1965 — GREEN BAY 23, CLEVELAND 12 (Lambeau Field, Green Bay) — Field softened by four-inch snow made Packer backs only run harder as Lambeau Field crowd of 50,777 celebrated third championship in five years. Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung amassed 201 yards rushing in rally that overcame Browns' early 9-7 lead.

Packers charged to 7-0 first-quarter advantage on 47-yard Bart Starr pass to Carroll Dale and Don Chandler's conversion, but Cleveland moved in front 9-7 on a 17-yard TD strike from Frank Ryan to Gary Collins and 24-yard Lou Groza field goal.

Green Bay rebounded, however, with 15- and 23-yard FGs by Chandler, the latter following a Willie Wood interception, to claim 13-9 lead subsequently trimmed to a single point by a second Groza FG shortly before the intermission.

Starr settled the issue in third quarter, escorting the Packers on a 90-yard, 11-play scoring drive climaxed by Hornung's 13-yard sweep of Browns' right perimeter.

1966 — GREEN BAY 34, DALLAS 27 (Cotton Bowl, Dallas) — Bart Starr has one of his finest hours, passing for four touchdowns as Packers win second straight title and fourth in six years. Tom Brown thwarts last-minute Cowboy bid, and the majority of 74,152 Cotton Bowl fans, with end zone interception of Don Meredith's fourth down pass from Green Bay 2.

Packers mounted quick 14-0 lead on a 17-yard Starr pass to Elijah Pitts and 18-yard scoring run with a fumble recovery by rookie Jim Grabowski, but led only 21-17 at halftime following explosive Cowboy comeback. After a 32-yard Villanueva field goal had cut Packer lead to a tenuous 21-20, Starr hit Dowler and McGee with 16- and 28-yard scoring passes, respectively, to provide a cushion against the Cowboys' late surge.

1967 — GREEN BAY 28, LOS ANGELES 7 (Milwaukee County Stadium) — Travis Williams scored two touchdowns, on runs of 46 and 2 yards, and the Packers were able to weather three early turnovers as Green Bay downed the Los Angeles Rams, 28-7, in the first regularly-scheduled conference playoff in NFL history. After L.A. got on the board first via a 29-yard scoring pass from Roman Gabriel to Bernie Casey, the Packers responded with 28 unanswered points in one of the more memorable games at Milwaukee County Stadium.

Williams rushed for 88 yards on 18 total carries, while quarterback Bart Starr set a team record by completing 73.9% of his passes (17-23) for 222 yards and 1 touchdown. End Carroll Dale was the recipient of Starr's scoring toss, it covering 17 yards, and finished the afternoon with 6 catches for 109 yards. The Packer defense sacked Gabriel 5 times, including 3½ by tackle Henry Jordan.

The victory was Green Bay's first on a three-game run which would see the Packers defeat Dallas in the legendary "Ice Bowl" game eight days later, then top the Oakland Raiders for a second straight Super Bowl victory.

1967 — GREEN BAY 21, DALLAS 17 (Lambeau Field, Green Bay) — With thermometer shuddering at 13 below zero and a wind chill of minus 46, Bart Starr scores winning touchdown from one-yard-line with 13 seconds remaining, sealing record third straight championship for Packers and their fifth in seven years.

Starr's touchdown, on third down with no timeouts remaining, climaxed a 68-yard drive in 12 plays in front of 50,861 partisans.

As was case in 1966, Packers grabbed early 14-0 advantage. But this time Cowboys came from behind to take the lead, forcing storybook finish by Green Bay to win contest later voted the greatest game in pro football history.

Starr's touchdown passes of 8 and 43 yards to Boyd Dowler built the first-quarter bulge, trimmed in second quarter by George Andrie's 7-yard scoring return of a Starr fumble and a 21-yard Danny Villanueva field goal. Dan Reeves' 50-yard scoring strike to Lance Rentzel in the fourth quarter triggered the dramatic denouement.

1972 — WASHINGTON 16, GREEN BAY 3 (Robert F. Kennedy Stadium; Washington, D.C.) — Chester Marcol's 17-yard field goal early in the second quarter puts the Packers out front, but a Bill Kilmer-to-Roy Jefferson touchdown pass late in the same period gave the Redskins a lead they never yielded. Curt Knight kicked three field goals to provide the Redskins' other points before a crowd of 53,140 fans on Sunday afternoon, December 24. John Brockington, the Packers' 1,000-yard rusher, had to settle for nine yards on 13 carries as the Redskins used a five-man defensive line to shut down Green Bay's running game.

1982 — GREEN BAY 41, ST. LOUIS 16 (Lambeau Field, Green Bay) — Making their first post-season appearance in Lambeau Field since celebrated "Ice Bowl" game of 1967 against Dallas, Packers halt Cardinal drive at one-yard-line in first quarter, then proceed to forge an all-time club scoring record in their opening Super Bowl Tournament contest following 1982 season.

Out front 21-9 at halftime, they pad lead to 41-9 in fourth quarter before permitting Cards a consolation touchdown. Quarterback Lynn Dickey ties Packer playoff record before 54,282 fans by passing for four touchdowns (17 of 23 for 260 yards and 0 intercepts overall) and flanker John Jefferson sets club post-season mark with 148 receiving yards on 6 catches, including a 60-yard TD reception, another Packer playoff record. Placekicker Jan Stenerud also establishes a club playoff mark with a 46-yard field goal.

1982 — DALLAS 37, GREEN BAY 26 (Texas Stadium; Irving, Texas) — Packers amass 466 yards, a team playoff record, but are unable to overcome slow start which finds them trailing 20-7 at halftime. They roll up 363 yards and out-score Cowboys 19-17 in second half, pulling within four points (30-26) on a 22-yard scoring runback of an interception by Mark Lee in the fourth quarter. But Cowboys retaliate with 74-yard scoring drive to end Green Bay hopes with 63,972 fans looking on.

Quarterback Lynn Dickey throws for 332 yards (19 of 36), an all-time Packer playoff record, in losing cause. Split end James Lofton emerges with 109 yards on 5 receptions. Lofton also spices Packers' second-half comeback with 71-yard reverse for a TD, tying all-time NFL playoff record for a run from scrimmage.

1993 — GREEN BAY 28, DETROIT 24 (Pontiac Silverdome; Pontiac, Mich.) — In one of the most electrifying victories in their rich post-season history, Packers come from behind to shade NFC Central Division champion Detroit, 28-24, at Pontiac Silverdome on a dramatic, 40-yard touchdown pass from Brett Favre to Sterling Sharpe in the final minute. Favre's decisive strike, a scrambling, across-the-body throw from extreme left to extreme right, finds Sharpe wide open in end zone with 55 seconds remaining, capping a see-saw battle.

Earlier, rookie free safety George Teague had written himself into NFL postseason record book with a 101-yard interception return for a touchdown, his pickoff of Lions' Erik Kramer lifting Green Bay into a 21-17 lead. Sharpe equalled a league playoff mark himself by catching three touchdown passes in the contest, among his five receptions for 101 yards.

Lions' Barry Sanders, in his first game back from a knee injury, ignites Silverdome crowd of 68,479 with 169 yards rushing.

1993 — DALLAS 27, GREEN BAY 17 (Texas Stadium; Irving, Texas) — Packers grab early 3-0 lead over eventual Super Bowl champions, the points ensuing when Bill Bates' run on a fourth-down fake punt is stopped short by Green Bay defense. Momentum swings Cowboys' way shortly, however, as Dallas mounts 17-point surge in second quarter, eventually prevailing 27-17 in divisional playoff contest at Texas Stadium.

Quarterback Brett Favre passes for 331 yards (one yard shy of Packers' postseason record) and Sterling Sharpe turns in second straight 100-yard effort (6 receptions for 128 yards). But Cowboys' aerial duo matches up, quarterback Troy Aikman completing 28 of 37 passes for 302 yards and 3 touchdowns, while wideout Michael Irvin adds 9 catches for 126 yards.

1994 — GREEN BAY 16, DETROIT 12 (Lambeau Field, Green Bay) — Spurred by a classic, postseason record defensive performance, Packers outlast Detroit Lions 16-12 in team's first home playoff game since 1982 season. Coordinator Fritz Shurmur's defensive charges hold NFL's leading rusher, Barry Sanders, to career-low -1 yard on 13 attempts and limit Lions collectively to -4 yards on the ground — erasing a 31-year-old league playoff record.

Quarterback Brett Favre directs several long drives, helping Packers control the ball for 37-plus minutes, including 76-yard excursion on game's opening series, capped by 3-yard touchdown run by Dorsey Levens. Green Bay plays turnover-free football throughout, entertaining home playoff record crowd of 58,125. Chris Jacke adds three field goals to team's cause, including Packer post-season record 51-yarder.

But Lions pull to within 13-10 in fourth quarter on 3-yard touchdown pass from Dave Krieg to Brett Perriman and reach Packer 11-yard-line on final drive in game's closing moments. Green Bay defense stiffens, however, recapturing ball on downs, before Packer punter Craig Hentrich takes intentional safety to run out final seven seconds on clock.

1994 — DALLAS 35, GREEN BAY 9 (Texas Stadium; Irving, Texas) — After falling behind 21-3 in second quarter, Packers find themselves unable to mount second-half comeback, falling to Dallas in divisional playoff contest, 35-9. Green Bay is able to amass 327 yards of total offense but few points, and team's defense is victim of Cowboys' arsenal of offensive superstars.

Trailing only 7-3 in first quarter, Packers pin Dallas deep in its own territory, only to have their back broken when Cowboys connect on NFL playoff-record 94-yard touchdown pass from Troy Aikman to Alvin Harper. Aikman throws for 337 yards overall, while three different Dallas receivers — Michael Irvin (111), Harper (108) and Jay Novacek (104) — have 100-yard days.

Packer flanker Robert Brooks, moving into spot usually occupied by the injured Sterling Sharpe, equals his career best with 8 receptions for a game-high 138 yards.

1995 — GREEN BAY 37, ATLANTA 20 (Lambeau Field, Green Bay) — Utilizing a balanced offensive attack, including a Packer postseason record 108 yards on the ground from Edgar Bennett, Green Bay toppled the Atlanta Falcons 37-20 on a foggy, 30-degree afternoon. The Packers had earned an opening round home playoff game for the second straight season, this time by virtue of winning their first outright NFC Central crown in 23 years.

After a 65-yard touchdown pass from Jeff George to Eric Metcalf three minutes into the game gave Atlanta a 7-0 lead and stunned the home playoff record crowd of 60,453, the Packers quickly regained control, scoring two first quarter touchdowns to seize a 14-7 lead. Following a Falcons field goal which narrowed the gap to four, Green Bay broke the game open midway through the second period when rookie Antonio Freeman returned a punt 76 yards for a touchdown — the first scoring return of a punt or kickoff in club postseason history. Mark Chmura's two-yard touchdown catch from Brett Favre with less than a minute remaining before halftime, capping a 14-play, 85-yard drive, gave the Packers a commanding 27-10 advantage as the teams headed into the locker room.

Green Bay matched the Falcons score for score in the second half, Favre's third TD toss of the day — a beautiful, lofting throw to fullback Dorsey Levens with just under eight minutes to play — cementing the issue. Favre completed passes to nine different Packer receivers in the contest, while Bennett averaged 4.5 yards and scored once on 24 rushing attempts.

1995 — GREEN BAY 27, SAN FRANCISCO 17 (3Com Park, San Francisco) — Physically menacing the 49er offense throughout the day, Green Bay pulled off a shocking upset of defending Super Bowl champion San Francisco in its home stadium, 27-17, and advanced to the NFC Championship Game for the first time since the 1970 league merger. The victory was especially sweet for Packers head coach Mike Holmgren, a native San Franciscan who, for the first time, was opposing the team with which he had gotten his NFL start.

After an opening drive by the Packers which had reached the 49ers' 26-yard-line only to end in a blocked field goal, Green Bay's defense immediately set the tone for the rest of the game. On San Francisco's first play from scrimmage, linebacker Wayne Simmons drilled Niners fullback Adam Walker, the recipient of a screen pass in the right flat, Walker fumbling and the ball being scooped up by rookie cornerback Craig Newsome, who ran 31 yards into the end zone for a 7-0 lead. The Packers subsequently mounted 62- and 72-yard scoring drives on their next two possessions, Brett Favre throwing touchdown passes to Keith Jackson and Mark Chmura respectively, to assume an authoritative 21-0 advantage four minutes into the second quarter.

Favre, the league MVP during the regular season, played like, well, the league MVP, completing a club playoff record 75.0% of his passes (21-28) in the win. Jackson, who had two long receptions over the middle to help set up Green Bay scores, caught four passes for 101 yards, while flanker Robert Brooks also had over 100 yards receiving (103) on an identical number of catches.

The 49ers did close to within 21-10 midway through the third quarter before Packers kicker Chris Jacke booted two important field goals to stretch the Green Bay lead back to 17 points. San Francisco later added a meaningless touchdown in the game's last minute for the final margin.

The Packer defense, which forced four turnovers, battered 49ers quarterback Steve Young all afternoon, sacking him three times and knocking him down on countless other occasions as he attempted an NFL playoff record

65 passes in a futile comeback bid. Jerry Rice, San Francisco's receiver nonpareil, while making 11 receptions was limited to virtually no yards after the catch.

1995 — DALLAS 38, GREEN BAY 27 (Texas Stadium; Irving, Texas) — Packers, one victory away from their first Super Bowl appearance in 28 years, hold lead into fourth quarter before finally succumbing to offensive firepower of eventual Super Bowl champion Dallas, 38-27. Emmitt Smith, behind Cowboys' massive offensive line, rushes for 150 yards and three touchdowns on 35 carries as Green Bay sees its season end at Texas Stadium for the third straight year.

After a blocked punt leads to a quick field goal by the Packers, Dallas comes back, quarterback Troy Aikman throwing two TD passes to Michael Irvin. Green Bay answers, however, with two quick scores of its own — a team postseason record 73-yard pass from Brett Favre to Robert Brooks as well as a Favre-to-Keith Jackson connection — to vault into the lead, 17-14. Cowboys score another 10 points before halftime, though, to go up 24-17.

Green Bay gets first 10 points of second half, including a 1-yard touchdown pass from Favre to Brooks, to hold a 27-24 advantage heading into the final 15 minutes. Smith's talents glisten in the fourth quarter, however, as he rushes for two touchdowns — sandwiched around a drive-killing interception by the Cowboys' Larry Brown in Dallas territory — to give Texans their third Super Bowl appearance in four years.

PACKER PRO HALL OF FAMERS

The Green Bay Packers boast 19 individuals who spent the majority of their careers with the club in the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio. The Packers' total is second only to that of the Chicago Bears, who have 24. The New York Giants and Washington Redskins, with 14 apiece, are third.

In addition, five other players who played briefly for Green Bay — end Len Ford, linebacker Ted Hendricks, guard/coach Walt Kiesling, kicker Jan Stenerud and safety Emlen Tunnell — have their busts displayed in the Hall of Fame.

Biographies of the Packers' 19 primary HOF players follow:

1963 — Earl L. (Curly) Lambeau, Founder, player, coach, vice president (1919-49). Founded Packers in 1919 and served as team's only coach through 1949 season. Also played halfback from '19 through '27, a period during which he pioneered forward pass in professional football. Led Packers to six world championships and is one of only five coaches to record more than 200 coaching victories in the NFL (others are George Halas, Don Shula, Tom Landry and Chuck Noll). Also coached Chicago Cardinals (1950-51) and Washington Redskins (1952-53).

1963 — Robert (Cal) Hubbard, T (1929-35). Also played for New York Giants, Pittsburgh Pirates. A legendary athlete, he was one of pro football's first genuine giants — a massive 6-ft. 3-inch, 265-pounder who was a devastating blocker on offense and relentless pursuer on defense as a premier, two-way performer. Was an All-Pro choice in each of first three years (1931, '32, '33) such selections were made. Selected to NFL's All-50 Year Team in 1970 and to All-Time Two-Way Team in 1994. Played college football at Centenary, Geneva.

1963 — Don Hutson, E (1935-45). Made third-most touchdown receptions (99) in pro football history, an all-time NFL record until broken by Steve Largent and subsequently surpassed by Jerry Rice. Credited with inventing pass patterns, he led league in receiving 8 years and in scoring 5 seasons, both also lifetime marks. Named to NFL's All-50 Year Team in 1970, later was selected to league's 75th Anniversary and All-Time Two-Way teams in 1994. Led NFL in receiving yards in 7 seasons, an all-time record. Also holds league record for most points scored in one quarter (29). Played collegiately at Alabama. Named to four Pro Bowls.

1963 — Johnny (Blood) McNally, HB (1928-36). Also played for Milwaukee Badgers, Duluth Eskimos, Pottsville Maroons, Pittsburgh Pirates. An elusive runner and gifted pass receiver, he played major role in Packers' drive to first three championships in 1929, '30 and '31. Also helped Packers win a fourth world title in '36. Going into 1996 season, still held 19th place in Packer lifetime scoring, six decades after departing Green Bay scene, with 224 points. Collegiate star at St. John's.

1964 — Clarke Hinkle, FB (1932-41). A four-time All-Pro selection (1936, '37, '38, '41). One of the most versatile players in NFL annals, he was tough, bruising runner, fine blocker, good receiver and excellent placekicker as well as shrewd, hard-hitting linebacker. Fourth-ranking rusher in Packer history with 3,860 yards in 1,171 carries. Was selected to NFL's All-Time Two-Way Team in 1994. Played college football at Bucknell. Named to three Pro Bowls.

PACKER PRO HALL OF FAMERS

1964 — Mike Michalske, G (1929-37). Also played for New York Yankees (1927-28) before joining Packers. Rated one of game's greatest guards during pro football's "two-way" era. Two-time All-Pro selection (1931 and 1935). A true 60-minute player, he was known as "Iron Mike" because of his great stamina and durability. Best asset was exceptional quickness, which made him equally effective on both offense and defense. Played college football at Penn State.

1966 — Arnie Herber, QB (1930-41). Also played for New York Giants (1944-45). Pro football's first great long passer. Won three National Football League passing titles and was All-Pro selection in 1932. Teamed with Don Hutson to form NFL's first feared passing combination in mid-'30s. Ranks fifth in Packer annals with 64 career touchdown passes over his 12 seasons. Tough, durable athlete and accomplished punter as well as great passer. A Green Bay native, he played college football at Regis (Denver, Colo.)

1971 — Vince Lombardi, Coach and General Manager (1959-67). General Manager only in 1968. Also assistant coach for New York Giants (1954-58) and head coach of Washington Redskins (1969). Directed Packers to five NFL championships in seven years (1961-62 and 1965-66-67), a feat without precedent or parallel in pro football history. His 1966 and 1967 teams also made history by winning first two Super Bowls. Packers won nine of 10 playoff games under his leadership and overall compiled a 98-30-4 record, a glittering .758 winning percentage. Lombardi, a guard, played his college football at Fordham, where he was one of the legendary "Seven Blocks of Granite."

1974 — Tony Canadeo, HB (1941-44, 1946-52). Became only the third 1,000-yard rusher in pro football history when he gained 1,052 yards in 1949. Still ranks as No. 3 ground gainer in Packer annals with 4,197 yards in 1,025 attempts, a 4.1 average. A durable, all-purpose halfback, he was an accomplished blocker, capable passer and good receiver in addition to being a highly effective kick returner. Also played defensive back during early years of his career. Played college football at Gonzaga, where he acquired nickname of "Grey Ghost."

1976 — Jim Taylor, FB (1958-66). Also played for New Orleans Saints (1967). Rushed for over 1,000 yards five straight seasons (1960-64). Heading into '96 campaign, still is NFL's 15th ranking career rusher with 8,597 yards over his 10 seasons. Also owns league's eighth highest lifetime total of rushing touchdowns — 83. Is Packers' all-time leading ground gainer with 8,207 yards to his credit during his nine seasons in Green Bay. Had 26 career 100-yard rushing games. Played his college football at LSU. Named to five Pro Bowls.

Voted to NFL's 75th Anniversary Team in 1994. Holds the Packer record for durability with 187 consecutive games played. Head Coach of the Green Bay Packers 1984-87. Also served as head coach of Cleveland Browns (1975-77) and Cincinnati Bengals (1980-83). Played college football at SMU.

1977 — Bart Starr, QB (1956-71). Drafted in 17th round in 1956. Became the winningest quarterback in football, directing the Packers to 6 Western Division Titles, 5 World Titles, 2 Super Bowl victories, and was named MVP in Super Bowls I and II. A Pro Bowl selection eight times, he also played in six NFL championship games, helping Packers win five titles. Starting free safety for Green Bay in Super Bowls I and II, broke open a close contest in third quarter of SBI, intercepting a Len Dawson pass and returning 50 yards to the K.C. 5, triggering a 35-10 Packer victory. Had 48 career interceptions, returned for 699 yards. Won NFL title in 1962 with nine thefts and also captured a league punt return crown in 1961 with a 16.1 average. PACKERS OWN OVERTIME MARK

Over a decade later, Green Bay continues to own the National Football League record for most overtime games played in one season — a mark set by the club in 1983 when it was involved in five sudden death decisions, winning two while losing three. The Packers' most recent OT experience came last Dec. 10 in a nationally-televised, Sunday night game at Tampa Bay, one they lost by a 13-10 score when the Bucs won the coin toss and drove downfield for a field goal.

Green Bay has played in 20 total contests which have gone into overtime, standing 5-10-4 in the regular season and 1-0 in the postseason for an overall mark of 6-10-4.

The lone postseason occurrence was a historic 13-10 victory over the Baltimore Colts in a Western Conference playoff game — the first overtime game in which the Packers ever were involved — in Green Bay's Lambeau Field Dec. 26, 1965, on a 25-yard Don Chandler field goal.

In addition to regular and postseason play, the Packers have played five overtime games in preseason action. Capsules of the Packers' regular and postseason overtime games follow:

MONDAY NIGHT FOOTBALL RESULTS

Playing on 'Monday Night Football' at home for the first time in a decade, the Green Bay Packers also will encounter a number of other "firsts" this season when it comes to prime-time play, including the first time that the club ever has had two home Monday night games in the same season since the ABC-TV prime-time series was launched in 1970. In fact, of the team's 21 previous contests on a Monday night, only three have been played at Lambeau Field (there also were three such battles held at Milwaukee County Stadium in the 1970s). Green Bay's last home Monday night game was Sept. 22, 1986, a 25-12 loss to the Chicago Bears, a contest which also saw Packers cornerback Tim Lewis have his career ended by a neck injury.

The Packers will be making the league-maximum three appearances on 'Monday Night Football' in 1996 and have a team-record four prime-time games in all, including their Nov. 24 Sunday evening tilt at the St. Louis Rams. The last time that Green Bay was on Monday night three times in the same year was 1983, when it faced the Giants, Buccaneers and Redskins, the Washington contest still standing as the highest scoring game in 'MNF' history.

Now on 'Monday Night Football' for the fourth straight season after a seven-year absence, the Packers stand 9-11-1 on the ABC series which perennially is among the nation's most watched television programs. Green Bay will be facing first-time Monday night foes in the Eagles and Cowboys, while the Packers' only previous 'MNF' duel with the 49ers was a 1973 loss at San Francisco.

The Rams also are an inaugural prime-time opponent for Green Bay. The Packers hold a 4-4 mark on the combined TNT/ESPN prime-time series, including a 2-2 record on this year's venue, ESPN.

Even 13 years later, the Packers continue to hold the distinction of being a part of the highest scoring game in Monday night history — a 48-47 track meet with the Washington Redskins on Oct. 17, 1983, in front of 55,255 spectators at Lambeau Field. Facing the then-reigning Super Bowl champions, the Packers prevailed in a contest which featured 11 touchdowns, 11 extra points and six field goals in the final tally.

Jan Stenerud's 20-yard FG with but 54 seconds remaining decided the issue, though a final, dramatic flourish was added when the 'Skins' Mark Moseley missed a 39-yard field goal try as time expired.

The 95-point production surpassed the previous Monday Night Football scoring mark by a whopping 11 points — set Dec. 20, 1982, when San Diego outscored Cincinnati 50-34. The contest also represented the highest scoring game in the Packers' history, surpassing Green Bay's 52-35 loss at Detroit in 1951.

BIRTH OF A TEAM AND A LEGEND

On the evening of August 11, 1919, a score or more of husky young athletes, called together by Curly Lambeau and George Calhoun, gathered in the dingy editorial room of the old Green Bay Press-Gazette building on Cherry Street and organized a football team. They didn't know it, but that was the beginning of the incredible saga of the Green Bay Packers.

There had been some preliminary talk and planning and that night's decision wasn't announced until two days later, but the big step had been taken. So August 11 is as good a birthday as any.

Actually the initial spark had been struck a few weeks before during a casual street corner conversation between Curly Lambeau and George Calhoun. It was apparently one of those "Why not get up a football team?" remarks, but once they got interested they wasted no time.

FIRST THEY TALKED Curly's employer at the Indian Packing Company into putting up some money for equipment.

Because the team's jerseys had been provided by the packing company, which also permitted the use of its athletic field for practice, the club was identified in its early publicity as a project of the company. With this tie-in the name "Packers" was a natural, and Packers they have been ever since, although the corporation had practically faded out of the picture before that first season was half over.

That first season the team won 10 games and lost only one against other teams from Wisconsin and Upper Michigan. Games were played in an open field with no fences or bleachers, and interested fans "passed the hat." But the team was so successful by 1921 that Lambeau was backed by two officials of the packing plant in obtaining a franchise in the new national pro football league that had been formed in 1920. Cash customers didn't quite pay the freight and at the end of the season it had to be forfeited.

THIS WAS the first in a long series of troubles that the now famous team overcame, for in 1922 Lambeau gained other backers and bought the franchise back for $250. Troubles continued during that season. One game was rained out and the insurance company wouldn't pay off because the official amount of rain was one one-hundredth of an inch short of that required in the policy.

Another storm late in the season when the Packers were scheduled to play the Duluth Kelleys, however, proved the founding of the modern community corporation. A.B. Turnbull, general manager of the Green Bay Press-Gazette, told the Packers to play anyway. He then went out and helped organize the businessmen of Green Bay in the support of the team, and the Green Bay Football Corporation was formed.

FROM THOSE MODEST and somewhat tenuous beginnings, the Packers have gone on to earn national stature and virtual world-wide recognition by winning more championships (11) over the intervening 70-plus years than any other team in professional football.

The fact that these achievements have come while representing a city of only 101,000 inhabitants, in competition with the country's population giants, has endeared them to the nation's football fans, many of whom are intrigued by the David vs. Goliath concept and the Packers' unique status as a publicly-owned corporation.

INEVITABLY, PROCEDURES at Packer games have come a long way since the sandlot years of 1919-20 when the Pack was subsisting on the contents of George Calhoun's hat. Then there were no ushers, no cheerleaders, no band and no public address system — the latter hadn't been invented yet. There weren't even any seats at first, and it didn't cost anything to get in.

When the Packers began their existence in 1919, they played on approximately the same site as the now abandoned City (East) Stadium, but with a mighty difference. Hagemeister Park, as it was called, was just a big vacant lot with a football gridiron marked on it.

There were no gates because there wasn't any fence. Spectators just dropped off the Walnut Street streetcar and walked over to the sideline, or drove their own cars and parked about 10 yards behind the ropes stretched around the playing field.

If they felt like it they either sat in their automobiles or on top of them, but most preferred to get out and follow the play up and down the field. By moving as the play progressed, you always had a "50-yard line" location and were handy to any donnybrook that might require a little help. In fact, when things got exciting the crowd sometimes spilled right onto the field, surrounded the scrimmage in a big circle and virtually took part in every play. Teams didn't huddle in those days, or the fans would have been in that too.

When the half ended, teams grabbed blankets and adjourned to opposite end zones where they relaxed and talked over the tactics of the next half. Nothing private about those huddles. The crowd formed a ring around the players, a practice encouraged since it made a handy wind break. Fans weren't bashful about joining the discussions either, sometimes with surprising results. At least one early game was pulled out of the fire by a spectator's halftime suggestion.

In 1920 a section of stands was built — just a small bleacher with a capacity of a couple hundred — on one side of the field, and a fee charged to sit there. The next year a portable canvas fence was erected around the whole field and a regular admission charge inaugurated.

WHEN HAGEMEISTER Park was dug up in 1923 to make way for East High School, the Packers shifted to the new baseball grounds out on the end of Main Street. This was called Bellevue Park because it was just east of the old Hagemeister Brewery, which was renamed the Bellevue Products Co. during Prohibition. Things were Big Time out there, with crowds of 4,000 to 5,000 storming the fences to boo the hated Chicago Bears.

The Packers used Bellevue in 1923-24, but it was obviously inadequate and too far out, lacking about every facility needed for football. Agitation to build a new stadium somewhere near the original site culminated in the erection of old City Stadium just back of the new high school.

The new plant was barely completed in time for the 1925 opening, but was an immediate success, the Bear game that year drawing a record crowd of 5,389. It was a typical small town park of its day, with wooden fences and stands on both sides between the 30-yard lines. Seating capacity was gradually increased until it seated 15,000 by 1934, with the end zones still uncovered. With the filling in of the area around the end lines the ultimate capacity of 25,000 was reached.

AFTER WORLD WAR II, City Stadium gradually faded from its once proud position as one of the favored fields in the National Football League to an inadequate and obsolete installation. As pro crowds increased it was impossible to expand the stadium any further. With limited capacity, the Packers found it increasingly difficult to schedule top opponents at home. September 29, 1957, was a proud day for Green Bay and its Packers. A million dollar modern stadium with a seating capacity of 32,150 was dedicated. In 1961, the stadium was expanded to 38,669, to 42,327 in 1963, to 50,852 in 1965 when the name was changed to Lambeau Field, to 56,263 in 1970, and to 56,926 following the first addition of private boxes in 1985. With the building of 36 more private boxes and 1,920 club seats in the south end zone, seating was upped to 59,543 in 1990. A subsequent, 1995 expansion of 90 private boxes in the north end zone, which also included an auxiliary press box, gave the stadium a total of 198 boxes and a new capacity of 60,790.

The Packers' colorful saga, spanning 77 years, can be divided roughly into eight chapters. They take us from the "Iron Man" period of the first decade under founder Curly Lambeau to the present day, which finds Mike Holmgren presiding as the 11th head coach in the team's history.

THE IRON MAN ERA — With good financial backing, Lambeau began to pick up college stars from all over the country, plus some unknowns who were going to turn out to be "greats." And in 1929 Green Bay won the national professional football championship. It repeated in 1930 and in 1931 with a team featuring such all-time pro greats as Red Dunn, Verne Lewellen, Cal Hubbard, Bo Molenda, Jug Earp, Mike Michalske, Johnny (Blood) McNally, Bill Kern, Arnie Herber, Clarke Hinkle, Lavvie Dilweg, Tom Nash, Milt Gantenbein and Hank Bruder. Many games 12 or 13 players would go for almost the full 60 minutes. These teams were hailed all over the country as some of the greatest ever.

THE HUTSON PERIOD — Trouble flared again soon afterward. A fan fell from the stands, sued and won a $5,000 verdict and the insurance company went out of business. The Packers went into receivership and were just about to fold when Green Bay businessmen came to the rescue again, raised $15,000 in new capital and reorganized the club. About this time a rather slight, lanky end by the name of Don Hutson came to the club. From his first game on, Hutson became the terror of the league and the secret of Green Bay's next three championships. With Herber and Cecil Isbell pitching and Hutson catching anything they threw at him despite any kind of a stop-Hutson defense, Green Bay won championships in 1936, 1939 and 1944, and all during the Hutson era the Packers always finished in the first division.

RONZANI REGIME — After Hutson's retirement, Packer fortunes again went into a decline. The disastrous pro football war brought on another financial crisis after the 1949 season. In the midst of it Lambeau resigned to take a position as head coach of the Chicago Cardinals. Then began another major reorganization and rebuilding effort with Gene Ronzani of the Bears hired as head coach. Over $125,000 was raised in a giant stock sale all over the state. Ronzani's teams improved each of the first three seasons until 1952. The Packers were in the thick of the title chase until the last weeks of the season. In 1953 the team played erratic ball and Ronzani resigned with two games remaining on the schedule.

BLACKBOURN TAKES OVER — The Packers overhauled their front office and coaching staff in 1954, hiring Verne Lewellen, all-time Packer great, attorney and businessman, as general manager. Reaching into the college ranks for a head coach was the next step in the rebuilding plans and Lisle Blackbourn, coach of Marquette University, was signed to a contract. During the four-year Blackbourn regime the Packers won 17 while losing 31.

McLEAN MOVES UP — Likable Ray "Scooter" McLean moved up from being an outstanding assistant coach to guide the destiny of the Packers for 1958. McLean resigned in December after a 1-10-1 record, the worst in Packer history in his lone season as head coach.

THE LOMBARDI ERA — In 1959, the Packers announced the signing of New York Giants assistant Vince Lombardi as head coach and general manager.

In his first season, Lombardi lifted the Packers to a 7-5 record and unanimously was voted Coach of the Year. Then in 1960, the Packers captured the Western Division title and went on to win World Championships in 1961, 1962, 1965, 1966 and 1967. Never finishing lower than second since 1960, his teams became the standard of football excellence and the Packer franchise one of the most successful. Over a nine-year span as head coach, Lombardi's teams racked up 98 victories against 30 losses and 4 ties for a remarkable .758 winning percentage. Even more noteworthy, however, is the record of Lombardi coached teams in postseason play. In 10 division playoffs and World Championship games, the Packers emerged victorious nine times.

BENGTSON PERIOD — Following the third consecutive title in 1967, Lombardi turned over the head coaching duties to Phil Bengtson and one year later announced that he was leaving Green Bay to coach and manage the Washington Redskins. Bengtson coached the Packers from 1968-1970, compiling a 20-21-1 record, and in December of 1970 resigned.

THE DEVINE DAYS — Dan Devine, one of the three most successful coaches in the nation's collegiate ranks, succeeded Bengtson as head coach and general manager in January of 1971. After settling for a 4-8-2 record during his first season, Devine and the Packers appeared on the road to new heights when 1972 produced a 10-4 record and the team's first Central Division title since 1967. But the Packers' Super Bowl hopes dissolved in the second half of '73 and they slipped to a 5-7-2 mark. They continued their recession in '74, emerging with a 6-8 record, and Devine resigned.

THE STARR TREK — The most successful field general in pro football history as Green Bay's quarterback of the '60s, Bart Starr accepted the challenge to lead the Packers out of the NFL wilderness, agreeing to a three-year contract as head coach and general manager on December 24, 1974. Starr, who led the Packers to five world championships from 1961 through 1967, asked for "the prayers and patience of Packer fans everywhere...We will earn everything else."

Although he had to settle for a 4-10 record in the baptismal season of a massive rebuilding project, Starr gave Packer fans new hope by assembling a sound organization and restoring a positive attitude, underscored by three victories in the last five games of the 1975 season. He continued the resurgent trend in 1976, leading the Packers to a 5-9 record, highlighted by a three-game, mid-season winning streak. Major and key injuries slowed the comeback in 1977 but a strong finish produced a 4-10 mark. Hopes soared in 1978 when the Packers posted their first winning slate since 1972, an 8-7-1 record, only to be temporarily dampened in '79 by a record rash of injuries which spawned a 5-11 mark. Another injury epidemic, one which saw 27 players on injured reserve during the course of the season, struck in 1980, forcing the Packers to settle for a 5-10-1 record.

Rebounding strongly in 1981, they rallied from a disappointing 2-6 start to mount one of the most dramatic comebacks in Green Bay history, closing with a 6-2 rush (an 8-8 mark) and coming within one victory of the playoffs.

The Packers continued the upsurge in 1982, when they qualified for the playoffs for the first time since 1972 by posting a 5-3-1 record during a strike-interrupted season. They then embellished that performance by routing St. Louis 41-16 in the first game of the NFL's Super Bowl Tournament before bowing to Dallas (37-26) despite a record-setting, 466-yard offensive effort. Starr was relieved of his head coaching duties on December 19, 1983, after the Packers finished the '83 season with an 8-8 record and missed the NFL playoffs on the final week of the year.

GREGG ERA — On December 24, 1984, Starr was replaced by Forrest Gregg, a former teammate and one of the premier offensive tackles in the history of the game as a player, who had maneuvered Cincinnati into Super Bowl XVI following the 1981 season. Gregg, whose Bengals' 19-6 record over the 1981-82 seasons was the best in pro football, received a five-year contract.

In taking over, he declared, "I took this job to field a winning team. That will happen."

Gregg's prediction began to bear fruit in the second half of the 1984 season when the Packers rebounded from an injury-ridden 1-7 start to win seven of their last eight games.

Because of injury and other complications, however, the 1985 season followed the '84 script, the Packers getting off to a slow 3-6 start before mounting a strong finish to again close at 8-8 by winning five of their last seven games.

Gregg, convinced the time had come to rebuild a team which had gone 8-and-8 three years in succession and was "starting to get old" at that level, made sweeping personnel changes in 1986. The young and inexperienced Packers, their task complicated by injuries to key performers, got off to an 0-6 start, then began to mature in mid-season and went on to finish with a 4-and-12 record.

Following the 1987 season, which saw the Packers finish third in the NFC Central with a 5-9-1 record, Gregg resigned (January 15, 1988) to become head coach at his alma mater, Southern Methodist University.

INFANTE SIGNS ON — Nineteen days later (February 3), Cleveland Browns offensive coordinator Lindy Infante became the 10th head coach in Packer history. Recognized throughout the NFL as a brilliant innovator, the 47-year-old University of Florida alumnus received a five-year contract.

With turnovers and kicking problems plaguing his offense, Infante's first Packer team had to settle for a 4-and-12 record, but left fans with hopes for 1989 and the future by winning the last two games to mount a strong finish.

Building upon that positive note, Infante orchestrated a dramatic upsurge in '89, escorting the Packers to a 10-6 record — their best in 17 years — and within one game of the National Football League playoffs, spicing that turnabout with a league-record four one-point victories.

In 1990, subsequent high hopes for the team's first postseason berth in a non-strike year since 1972 evaporated when the Packers — with a contending, 6-5 record after 11 games — saw a potential playoff opportunity expire in the face of a season-ending, five-game losing streak.

The Packers' field fortunes continued to decline in 1991, the record falling to 4-12, and Infante was relieved of his duties on December 22 by new Executive Vice President/General Manager Ron Wolf, who had been hired November 27 with full authority to run the organization's football operation.

THE PRESENT — Mike Holmgren, architect of one of the NFL's most potent attacks as offensive coordinator for the perennially successful, then four-time Super Bowl champion San Francisco 49ers, was named by Wolf to succeed Infante as the 11th head coach in Packer history on January 11, 1992. Holmgren, sought after by five other NFL clubs, received a five-year contract.

Getting his team on track after an 0-and-2 start, the former USC field general directed the Packers to a 9-and-7 record and within striking range of the playoffs. He thus became only the third head coach in Packer history to post a winning record in his first season, a record punctuated by a six-game winning streak, longest by a Packer team since 1965.

In 1993, his second season at the controls, Holmgren took his team to the next level — the playoffs — despite the loss of four starters to injuries and a nagging turf toe problem which hampered the Packers' principal offensive weapon, wide receiver Sterling Sharpe, over the last half of the season.

Surmounting these handicaps, the Green and Gold forged a second straight 9-and-7 record — against a considerably more demanding schedule — to qualify for postseason play for the first time since 1982, then posted a last-minute, come-from-behind victory over the Detroit Lions (28-24) in their first playoff assignment before falling to the repeating Super Bowl champion Dallas Cowboys (27-17) in their second, a divisional playoff.

In 1994, the Packers continued to experience success under Holmgren, staking a third consecutive 9-and-7 regular-season mark and making it to the playoffs for the second year in a row — registering both of these achievements for the first time since the memorable "Titletown" days of the '60s.

Riding a three-game winning streak into the postseason, they parlayed a record defensive performance and a turnover-free offensive effort into a 16-12 victory over the Detroit Lions in their initial playoff game — their first home playoff game since 1983 — holding the incomparable Barry Sanders to minus-one yard rushing in 13 attempts in the process. The Packers advanced despite playing without the services of their All-Pro wide receiver Sharpe, whose brilliant Green Bay career had been ended by a neck injury diagnosed after the team's regular-season finale. As had been the case a year earlier, their postseason came to a close at Dallas in their second game, the Cowboys prevailing in a divisional playoff, 35-9.

Closing ranks with highly productive results following the loss of Sharpe, the 1995 Packers put together one of the hallmark seasons in their history. Winning six of their last seven games, they captured their first NFC Central Division championship since 1972, then made their best postseason showing in over a quarter-century, forging all the way to the National Football Conference Championship Game for the first time since 1967.

En route, they closed out the regular season with an 11-5 record — their best since 1966, when they posted a 12-2 mark in capturing the NFL title — and followed that accomplishment by dispatching the Atlanta Falcons, 37-20, in a first-round playoff at Lambeau Field.

Building upon that triumph, the Packers mounted one of the premier performances in their postseason history, formally dethroning the defending Super Bowl Champion San Francisco 49ers in their own 3Com Park, 27-17. Again, however, the Packers' dreams of a third trip to the Super Bowl subsequently foundered in Dallas, where they fell to the Cowboys, 38-27, in the NFC title game, after leading 27-24 at the end of three quarters.

Quarterback Brett Favre passed for 4,413 yards in 1995, the second-highest production in team history behind Lynn Dickey's 4,458 yards in 1983. It was only the third time a Packer quarterback has passed for over 4,000 yards (Don Majkowski is the other with 4,318 in 1989). In the process, Favre became the first Packer quarterback since Majkowski in 1989 to lead the NFL in passing yardage.

Boyd Dowler (1959-69), the fourth-ranking receiver in Packer history, still holds two team playoff records — for most career touchdowns, 5 (all on receptions), and for the longest punt — a 64-yard effort launched against the New York Giants during a 37-0 Packer victory in the 1961 NFL Championship Game. Dowler, who doubled as Green Bay's punter during the '61 regular season, finished fifth in the NFL overall, averaging 44.1 yards for 38 punts, with a long of 75 yards.

PACKER RADIO NETWORK

Jim Irwin and Max McGee team up for the 17th consecutive season on the Packer Radio Network, and for the second straight year are joined by Larry McCarren. The trio will bring all of the color and excitement of Green Bay Packers football to fans throughout Wisconsin and Upper Michigan in 1996.

Irwin, who enters his 28th year as a member of the Packers' broadcast team, is recognized as one of the nation's most knowledgeable and authoritative play-by-play announcers. Sports director at WTMJ Radio, Irwin served as a color analyst from 1969-74 before taking over play-by-play duties in 1975. A graduate of the esteemed journalism school at the University of Missouri, his skills as a sports journalist have been recognized by his peers on multiple occasions. Irwin has earned Wisconsin 'Sportscaster of the Year' recognition 10 times, the most recent coming in 1989, and was inducted into the Wisconsin Broadcast Association Hall of Fame in July of 1994. His past credits include play-by-play on radio broadcasts of the Milwaukee Bucks (1979-93) and University of Wisconsin football (1969-90) and basketball.

Popular among fans and respected for his unique insights into the game, McGee brings a one-of-a-kind style to the broadcast booth. A Packer Hall of Famer, McGee is one of the team's all-time receiving greats and still stands fifth among Green Bay pass catchers over a quarter-century after completing his 12-year playing career (1954, 1957-67). Listeners respond to his droll, penetrating and sometimes irreverent wit, applied impartially to friend and foe alike.

Also a Packer Hall of Famer, McCarren is no stranger to the populace in northeastern Wisconsin. Sports director at WFRV-TV in Green Bay, McCarren additionally serves as host of two weekly Packer-related programs during the season. He was voted Wisconsin 'Sportscaster of the Year' by the National Sportscasters and Sportwriters Association early in 1995. An iron man at center for the Packers for 12 seasons (1973-84), McCarren played in 162 consecutive games — tied for the second-longest streak in team history.

WTMJ Radio, which has been broadcasting the team's games since November of 1929, continues its long-standing role as the flagship station of the Packer Radio Network. That designation is set to continue beyond the turn of the century as the two parties announced a long-term extension to their radio broadcast rights agreement early in 1995. A complete listing of the 58 stations in 44 markets which make up the Packer Radio Network this season is listed on the ensuing page.

Robert Brooks, taking over the flanker role in the Packer offense in record-breaking fashion, caught 102 passes in 1995, the third-highest total in club annals, for a team-record 1,497 yards, breaking Sterling Sharpe's previous standard, 1,461, set in 1992. Brooks also posted nine 100-yard receiving games to erase Sharpe's club record of seven, also set in '92.

FUTURE SUPER BOWL DATES AND SITES

tentative date*

Quarterback Brett Favre, mindful that Super Bowl XXXI will be played in New Orleans — only about an hour by car from his hometown of Kiln, Miss. — has high hopes that this will be the year he can take the Packers to the league's title game.

THE LAMBEAU FIELD STORY

Venerable Lambeau Field, now the longest tenured NFL stadium following the departure of Cleveland Stadium from the league scene, enters its 40th season of operation in 1996. Having undergone a number of major alterations in its four decades of existence, including numerous seating additions to reach its current capacity of 60,790, the facility has become one of the most recognized and envied venues in all of professional sports.

In recent years it also has become one of the toughest places to play in the National Football League. Since Mike Holmgren took over as head coach in 1992, Green Bay holds an impressive 19-4 regular-season record at Lambeau, plus a 2-0 mark in the playoffs. Even more imposing is the fact that the Packers have won 18 of their last 19 games in Green Bay (including the two postseason victories).

Modern in many ways — from its 198 private boxes and 1,920 club seats to its technologically-advanced sound system to its two brand-new, end zone scoreboards, each with a Sony JumboTron color replay board — Lambeau still maintains a nostalgic and intimate feel to it with totally unobstructed sightlines. Permeated by history, tradition and mystique, the view from inside can be awe-inspiring.

Erected in 1957, the structure was dedicated as City Stadium on September 29 of that year — a day which saw Green Bay topple the hated Chicago Bears, 21-17 — during ceremonies attended by then-Vice President Richard M. Nixon and National Football League Commissioner Bert Bell. It later was renamed Lambeau Field in 1965 following the death of E.L. "Curly" Lambeau, founder and first coach of the Packers.

Originally built at a cost of $960,000, an amount shared equally by the Packer Corporation and the City of Green Bay, the facility was financed by way of a bond issue which received 2-to-1 voter approval in a municipal referendum conducted April 3, 1956.

Since that time, seating additions — all of them underwritten by the Green Bay Packers, Inc. — have increased stadium capacity from its original 32,150 to 38,669 in 1961, to 42,327 in 1963, to 50,852 in 1965 and to 56,263 in 1970. Construction of the initial 72 private boxes in 1985 swelled capacity to 56,926, and a 1990 addition of 36 boxes and the 1,920 theatre-style club seats (in the south end zone on either side of the scoreboard) moved that number to 59,543.

The seventh — and likely final — seating addition occurred in 1995, when a $4.7 million project put 90 more private boxes and an auxiliary press box in the previously open north end zone, first giving the stadium the feel of being a complete "bowl." Also that year, just prior to the start of the season, an ultra-modern Turbosound Flashlight Loudspeaker System was put into place at the north end of Lambeau. The new audio configuration, installed at a cost of $210,000, provides highly intelligible sound throughout the stadium while minimizing reverberation off the glass of the premium seating areas.

The stadium earlier had been upgraded in 1993 with the initial installation of a $1.7 million Sony JumboTron color replay board in the north end zone. Complemented this year by a new $3.5 million scoreboard project, the two scoreboards at Lambeau now rival any in the NFL, encompassing a complete listing of game score, down and distance, ball location, time of game, yardage figures and out-of-town scores with greater visibility. The larger of the two new boards, 208 feet long and 40 feet high, extends across the north end zone, while the south end zone is home to a scoreboard measuring 164 feet long and 38 feet high. In addition to the matrix portions, each complete scoreboard includes a 20 by 26 foot replay board, the original north end zone screen having been moved to the south end zone and replaced by a similar Sony replay board.

Also prominent within the stadium are the names of the 19 Packer players and coaches who have been elected to the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio, which are permanently displayed on the green walls between floors of the stadium's private boxes, on both sides of the stadium. All 11 of the team's championship years (1929-30-31, 1936, 1939, 1944, 1961-62, 1965-66-67) additionally are emblazoned above the club seats in the south end zone. This year for the first time a "1995 NFC Central Division Champions" flag will be flown high in the north end zone.

With the completion of this year's scoreboard project, the Packer organization has spent more than $43 million on improvements to the stadium, club administration building and training facilities over the past 15 years, including construction of the original indoor practice structure in 1982 and replacing it with The Don Hutson Center in 1994 at a cost of nearly $4.7 million.

Unique and incomparable, Lambeau Field now is wholly owned by the City of Green Bay, retirement of the original $960,000 indebtedness having been celebrated at a mortgage burning ceremony in May of 1978. The Packers have a lease with the city for stadium usage through the year 2013 with a team option extending through the year 2024 under the terms of a revised agreement reached in 1995.

Sold out on a season-ticket basis since 1960, the team maintained two separate ticket packages after moving all of its games to Green Bay starting with the 1995 season. 'Gold' ticket holders (made up primarily of former Milwaukee season patrons) have a three-game package consisting of the annual Midwest Shrine preseason contest plus home games two and six of the regular season. 'Green' season customers (made up of original Green Bay ticket holders) have a seven-game package consisting of the annual Bishop's Charities preseason game in addition to the remaining six regular-season contests.

Ticket prices for the 1996 season, following the first price increase by the team in four years, are as follows: end zone seats (sections 0-8 and 31-38) $28; seats between the 20-yard lines (sections 15-24) $34; other sideline seats (sections 9-14 and 25-30) $32; private box tickets $40; and club seats $85.

Located on the southwest edge of Green Bay and surrounded on three sides by the village of Ashwaubenon, the stadium is available for public tours daily during the months of June through August except on Packer game days. Special groups (25 or more people) can arrange for tours between May 1 and Nov. 15. The Packer Hall of Fame (414/499-4281) can provide further information on tours.
